LATE HEARING WINDUP

Senate Schedule Apparently Nips Tax Cut For '63

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee dealt an apparent death blow Friday to all hopes for 1963 passage of a tax cut bill.

Holding to the deliberate schedule advocated by Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., the committee set Dec. 13 as the windup date for its hearings on a House-passed measure to slice $11 billion from the nation's federal tax bill for 1964.

A Dec. 13 end to hearings, which already have run four weeks, means only a week would remain before the Christmas-New Year's recess which starts Dec. 20 and runs to Jan. 2.

LACK OF TIME

Based on all past records of tax-handling in the Senate, a week would be far from enough time to complete Senate passage, let alone to compromise any differences with the House.

Byrd opposes any tax cut without a balancing reduction in federal spending. A principal objective of the conservative Southerner is to prevent Senate action until after President Kennedy submits in January his budget for fiscal 1965.

Working toward that end, Byrd has called 70 witnesses, another 100 are on the waiting list, and he has said all who apply will be heard by the committee.

After the committee action, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., told newsmen he would move in the committee later this month to speed the hearings to make possible action this year. But when Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., made a similar move last month, the committee backed Byrd's go-slow program with a 12-4 vote and most observers figure a motion by Hartke would meet a similar fate.

Byrd has been unmoved by many witnesses, from the business world and from government, who have predicted or hinted strongly that 1964 is likely to bring another recession if tax relief is not voted this year.

Finnish Plane Hits Swamp; 21 Finns Killed

MARIEHAMN, Finland (UPI) — A Finnair DC3 airliner with 24 Finns aboard crashed into a swamp forest area near here Friday night, flipped over on its back and caught fire. Twenty-one persons were killed and three survived.

Authorities said the dead included two children and the pilot and co-pilot. Two male passengers and stewardess Mari Anne Kullberg survived with injuries and burns. They were reported doing well in a hospital.

The plane, on an internal flight in Finland, was approaching Maarianhamina Airport on the island of Ahvenanmaa which lies between Stockholm, Sweden and Finland at the junction of the Baltic Sea and the Gulf of Bothnia. It fell less than a mile from the airport.

Officials said the pilot took off from Turku on the last 30-minute leg of a flight from Helsinki to Maarianhamina and had carried on a normal radio conversation with the island airport control tower almost until the last moment.

Weathermen said visibility conditions were changing rapidly as the DC3 made its approach. They had no immediate explanation for the crash, the second peacetime fatal accident in Finnair's 40-year history. On Jan. 3, 1961, another DC3 crashed in western Finland, killing 25 persons.

Radio crewmen at the Mariehamn tower said the tower lost contact with the plane shortly before 7 p.m. when an unidentified jet flew over the area. After the jet passed, the tower tried in vain to contact the DC3 but it apparently had crashed.

New Fire Truck Falls Over Cliff

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — Members of the Carlsbad Fire Department aren't feeling so hot.

The firemen hopped on their shiny new fire engine Thursday and roared off to do battle with a burning auto in a hilly part of town. It was their seventh call in the $22,000 truck.

As they fought the fire, the truck rolled down a hill. The men dropped their hoses and took off in hot pursuit, but the truck slipped over an embankment and plunged into a canyon 1125 feet below.

U.S. To Trim Air Forces In Europe

20 Per Cent Cutback Seen On B47 Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced Friday a cutback of nearly 20 per cent in its B47 nuclear bomber force stationed in Europe.

The action may be followed by some reductions in fighter squadrons in other U.S. air units in that area.

The Defense Department said 19 of the aging six-jet B47s will be brought back from Britain by July 1, leaving 80 of the planes in Britain and Spain at least for the time being.

PROPELLER PLANES

At the same time, 22 propeller-driven KB50 tanker refueling planes will be retired from service in England.

Two of four bases used by the Strategic Air Command in Britain will be returned to the Royal Air Force. They are Fairford in Gloucestershire, and Greenham Common in Berkshire.

About 2,650 American Air Force men are affected, the Pentagon said. There are about 25,000 U.S. military men in Britain along with about 35,000 of their dependents.

The action will not mean any reduction in U.S. nuclear striking power covering Europe, the Defense Department said.

The B47 reduction, the Pentagon said, was made possible by a rapid increase in the number of U.S. Polaris missile-firing submarines and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Polaris can be fired from the safety of the ocean depths and ICBMs, with a range of more than 6,000 miles can strike targets from the United States. Neither is dependent on advance bases vulnerable to Communist attack.

SIR ALEC HOME

... Tide's Turning

Sir Home's Victory Stirs Confidence

PERTH, Scotland (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home asserted Friday his election to the House of Commons showed the tide is turning for his hard-pressed Conservative party. His view was challenged by Laborites who claim they are going to return to power in elections next year.

Laborites pointed to their victory in the industrial district of Luton, the other seat in the House of Commons contested in the two special elections Thursday. A Conservative had held that seat.

BOOS, JEERS

There were boos and jeers for his defeated Laborite opponent and some heckling for himself when the 60-year-old prime minister made a victory speech on the steps of the courthouse in this city in central Scotland.

Kinross and West Perthshire gave him a parliamentary seat by a 9,328-vote margin over his nearest opponent, a Liberal. He resigned the peerage and quit the House of Lords two weeks ago to make the race so that he could lead his new government personally from the House of Commons.

With his wife and son, David, by his side, the prime minister promised to look after the interests of all the people of rural Perthshire.

In the ceremony on the courthouse steps, Andrew Forrester, the defeated Labor candidate, touched off a wild round of boos and catcalls and jeers from the crowd of 3,000.

Forrester, 25, a Glasgow teacher, contested Sir Alec's statement that the election constituted a great Conservative victory. He said the Conservatives won the district by a large margin four years ago. He went on and tried to make a campaign speech above the noise.

BLUE JEAN SET

TV Horse Operas Blamed For Styles

LONDON (AP) — American tailors and designers were advised Friday how to capture clothes markets and create a more elegant world: get U.S. television to produce fewer horse operas and popularize smart dress instead of blue jeans.

The advice came from the British magazine Tailor and Cutter, which bills itself as "the authority on style and clothes."

The magazine's comments were in a front-page article which also paid tribute to Adolphe Menjou, the elegant Hollywood actor who died last week. It lamented the decline of Hollywood as a stylesetter and the takeover of rumpled television beat singers and private eyes, where now only Cary Grant still carries the torch for Hollywood.

Now that Telstar and other communications satellites have made television worldwide and many American packaged shows are screened in homes around the world, there should be a turning of the tide, Tailor and Cutter urged.

"Until now the potential effect of U.S. television as a stylesetter has been largely diminished by their preoccupation with horse opera," the magazine observed, "though it would seem to be far from coincidence that the popularity of jeans has grown to near bursting point at just the point where cowboys are willy-nilly publicizing them in practically every home in the world."

"If the American tailors had an eye on the future, they would doubtless attempt to switch international taste away from the Wild West and the current rash of hospital drama toward some more urbane setting where modern styling and tailored individuality could show to best advantage. Then, supplying as they do a majority percentage of all programs shown everywhere in the world, they would have a formidable propaganda weapon fighting on the side of their prestige."

Senate Votes To Restore Aid Requests

Favored Nation Trade Treatment Will Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Friday night to restore President Kennedy's power to continue most-favored-nation treatment in trade relations with Communist Poland and Yugoslavia.

The 55-14 vote defeated an attempt by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, to strike from the $3.7-billion foreign aid authorization bill a provision restoring this authority to the chief executive.

LONG DEBATE

It was viewed as the biggest victory for the administration so far in the 10 days of debate and came after a series of setbacks. It followed appeals from President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk for Senate restraint in voting cuts and tying strings to the program.

Earlier, the Senate's bipartisan leadership sprang back from the setbacks by defeating, 44-30, an effort to boost the interest on all loans under the aid program to at least 4 per cent — far above the current low rates.

The Senate also voted, unanimously, to take away discretion granted the President to waive under some circumstances a ban on military and economic aid to Communist nations such as Yugoslavia, Poland and Cuba. However, sales of surplus food products would not be prohibited.

Kennedy and the State Department had pleaded with Congress to help keep open the trade channels to Poland and Yugoslavia as the best possible means of wooing them away from economic control by Moscow.

U.S. May Bring Action Against Krebiozen Drug

CHICAGO (AP) — The federal government took action Friday that could lead to prosecution of Drs. Andrew C. Ivy and Stevan Durovic for claiming the drug Krebiozen is effective in the treatment of cancer.

The Food and Drug Administration directed them to appear at an informal closed hearing Nov. 8 in Chicago to show cause why they should not be prosecuted.

A spokesman for the agency said a hearing officer can recommend that the case be referred to the Department of Justice if it appears federal law has been violated.

Dr. Ivy, physiologist and chief scientific sponsor of the drug, said he welcomed a hearing.

"The whole campaign against Krebiozen has been one of misrepresentation made possible by deliberate concealment of facts by those in authority," he said in a statement.

"It is high time that the real facts be developed by correct judicial procedures. This will show the effectiveness of Krebiozen in the treatment of some hopeless cancer patients."

Krebiozen was developed by Dr. Durovic, a former Yugoslav physician.

Controversy began to swirl about the substance soon after it was introduced in March 1951 at a news conference in Chicago.

Tornado Strikes Town In Texas

WOODSBORO, Tex. (UPI) — A tornado dipped down in South Central Texas Friday, demolishing a house and injured Willie Beselka, who was taking a bath.

The twister hurled debris 200 yards, and damaged a pickup truck and a car. The six-room farm house was razed.

Sheriff deputy A. W. Walzel said the tornado swooped down eight miles south of Woodboro, which is 10 miles southwest of Refugio, Tex.

The extent of Beselka's injuries were not immediately determined.

Rusk Informs Soviet About Access Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk let the Soviet Union know Friday that the United States will continue to insist upon free access to West Berlin.

Describing as serious the recent incidents on the autobahn highway connecting Berlin with West Germany, Rusk expressed belief that Soviet Premier Khrushchev, shares this view.

1ST CONFERENCE

In his first news conference since Aug. 16, Rusk criticized Congress for its deep cuts in foreign aid and suggested that the tendency "to legislate foreign policy" denies the President the flexibility he needs to protect U.S. interests.

The news conference was the first one by a secretary of state to be carried live by several radio networks.

On the recent coup d'etat in South Viet Nam, Rusk said that during the last period of the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem there was a "growing gap between the government and the people."

The United States hopes, he said, that the country's new leaders will consolidate their efforts and "get on with the job" of fighting communism.

Discussing the recent Berlin crisis, Rusk conceded that the incidents, in which American army convoys were held up on the autobahn, sometimes look artificial because they involve only questions of procedure. But that's not the real issue, he added.

Rain Forecast In Monroe Area

A cloud shield spreading over the Mid-South is expected to bring showers and thundershowers to the Monroe area followed by cooler temperatures. Expected precipitation this morning will result from high southeasterly winds bringing in rainclouds from Texas. Skies will remain cloudy throughout the afternoon and night.

The Twin Cities recorded one of the top mid-South highs Friday with the mercury rising to 77 degrees. Low temperatures Friday were noted at 51 degrees.

Today's predicted high will be between 72 and 76 while the low tonight is expected to be 42-46.

The rain-bringing southeasterly winds will have shifted to northerly by early morning.

Barry Believes 'Brinkmanship' Essential Today

FRANKLIN SQUARE, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said Friday he believed that "brinkmanship" is "essential in keeping peace in the world today."

The Arizona senator, considered a leading unofficial contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, spoke to a world history class of Valley Stream North High School from his Washington home via ham amateur radio.

Talking to the 10th-grade class on a two-way hookup, Goldwater replied to a student's question on whether nuclear war is inevitable: "No, a nuclear war is not inevitable at all—if we work hard at it."

He added: "If we ever get sucked into World War III it will be because we appear to be weak. I believe that the Eisenhower-Dulles program of what we call brinkmanship, the retaliation effect, the maintaining of a strong military, is essential in keeping peace in the world today."

ELECTION BACKGROUND

Morehouse Parish Vote Contests Stiff

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth in a series of articles on the upcoming elections. Today's article is intended to inform the voters.)

By SAM HANNA

Political Editor

Stiff races are being conducted in Morehouse Parish this election year, featuring top campaigns for sheriff, clerk of court and the Legislature.

The Police Jury has attracted a multitude of candidates in parts of Morehouse.

But Assessor John M. Smith is completing his third term, heading back for another four years in office without opposition.

In this respect Smith stands alone in this fall in Morehouse. Sheriff E. L. (Red) Hinton, eight years in office, is faced with a former deputy, Hughie Perry, in a race that observers describe as being hard-fought.

Perry, 43, served for seven years under Hinton, but is now an oil distributor.

Clerk of Court Johnnie C.

Green, who succeeded her husband, the late Ray Green, in 1957, is seeking re-election against Max Dollar, who resigned from the Sheriff's Department to run.

While the legislative races are filled with candidates, Morehouse has a unique situation regarding the coroner's post in that not a single candidate filed for coroner.

Dr. H. F. M. Garrett is serving as coroner now, but did not qualify for the election. This means that the governor can appoint a coroner for Morehouse for the next four years.

Rep. James A. McCormack, meantime, is seeking election to his first full-blown term, since he won the post two years ago when Woodrow Wilson resigned to become city judge.

McCormack, who is in the automobile business, has two opponents — J. B. Holley, a farmer-cattleman, and Homer M. Houston, a Bastrop automobile

Wheat Deals Will Be Left Up To Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. - Soviet deadlock over the sale of surplus American wheat was broken Friday night when the government put it up to American grain merchants to make the own deals.

The Americans lost no time in bidding for the $500 million worth of Soviet bloc business and the first sale was signaled when the Commerce Department granted a license for the shipment of 100,000 tons of wheat to Communist Hungary.

GETS LICENSE

In Minneapolis, Cargill, Inc. revealed that it had received this initial license. A spokesman said the deal involved about 3 million bushels of soft winter wheat valued at $6.5 million minus transportation charges.

The company said the transaction was within the confines of the government agreement, namely that at least 50 per cent of the shipments would move to American vessels, according to their availability. First shipments are expected to go forward late this month.

The announcement was made shortly after it was revealed that the United States and Russia had reached agreement on a framework for negotiation for the sale of four million tons of wheat to Russia and her European satellites.

Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. said the dealer who obtained the license certified that one-half the grain will be carried by American ships.

The deal with Hungary was a $7.6-million transaction, including the cost of delivery.

'Test' Convoys Pass Russians Without Delay

BERLIN (AP) — The three Western powers sent convoys along the disputed highway Berlin on Friday to test Soviet intentions and all got through without trouble.

Lt. Ivan Scott Lewis, 24, of the 1st Cavalry Division, who was commanding a British convoy from the Prince of Wales own regiment, said on arrival in West Berlin: "It was noticeable that the Russian attitude was much easier."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev warned this week that the Western powers must respect what he called Soviet counter procedures on the autobahn from West Germany to Berlin.

He predicted there would be more holdups along the 110-mile highway unless these Soviet rules of the road are respected.

The British convoy of eight vehicles and 43 men was the last to reach Berlin. First across from West Germany was a U.S. convoy of six vehicles and eight men. It was followed by a French convoy of 10 vehicles and 47 men.

Lewis said his convoy was cleared through the Soviet checkpoint outside Berlin in minutes, par for the course. Neither outside Berlin nor Marienborn, at the western end of the autobahn, were his men asked to dismount to be counted, he reported.

LATE HEARING WINDUP

Senate Schedule Apparently Nips Tax Cut For '63

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee dealt an apparent death blow Friday to all hopes for 1963 passage of a tax cut bill.

Holding to the deliberate schedule advocated by Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., the committee set Dec. 13 as the windup date for its hearings on a House-passed measure to slice $11 billion from the nation's federal tax bill for 1964.

A Dec. 13 end to hearings, which already have run four weeks, means only a week would remain before the Christmas-New Year's recess which starts Dec. 20 and runs to Jan. 2.

Byrd has been unmoved by many witnesses, from the business world and from government, who have predicted or hinted strongly that 1964 is likely to bring another recession if tax relief is not voted this year.

Finnish Plane Hits Swamp; 21 Finns Killed

MARIEHAMN, Finland (UPI) — A Finnair DC3 airliner with 24 Finns aboard crashed into a swamp forest area near here Friday night, flipped over on its back and caught fire. Twenty-one persons were killed and three survived.

Authorities said the dead included two children and the pilot and co-pilot. Two male passengers and stewardess Marianne Kullberg survived with injuries and burns. They were reported doing well in a hospital.

The plane, on an internal flight in Finland, was approaching Maarianhamina Airport on the Island of Ahvenanmaa which lies between Stockholm, Sweden and Finland at the junction of the Baltic Sea and the Gulf of Bothnia. It fell less than a mile from the airport.

Officials said the pilot took off from Turku on the last 30-minute leg of a flight from Helsinki to Maarianhamina and had carried on a normal radio conversation with the island airport control tower almost until the last moment.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced Friday a cutback of nearly 20 per cent in its B47 nuclear bomber force stationed in Europe.

The action may be followed by some reductions in fighter squadrons in other U.S. air units in that area.

The Defense Department said 19 of the aging six-jet B47s will be brought back from Britain by July 1, leaving 80 of the planes in Britain and Spain at least for the time being.

Two of four bases used by the Strategic Air Command in Britain will be returned to the Royal Air Force. They are Fairford in Gloucestershire, and Greenham Common in Berkshire.

About 2,650 American Air Force men are affected, the Pentagon said. There are about 25,000 U.S. military men in Britain along with about 35,000 of their dependents.

The action will not mean any reduction in U.S. nuclear striking power covering Europe, the Defense Department said.

The B47 reduction, the Pentagon said, was made possible by a rapid increase in the number of U.S. Polaris missile-firing submarines and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Polaris can be fired from the safety of the ocean depths and ICBMs, with a range of more than 6,000 miles can strike targets from the United States. Neither is dependent on advance bases vulnerable to Communist attack.

Rain Forecast In Monroe Area

A cloud shield spreading over the Mid-South is expected to bring showers and thundershowers to the Monroe area followed by cooler temperatures. Expected precipitation this morning will result from high south-easterly winds bringing in rain-clouds from Texas. Skies will remain cloudy throughout the afternoon and night.

The Twin Cities recorded one of the top mid-South highs Friday with the mercury rising to 77 degrees. Low temperatures Friday were noted at 51 degrees. Today's predicted high will be between 72 and 76 while the low tonight is expected to be 42-46.

The rain-bringing southeasterly winds will have shifted to northerly by early morning.

Barry Believes 'Brinkmanship'

Essential Today

FRANKLIN SQUARE, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said Friday he believed that "brinkmanship" is "essential in keeping peace in the world today."

The Arizona senator, considered a leading unofficial contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, spoke to a world history class of Valley Stream North High School from his Washington home via ham amateur radio.

Talking to the 10th-grade class on a two-way hookup, Goldwater replied to a student's question on whether nuclear war is inevitable: "No, a nuclear war is not inevitable at all—if we work hard at it."

He added: "If we ever get suckered into World War III it will be because we appear to be weak. I believe that the Eisenhower-Dulles program of what we call brinkmanship, the retaliation effect, the maintaining of a strong military, is essential in keeping peace in the world today."

ELECTION BACKGROUND

Morehouse Parish Vote Contests Stiff

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth in a series of articles on the upcoming elections. Today's article is on Morehouse Parish. The series is intended to inform the voters.)

By SAM HANNA
Political Editor

Stiff races are being conducted in Morehouse Parish this election year, featuring top campaigns for sheriff, clerk of court and the Legislature.

The Police Jury has attracted a multitude of candidates in parts of Morehouse.

But Assessor John M. Smith is completing his third term, heading back for another four years in office without opposition.

While the legislative races are filled with candidates, Morehouse has a unique situation regarding the coroner's post in that not a single candidate filed for coroner.

Dr. H. F. M. Garrett is serving as coroner now, but did not qualify for the election. This means that the governor can appoint a coroner for Morehouse for the next four years.

Rep. James A. McCormack, meantime, is seeking election to his first full-blown term, since he won the post two years ago when Woodrow Wilson resigned to become city judge.

McCormack, who is in the automobile business, has two opponents — J. B. Holley, a farmer-cattleman, and Homer M. Houston, a Bastrop automobile

Wheat Deals Will Be Left Up To Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. - Soviet deadlock over the sale of surplus American wheat was broken Friday night when the government put it up to American grain merchants to make their own deals.

The Americans lost no time in bidding for the $500 million worth of Soviet bloc business and the first sale was signaled when the Commerce Department granted a license for the shipment of 100,000 tons of wheat to Communist Hungary.

GETS LICENSE

In Minneapolis, Cargill, Inc. revealed that it had received this initial license. A spokesman said the deal involved about 3.7 million bushels of soft winter wheat valued at $6.5 million, minus transportation charges.

The company said the transaction was within the confines of the government agreement, namely that at least 50 per cent of the shipments would move in American vessels, according to their availability. First shipments are expected to go forward late this month.

The announcement was made shortly after it was revealed that the United States and Russia had reached agreement on a framework for negotiations for the sale of four million tons of wheat to Russia and her European satellites.

Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. said the dealer who obtained the license certified that one-half of the grain will be carried in American ships.

The deal with Hungary was a $7.6-million transaction, including the cost of delivery.

'Test' Convoys Pass Russians Without Delay

BERLIN (AP) — The three Western powers sent convoys along the disputed highway to Berlin on Friday to test Soviet intentions and all got through without trouble.

Lt. Ivan Scott Lewis, 24, officer commanding a British convoy from the Prince of Wales's own regiment, said on arrival in West Berlin: "It was noticeable that the Russian attitude was much easier."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev warned this week that the three Western powers must respect what he called Soviet control procedures on the autobahn from West Germany to Berlin. He predicted there would be more holdups unless these Soviet rules of the road are respected.

The British convoy of eight vehicles and 43 men was the last to reach Berlin. First to cross from West Germany was a U.S. convoy of six vehicles and eight men. It was followed by a French convoy of 10 vehicles and 47 men.

Lewis said his convoy was cleared through the Soviet checkpoint outside Berlin in 31 minutes, par for the course. Neither outside Berlin nor at Marienborn, at the western end of the autobahn, were his men asked to dismount to be counted, he reported.

May a person who is on permanent registration in a parish but now living in another return to his old parish where he is registered to vote?

When I first applied for my social security number I gave the wrong age and I'm wondering if there is a way to get it changed. I will be eligible to draw social security soon but if it is not corrected I will have to wait an additional 10 years to collect. What should I do?

What are the necessary requirements for holding the positions of Clerk III and Clerk IV under Louisiana's Civil Service Code?

A spokesman for the Louisiana Civil Service department gave these requirements:

Clerk III— Must be a high school graduate with at least two years of progressively responsible clerical experience, six months of which must have been in the performance of responsible duties of more than routine work such as acting as a stenographer assigned to a section chief or supervisor or performing typing duties of a complex nature or performing specialized work of a semi-technical nature or closely related clerical work of equal responsibility or complexity. Substitutions for these requirements are: clerical experience may substitute for high school on a year-for-year basis. Completion of a business course in a business or trade school may substitute for one year of routine-level experience. College training may substitute for 18 months of routine clerical experience on the basis of 30 semester hours for one year of experience. College graduation may substitute for the required two years of experience.

Clerk IV— Must be a high school graduate plus three years experience of progressive responsibility. One year must have been spent in supervising a group of clerical workers performing a variety of clerical duties or as an assistant clerical supervisor in a major clerical unit or in the performance of specialized, analytical, administrative or clerical work of a complex nature or in a closely allied clerical field of equal responsibility. Substitutions: clerical experience can be substituted for high school on a year-for-year basis. Completion of a business course or trade school can substitute for one year experience at the routine level. Each 30 semester hours of college work can substitute for experience on a year-for-year basis except that no substitution may be made for one year of the required specialized experience.

Can a state agency, such as the Department of Hospitals or the State Parks and Recreation Commission grant a long-term lease on property for the purpose of erecting a club house, target facilities and shooting ranges in the operation of a gun club?

State agencies are authorized to grant leases for any legitimate purpose, except oil, gas and mineral purposes and development, on lands to which they have title, control or possession. However, competitive bidding is required, according to the state attorney general's office. State statutes cited were R.S. 41:1211, et seq. and D.S. 41:1215.

The provisions of R.S. 41:1211, et seq., enable us to answer your question in the affirmative. R.S. 41:1211 defines "lessor", including "any and all other branches, departments, or agencies of the state." R.S. 41:1212 authorizes the lessor to "lease for trapping, grazing, hunting, agriculture, or any other legitimate purpose whatsoever, other than for oil, gas or other mineral purposes and development, any lands of which the lessor has title, custody or possession." R.S. 41:1213 provides in part for a written application for a lease, together with a cash deposit of twenty-five dollars. R.S. 41:1214 provides for advertisement for the reception of bids, in which the land is described, time fixed for the opening of the bids, and a short summary of the terms, conditions and purposes of the lease to be executed.

R.S. 41:1215 provides for the opening of bids and for the acceptance of the highest bid submitted, unless all bids are rejected. Inasmuch as you inquire particularly as to the possibility of the prospective lessee acquiring a long term lease, we shall quote in full the provisions of R.S. 41:1217, as amended by Act 341 of 1962, to-wit:

"All leases executed under the provisions of this Part shall be for a period not exceeding ten years, and shall provide for an annual rental of not less than twenty-five cents per acre, which shall be payable in cash annually and in advance; provided, however, that any person who leases such land and who within the ten-year term of the lease adds or contracts for permanent improvements to the land in the amount of not less than fifteen thousand dollars may, upon written notification to the lessor and upon a proper showing that such improvements have in fact been made or contracted for, lease such land for an additional period of not more than ten years, the payment of rentals therefor to be made as hereinbefore stated.

"The failure of the tenant to pay the rent punctually or before the date upon which the rental falls due, shall ipso facto and without demand or putting in default terminate and cancel the lease, and the lessor may take such legal steps as are necessary to cancel the lease from the records of the parish in which the land is located.

"The provisions of this Section shall not apply to any school district of the State of Louisiana. As amended Acts 1962, No. 341, Sec. 1."

In considering the statutory provisions aforesaid, the source of which is Act 170 of 1940, it is well to call your attention to the following statement made by the court in the case of Ellis v. Acadia Parish School Board, 211 La. 28, 42 So. 2d 461:

"The object and intent of the Legislature in adopting Act No. 170 of 1940 was to give all persons a chance to bid on leases of the public lands, to prevent boards and other authorities from favoring one person over others, and to produce to the various agencies of the state named therein, larger revenues by requiring competitive bidding for the leases."

Can a school board in Louisiana be sued in tort without authority from the Legislature?

While parish school boards may be sued for the enforcement of contracts or for recovery of damages for breach of contracts, yet school boards may not be sued in tort unless the Legislature has first granted the plaintiff the right to sue the particular school board and has waived immunity from liability, as well as immunity from suit.

In Stephens v. Natchitoches Parish School Board, 238 La. 388, 115 So. 2nd 793, which was decided prior to the adoption in 1960 of the amendment to Article 3, Section 35 of the Constitution, the Supreme Court held, in effect, that inasmuch as parish school boards are agencies of the State as administrators of a system of public education, their status with reference to immunity in actions sounding in tort is the same as the state itself. The case of Duree v. Maryland Casualty Co., et al., 238 La. 116, 114 So. 2nd 594, was referred to by the Court in the Stephens case and the Court said that it was convinced that the conclusion reached in the Duree case was correct.

Parish school boards have the right to sue and be sued (R.S. 17:51). There is a clear distinction, recognized by the courts, between immunity from suit and immunity from liability in actions sounding in tort. Following the decisions of the Supreme Court in the Duree and Stephens cases, Article 3, Section 35 of the Constitution was amended (Act 621 of 1960) for the main purpose of authorizing the Legislature, in authorizing suits against the State, its agencies, boards, departments and political subdivisions, to waive the immunity from liability as well as the immunity from suit, of the State and its agencies, boards, departments, political subdivisions, etc.

"It is our opinion, said Louisiana's attorney general, "based upon the provisions of Article 3, Section 35 of the Constitution, as amended in 1960, that before an action sounding in tort may be maintained against a parish school board, the Legislature must waive the school board's immunity from liability in such a case.

"Moreover, the Legislature, by Act 67 of 1962, has amended and reenacted R.S. 17:51 to read as follows: "There shall be a parish school board for each of the parishes and these several parish school boards are constituted bodies corporate with power to sue. The Legislature hereby authorizes suits against any parish school board for the enforcement of contracts entered into by the school board or for recovery of damages for the breach thereof, without necessity of any further authorization by the legislature. No other suits may be instituted or prosecuted against any parish school board unless in each individual case the legislature first has granted to the party or parties plaintiff the right to sue the particular school board, as provided in Section 26 of Article XIX and Section 35 of Article III of the Louisiana Constitution. In suits against school boards citation shall be served on the president of the board and in his absence on the vice-president."

"According to the above quoted Section, only suits against a school board for the enforcement of contracts and for the recovery of damages "for the breach" of contracts may be instituted without legislative authorization. Section 51 specifically provides that "no other suits" may be instituted or prosecuted against any parish school board unless in each individual case the Legislature

Cotton Crop Estimate Up Past Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated this year's cotton crop Friday at 15,322,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, up 3 per cent from a month earlier.

The estimate compares with 14,847,000 forecast in October, 14,867,000 produced last year and 13,125,000 for the 1957-61 average.

As has been the case for many years, the crop was grown under federal planting allotments and marketing quotas were designed to prevent overproduction. This year's acreage allotments were down about 10 per cent from last year, but increases in the average yield per acre largely offset the reduction in plantings.

The crop will be supplemented by a reserve and surpluses of 11.2 million bales accumulated from past crops. Most of this extra supply is stored under government price support programs.

The indicated crop compares with a department forecast that market demands from this year's crop will total 13.8 million bales. Thus the crop would add to the oversupply.

The yield of cotton lint per acre was estimated at a record 516 pounds compared with 500 pounds indicated a month ago, 451 pounds last year and the five-year average of 440.

The production of cottonseed was indicated at about 6,357,400 tons.

In an accompanying report, the Census Bureau said 10,064,627 running bales of cotton had been ginned prior to Nov. 1 compared with 9,143,450 to the like date last year.

The indicated yield per acre and production, respectively, of cotton by states included:

Tennessee 624 and 655,000; Alabama 506 and 880,000; Mississippi 691 and 2,100,000; Arkansas 588 and 1,500,000; Louisiana 638 and 685,000 and Texas 368 and 4,500,000.

DESCRIBES ROCKY

TOKYO (UPI) — Radio Peking Friday described New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as "a big monopoly capitalist." The voice of Communist China made the statement in broadcasting news that Rockefeller had announced as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The members of the State Central Committee are not officers or employees of the state or of any of its subdivisions (R.S. 18:290), and parish committees are likewise not officers. (Poole v. Merritt, App. 1944, 19 So. 2d 641). Therefore candidates for membership on party committees are not local candidates as defined by law (R.S. 18:313), for which reason they are not entitled to submit lists of commissioners; likewise, under the provisions of R.S. 18:340, read in connection with R.S. 18:313, candidates for justice of the peace or constable are not entitled to submit lists of commissioners.

Mike John, Jr. Tells The Truthful Facts!

I want to emphasize that I have always welcomed constructive advice in my political life. I realize that no person stands alone as perfect, and that any person can make mistakes. I would want to be the first to admit any mistake unintentionally or unknowingly made of the head or heart.

The right to criticize is basic human nature and everyone has that right.

But to condemn is entirely another matter. To attack with slanted statements, with mis-statement of facts out of proper context, to incite erroneous assumptions, and to make allegations in improper relationship to the facts IS REPREHENSIBLE AND IRRESPONSIBLE ACTION on the part of the person making the attack, or the persons carrying the rumor with damaging intent.

The recent slanted newspaper articles of attack against me by R. C. White, Jr. is his continued antagonism against what I basically stand for.

Since his recent attacks on me, my phone rings day and night bring me new and renewed pledges of support from outstanding citizens of Ouachita Parish. Daily on the streets and in places of business, I am greeted with growing support from those who know R. C. White Jr. best and those who know Mike John Jr. best.

I find that the citizens who know me best, and who know R. C. White Jr. best deeply resentful of his actions both past and present.

Realizing that some people do not know R. C. White Jr. and his record of actions, and realizing that some people do not know of my strong stand against the designs of R. C. White Jr., I feel that I should point out the following.

In 1960-1961 I stood staunch and steadfast under attack from the federal courts and received several court injunctions in a fight to uphold state law and states rights which I was sworn to uphold. My stand for a wise educational policy of segregated schools, of separate but equal facilities, and my refusal to be weak and give in to forced federal court integration was undoubtedly the start of a R. C. White Jr. desire, design and dedication to try to defeat me at election time.

He was a critic of my fight in your behalf and it is therefore little wonder that he should attack me and the legislative costs of 13 months and 7 sessions of the legislature covered by his figures in one of his articles. I am convinced that the cost and the effort to fight for what is right is worth the cost and the effort.

In my opinion R. C. White Jr. would have been glad to save the taxpayers money simply because I feel that he would not have made any effort to resist forced integration. I fought your fight then and I would do it again.

There is little wonder in my mind as to why R. C. White Jr. attacked me for supporting legislation dedicating funds to private grant-in-aid schools so that you mothers and fathers would have a freedom of choice and not be subjugated into forcing your children into an intolerable school facility.

If the day ever comes when the parents of Ouachita Parish need and want this grant-in-aid money, I can look every one of you directly in the eyes and say that I had the courage to correctly amend the bill and dedicate the funds, and the courage to then vote for the bill.

When I asked for and received a unanimous vote of the House Education Committee to investigate a questionable professor at LSU, R. C. White Jr. openly attacked me in the newspaper. When the Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities for the State of Louisiana started on investigation on this professor, he suddenly resigned and left the state.

R. C. White Jr. attacked me for trying to put a little Americanism into L.S.U., but I was highly commended by parents and citizens for my fearless action. I will continue in the future, just as I have done in the past, to strongly oppose any person who intentionally seeks to destroy states rights guaranteed Louisiana under the Constitution. I will continue to strongly oppose any person or organization that openly and flagrantly condemns and violates state law.

I am a member of the Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities in Louisiana. We are charged by law to study and investigate subversive activity in Louisiana. This state has a Subversive and Communist Control Law. This law, and our committee, stands as a vital safeguard of your security against those who would destroy Louisiana and the United States.

When I was appointed a member of this committee, I was advised that I could expect to be a marked man for clever devised rumors and attacks on my personal judgment, actions and undertakings. I was told that there would be individuals and organizations that would do anything to discredit and destroy the committee or its members. In light of recent attacks against members of this committee, I feel this has come true.

I have just returned from Baton Rouge where our committee took testimony in its investigation of a certain organization and those connected with it. We are going to step on the toes of a lot of people.

I feel that R. C. White Jr. would like to see me defeated so I would not continue for four more years as an experienced member of this committee.

I feel that someone, or some yet unrevealed reason is behind his attack on me at this particular time. I do feel that the people have the intelligence to see through his schemes.

I was present on the night of September 9, 1963 when R. C. White Jr. offered a resolution before the official Board of Stewards of First Methodist Church to in effect integrate its services.

R. C. White Jr. has a long record of desire, devotion and dedication to integrate schools and churches. His concerted and consistent stand in the matter is a matter of record in his letters to the newspaper editor. Most of you are aware of the opposition made by many outstanding citizens to the views of R. C. White Jr.

I am a fearless fighter for what I believe to be right and in my opinion R. C. White is not right. He has attacked me, and he can continue to do so but I am still going to stand staunch and steadfast for the right of Louisiana to handle its educational matters consistent with what we know to be right and best.

I am going to continue to be a front line fighter for Americanism in our state and nation, and I am going to continue to oppose all efforts of forced integration of schools, churches or private facilities.

I feel that you the citizen will want to ask yourself certain questions about R. C. White Jr. and determine for yourselves just who he is and what he stands for.

As a matter of record, R. C. WHITE JR. is not a candidate for office. In fact R. C. WHITE JR. RECENTLY SOLD HIS $48,000 HOME HERE IN MONROE AND MOVED TO CONNECTICUT.

What are the necessary requirements for holding the positions of Clerk III and Clerk IV under Louisiana's Civil Service Code?

A spokesman for the Louisiana Civil Service department gave these requirements:

Clerk III — Must be a high school graduate with at least two years of progressively responsible clerical experience, six months of which must have been in the performance of responsible duties of more than routine work such as acting as a stenographer assigned to a section chief or supervisor or performing typing duties of a complex nature or performing specialized work of a semi-technical nature or closely related clerical work of equal responsibility or complexity. Substitutions for these requirements are: clerical experience may substitute for high school on a year-for-year basis. Completion of a business course in a business or trade school may substitute for one year of routine-level experience. College training may substitute for 18 months of routine clerical experience on the basis of 30 semester hours for one year of experience. College graduation may substitute for the required two years of experience.

Clerk IV — Must be a high school graduate plus three years experience of progressive responsibility. One year must have been spent in supervising a group of clerical workers performing a variety of clerical duties or as an assistant clerical supervisor in a major clerical unit or in the performance of specialized, analytical, administrative or clerical work of a complex nature or in a closely allied clerical field of equal responsibility. Substitutions: clerical experience can be substituted for high school on a year-for-year basis. Completion of a business course or trade school can substitute for one year experience at the routine level. Each 30 semester hours of college work can substitute for experience on a year-for-year basis except that no substitution may be made for one year of the required specialized experience.

Can a state agency, such as the Department of Hospitals or the state Parks and Recreation Commission grant a long-term lease on property for the purpose of erecting a club house, target facilities and shooting ranges in the operation of a gun club?

State agencies are authorized to grant leases for any legitimate purpose, except oil, gas and mineral purposes and development, on lands to which they have title, control or possession. However, competitive bidding is required, according to the state attorney general's office. State statutes cited were R.S. 41:1211, et seq. and D.S. 41:1215.

The provisions of R.S. 41:1211, et seq., enable us to answer your question in the affirmative. R.S. 41:1211 defines "lessor" including "any and all other branches, departments, or agencies of the state." R.S. 41:1212 authorizes the lessor to "lease for trapping, grazing, hunting, agriculture, or any other legitimate purpose whatsoever, other than for oil, gas or other mineral purposes and development, any lands of which the lessor has title, custody or possession." R.S. 41:1213 provides in part for a written application for a lease, together with a cash deposit of twenty-five dollars. R.S. 41:1214 provides for advertisement for the reception of bids, in which the land is described, time fixed for the opening of the bids, and a short summary of the terms, conditions and purposes of the lease to be executed.

R.S. 41:1215 provides for the opening of bids and for the acceptance of the highest bid submitted, unless all bids are rejected. Inasmuch as you inquire particularly as to the possibility of the prospective lessee acquiring a long term lease, we shall quote in full the provisions of R.S. 41:1217, as amended by Act 341 of 1962, to-wit:

"All leases executed under the provisions of this Part shall be for a period not exceeding ten years, and shall provide for an annual rental of not less than twenty-five cents per acre, which shall be payable in cash annually and in advance; provided, however, that any person who leases such land and who within the ten-year term of the lease adds or contracts for permanent improvements to the land in the amount of not less than fifteen thousand dollars may, upon written notification to the lessor and upon a proper showing that such improvements have in fact been made or contracted for, lease such land for an additional period of not more than ten years, the payment of rentals therefor to be made as hereinbefore stated.

"The failure of the tenant to pay the rent punctually or before the date upon which the rental falls due, shall ipso facto and without demand or putting in default terminate and cancel the lease, and the lessor may take such legal steps as are necessary to cancel the lease from the records of the parish in which the land is located.

"The provisions of this Section shall not apply to any school district of the State of Louisiana. As amended Acts 1962, No. 341, Sec. 1."

In considering the statutory provisions aforesaid, the source of which is Act 170 of 1940, it is well to call your attention to the following statement made by the court in the case of Ellis v. Acadia Parish School Board, 211 La. 29, 42, 29 So. 2d 461:

"The object and intent of the Legislature in adopting Act No. 170 of 1940 was to give all persons a chance to bid on leases of the public lands, to prevent boards and other authorities from favoring one person over others, and to produce to the various agencies of the state named therein, larger revenues by requiring competitive bidding for the leases."

Can a school board in Louisiana be sued in tort without authority from the Legislature?

While parish school boards may be sued for the enforcement of contracts or for recovery of damages for breach of contracts, yet school boards may not be sued in tort unless the Legislature has first granted the plaintiff the right to sue the particular school board and has waived immunity from liability, as well as immunity from suit.

In Stephens v. Natchitoches Parish School Board, 238 La. 388, 115 So. 2d 793, which was decided prior to the adoption in 1960 of the amendment to Article 3, Section 35 of the Constitution, the Supreme Court held, in effect, that inasmuch as parish school boards are agencies of the State as administrators of a system of public education, their status with reference to immunity in actions sounding in tort is the same as the state itself.

The case of Duree v. Maryland Casualty Co. et al, 238 La. 116, 114 So. 2d 594, was referred to by the Court in the Stephens case and the Court said that it was convinced that the conclusion reached in the Duree case was correct.

Parish school boards have the right to sue and be sued (R.S. 17:51). There is a clear distinction, recognized by the courts, between immunity from suit and immunity from liability in actions sounding in tort. Following the decisions of the Supreme Court in the Duree and Stephens cases, Article 3, Section 35 of the Constitution was amended (Act 621 of 1960) for the main purpose of authorizing the Legislature, in authorizing suits against the State, its agencies, boards, departments and political subdivisions, to waive the immunity from liability as well as the immunity from suit, of the State and its agencies, boards, departments, political subdivisions, etc.

"It is our opinion, said Louisiana's attorney general, "based upon the provisions of Article 3, Section 35 of the Constitution, as amended in 1960, that before an action sounding in tort may be maintained against a parish school board, the Legislature must waive the school board's immunity from liability in such a case.

"Moreover, the Legislature, by Act. 67 of 1962, has amended and reenacted R.S. 17:51 to read as follows:

"There shall be a parish school board for each of the parishes and these several parish school boards are constituted bodies corporate with power to sue. The Legislature hereby authorizes suits against any parish school board for the enforcement of contracts entered into by the school board or for recovery of damages for the breach thereof, without necessity of any further authorization by the legislature. No other suits may be instituted or prosecuted against any parish school board unless in each individual case the legislature first has granted to the party or parties plaintiff the right to sue the particular school board, as provided in Section 26 of Article XIX and Section 35 of Article III of the Louisiana Constitution. In suits against school boards citation shall be served on the president of the board and in his absence on the vice-president."

"According to the above quoted Section, only suits against a school board for the enforcement of contracts and for the recovery of damages "for the breach" of contracts may be instituted without legislative authorization. Section 51 specifically provides that "no other suits" may be instituted or prosecuted against any parish school board unless in each individual case the Legislature

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated this year's cotton crop Friday at 15,322,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, up 3 per cent from a month earlier.

The estimate compares with 14,847,000 forecast in October, 14,867,000 produced last year and 13,125,000 for the 1957-61 average.

As has been the case for many years, the crop was grown under federal planting allotments and marketing quotas were designed to prevent overproduction. This year's acreage allotments were down about 10 per cent from last year, but increases in the average yield per acre largely offset the reduction in plantings.

The crop will be supplemented by a reserve and surpluses of 11.2 million bales accumulated from past crops. Most of this extra supply is stored under government price support programs.

The indicated crop compares with a department forecast that market demand from this year's crop will total 13.8 million bales. Thus the crop would add to the oversupply.

The yield of cotton lint per acre was estimated at a record 516 pounds compared with 500 pounds indicated a month ago, 451 pounds last year and the five-year average of 440. The production of cottonseed was indicated at about 6,357,400 tons.

In an accompanying report, the Census Bureau said 10,064,627 running bales of cotton had been ginned prior to Nov. 1, compared with 9,143,450 to the like date last year.

The indicated yield per acre and production, respectively, of cotton by states included:

Tennessee 624 and 655,000; Alabama 506 and 880,000; Mississippi 691 and 2,100,000; Arkansas 588 and 1,500,000; Louisiana 638 and 685,000 and Texas 368 and 4,500,000.

Mike John, Jr. Tells The Truthful Facts!

I want to emphasize that I have always welcomed constructive advice in my political life. I realize that no person stands alone as perfect, and that any person can make mistakes. I would want to be the first to admit any mistake unintentionally or unknowingly made of the head or heart.

The right to criticize is basic human nature and everyone has that right.

But to condemn is entirely another matter. To attack with slanted statements, with mis-statement of facts out of proper context, to incite erroneous assumptions, and to make allegations in improper relationship to the facts IS REPREHENSIBLE AND IRRESPONSIBLE ACTION on the part of the person making the attack, or the persons carrying the rumor with damaging intent.

The recent slanted newspaper articles of attack against me by R. C. White, Jr. is his continued antagonism against what I basically stand for.

Since his recent attacks on me, my phone rings day and night bring me new and renewed pledges of support from outstanding citizens of Ouachita Parish. Daily on the streets and in places of business, I am greeted with growing support from those who know R. C. White Jr. best and those who know Mike John Jr. best.

I find that the citizens who know me best, and who know R. C. White Jr. best deeply resentful of his actions both past and present.

Realizing that some people do not know R. C. White Jr. and his record of actions, and realizing that some people do not know of my strong stand against the designs of R. C. White Jr., I feel that I should point out the following.

In 1960-1961 I stood staunch and steadfast under attack from the federal courts and received several court injunctions in a fight to uphold state law and states rights which I was sworn to uphold. My stand for a wise educational policy of segregated schools, of separate but equal facilities, and my refusal to be weak and give in to forced federal court integration was undoubtedly the start of a R. C. White Jr. desire, design and dedication to try to defeat me at election time.

He was a critic of my fight in your behalf and it is therefore little wonder that he should attack me and the legislative costs of 13 months and 7 sessions of the legislature covered by his figures in one of his articles. I am convinced that the cost and the effort to fight for what is right is worth the cost and the effort.

In my opinion R. C. White Jr. would have been glad to save the taxpayers money simply because I feel that he would not have made any effort to resist forced integration. I fought your fight then and I would do it again.

There is little wonder in my mind as to why R. C. White Jr. attacked me for supporting legislation dedicating funds to private grant-in-aid schools so that you mothers and fathers would have a freedom of choice and not be subjugated into forcing your children into an intolerable school facility.

If the day ever comes when the parents of Ouachita Parish need and want this grant-in-aid money, I can look every one of you directly in the eyes and say that I had the courage to correctly amend the bill and dedicate the funds, and the courage to then vote for the bill.

When I asked for and received a unanimous vote of the House Education Committee to investigate a questionable professor at LSU, R. C. White Jr. openly attacked me in the newspaper. When the Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities for the State of Louisiana started an investigation on this professor, he suddenly resigned and left the state.

R. C. White Jr. attacked me for trying to put a little Americanism into L.S.U., but I was highly commended by parents and citizens for my fearless action. I will continue in the future, just as I have done in the past, to strongly oppose any person who intentionally seeks to destroy states rights guaranteed Louisiana under the Constitution. I will continue to strongly oppose any person or organization that openly and flagrantly condemns and violates state law.

I am a member of the Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities in Louisiana. We are charged by law to study and investigate subversive activity in Louisiana. This state has a Subversive and Communist Control Law. This law, and our committee, stands as a vital safeguard of your security against those who would destroy Louisiana and the United States.

When I was appointed a member of this committee, I was advised that I could expect to be a marked man for clever devised rumors and attacks on my personal judgment, actions and undertakings. I was told that there would be individuals and organizations that would do anything to discredit and destroy the committee or its members. In light of recent attacks against members of this committee, I feel this has come true.

I have just returned from Baton Rouge where our committee took testimony in its investigation of a certain organization and those connected with it. We are going to step on the toes of a lot of people.

I feel that R. C. White Jr. would like to see me defeated so I would not continue for four more years as an experienced member of this committee.

I feel that someone, or some yet unrevealed reason is behind his attack on me at this particular time. I do feel that the people have the intelligence to see through his schemes.

I was present on the night of September 9, 1963 when R. C. White Jr. offered a resolution before the official Board of Stewards of First Methodist Church to in effect integrate its services.

R. C. White Jr. has a long record of desire, devotion and dedication to integrate schools and churches. His concerted and consistent stand in the matter is a matter of record in his letters to the newspaper editor. Most of you are aware of the opposition made by many outstanding citizens to the views of R. C. White Jr.

I am a fearless fighter for what I believe to be right and in my opinion R. C. White is not right. He has attacked me, and he can continue to do so but I am still going to stand staunch and steadfast for the right of Louisiana to handle its educational matters consistent with what we know to be right and best.

I am going to continue to be a front line fighter for Americanism in our state and nation, and I am going to continue to oppose all efforts of forced integration of schools, churches or private facilities.

I feel that you the citizen will want to ask yourself certain questions about R. C. White Jr. and determine for yourselves just who he is and what he stands for.

As a matter of record, R. C. WHITE JR. is not a candidate for office. In fact R. C. WHITE JR. RECENTLY SOLD HIS $48,000 HOME HERE IN MONROE AND MOVED TO CONNECTICUT.

Viet Nam Prisoners In Concentration Camps Tell Of Tortures, Blindings

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese freed from concentration camps set up by Ngo Dinh Diem's regime told Friday of torture on naked bodies, of blinding, and of mutilation.

Scores of students of both sexes declared that inquisitors forced them to drink soapy water until their intestines had poured blood.

A high school youth, Nguyen Van, was reported beaten to death.

Some prisoners were blinded by torture seeking to force out information about Buddhist and student movements against Diem and his adviser-brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu who headed the secret police.

Fingers were chopped off others, the Vietnamese said.

Miss Hoang Thi Dong, 29, a pretty typist, told with an embarrassed smile of her ordeal in the custody of the secret police last Friday, only a few hours before the outbreak of the coup that destroyed Diem.

She said she was taken from a cell-like room where she was confined with six other girls and six men.

"They stripped me, tied me over a bench, choked me with water and a towel and beat me until I was unconscious," she said.

A Buddhist employed at the British Embassy, Miss Dong said that was her treatment when she denied charges that she was a Communist and that she had served as a courier for Buddhist documents smuggled to foreign correspondents, the United Nations fact-finding mission and the U.S. Information Agency.

She said the guards let her dress and rejoin other prisoners at the camp, in a wood about 12 miles outside Saigon, only after warning her she would be tortured again in the afternoon.

But the sound of guns and warplanes intervened.

"We heard shooting all night long and prayed that the government forces would lose, because otherwise we were sure we would die," Miss Dong said.

"We waited all through Saturday. We saw many military trucks through our barred window and we saw officials burning papers."

Finally an official opened the cell door, took down names and addresses, apologized for the treatment the prisoners had received and said there was great news, that there had been a coup.

The group was taken to security police headquarters in Saigon Sunday and, after several hours in custody there, finally freed.

Of the returning group, all had been sentenced to terms in the penal colony after mass trials by government courts last summer. Among the more prominent politicians was Phan Wang Dan, 45, leader of the Free Democratic party. He said the island conditions were not too bad.

A senior U.S. military spokesman said all reports indicate Vietnamese officer morale throughout the entire country has risen strikingly. He told newsmen that, if this can be translated into action, the timetable for victory against Communist guerrillas should be shortened.

The government announced the state of martial law imposed with the coup has ended.

throughout South Viet Nam. A recently accepted a high political security post in Diem's administration.

A grenade exploded at the foot of a Saigon bridge near an army checkpoint Thursday night and slightly injured two soldiers. It was the fourth grenade incident in the capital since Diem's death Saturday. All are believed to have been thrown by Communist agents.

Miss Dong noted bitterly that while they were waiting at the headquarters for their release, "I saw two of the guards who had tortured us walking around freely."

A Vietnamese employed by the U.S. aid mission, Vu Hoang Linh, said 46 prisoners were locked in a small cell under the sun at the Le Van Quayeh camp and "many became unconscious."

Thousands rejoicing at the military coup welcomed home from a penal colony some participants in an abortive anti-Diem uprising of Nov. 11-12, 1960.

The group arrived amid cheers at a flag-draped pier on the Saigon River. The reception committee included representatives of the revolutionary government newly recognized by the United States.

There were tearful reunions of the freed men and their relatives.

The paratroop leader of the 1960 revolt, Col. Nguyen Chanh Thi, remains in exile in neutral Cambodia, to which he escaped by plane.

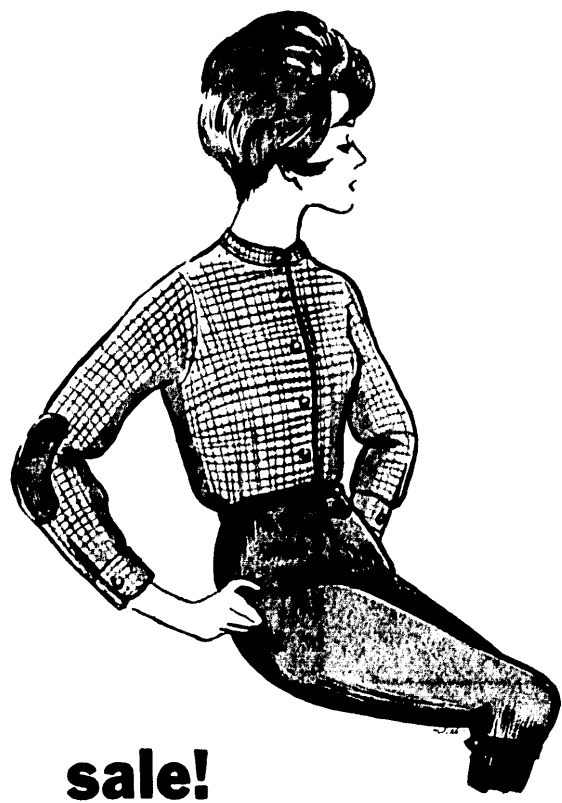

Officers involved on the losing side of the bloody outbreak three years ago were among 33 political prisoners freed from imprisonment on the Poulo Condore islands, 60 miles out in the South China Sea, south of Saigon.

Republicans Gain Ground

It's hard to tell just what thoughts are going through the heads of the brothers pictured in today's cartoon on this page.

They're viewing the election results from the Philadelphia mayor's race held earlier this week. The Democratic candidate, Mayor James Tate, was re-elected. President Kennedy went personally to Philadelphia to acknowledge his support for Tate. But the cartoonist doesn't picture him as being elated over the victory.

Why? Possibly the two points which establish a trend on the graph of Democratic strength in the large, northern metropolis give due cause for concern. In 1960, the Kennedy vote margin in Philadelphia was 300,000. Tuesday, Tate won over Republican candidate James T. McDermott by only 68,000 votes.

Here is the campaign pitch that Philadelphia Democratic workers fired into the air at challenger McDermott. U. S. Representative William J. Green Jr., also party organization leader of the Philadelphia area, said McDermott was an "advance man" for Senator Barry Goldwater.

"Every vote for McDermott will be a vote for Goldwater and his chief supporter, Five Per Cent Willie Scranton," Green charged, referring to Scranton's sponsorship of an increase to five per cent in the state's sales tax.

In the face of this sort of blast, the Republicans moved ahead in Philadelphia from a 300,000-vote defeat in 1960 to a loss of only 68,000 this week.

We presume the "Morning After" press also carried accounts of the Kentucky governor's race. Maybe that's why our artist has added an extra worry line or two to the expression of General Robert Kennedy.

The former Democratic governor of Kentucky had issued an executive order banning racial discrimination in the state. Party candidate Ned Breathitt appeared to "stand on the record" of the former governor.

Republican candidate Louie Nunn made a campaign issue of the executive order. He said the ruling was "dictatorial and not in keeping with our American way of enacting legislation."

As a result, what should have been a sure thing for Democrat Breathitt turned into a statewide margin of only 10,000 to 15,000 votes. More "normal" races in Kentucky are usually settled by margins of around 75,000 to 100,000 votes. But in this case, the rural areas brought a gain in strength for the Republican candidate.

We can't say what the fellows in the cartoon thought of Mississippi and its first two-party election of any consequences since reconstruction days. But the "solid South" remained solidly enough in the Democratic column to assist them to victory in 1960. Mississippi did not cast its electoral votes for either party.

In last Tuesday's governor's race in that state, Lt. Governor Paul Johnson won by a 5-3 majority. But Republican nominee Rubel Phillips got more than 127,000 votes in the face of predictions that he would get a maximum of 75,000.

Of course, losses — even by a narrow squeak — are not victories. Democrats won these three widely publicized races as well as those in other strongholds where vital, current issues were at stake. But we agree with the cartoonist's interpretation of Democratic Party reaction as reflected in the two faces — there are some clouds of doubt for '64.

Highway Harassment Shows Tensions Not Yet Relaxed

Two events, both of explosive significance, are being pondered by foreign policy experts in Washington — and by the portly watchers along Embassy Row — as indicators of a new trend in United States diplomacy.

The first of these events has been filling the front pages of the nation: the shocking running story of a U. S. encouraging (if not planned) overthrow of the legitimate government of South Vietnam and the murder of its leaders.

The second gained little or no attention until this week — and both the Pentagon and the State Department would have preferred it that way. I refer to the recent uncalculated and unnecessary retreat of the Allied powers in their reaction to Soviet and East German harassment. It was this retreat which led to new trouble on the Berlin autobahn.

IF THIS is the appearance, at least to some foreign governments and their representatives in Washington, what is the reality? President Kennedy has so far not confided in the American people, and his tight-lipped group of advisers and confidants has not yet begun to leak stories to the press via favored columnists and correspondents. But on the basis of past words and past performance, it is possible to arrive at some approximations:

1. The President is determined not to rock the boat of U. S. Soviet relations.

2. He considers the future of world peace a bilateral responsibility to be negotiated by the United States and the Soviet Union.

3. He believes that what is most important is the "big picture." Cuba, harassment in Berlin, brushfire wars — all these are unimportant when compared to the over-all goal of nuclear disarmament and an "understanding" between the Western and Communist blocs.

HISTORY, and the Soviet realization that a pinprick can burst a balloon far more effectively and easily than a rifle bullet, may force Mr. Kennedy to give up his present emerging foreign policy. His eagerness to "go along" with the Soviets on troop movement procedures in Berlin has led to a greater provocation. These provocations, in turn, can lead to shooting and an open rupture which can lead to war. That is what the record has shown in the past, and all the optimistic talk of the President's advisers that the Soviets are "maturing" remains just that — talk.

Certainly the gravity of the situation in Berlin could lead to a new assessment. But so far, the President seems not aware of the peril of counting on agreements and accommodations with the Reds.

ALLEN AND SCOTT

Agency Planning Aid For Castro

WASHINGTON — There is something afoot on giving hurricane-ravaged and Communist-misanaged Cuba "emergency relief" in the form of surplus U. S. farm commodities.

The project is very hush-hush and shrouded in tightest secrecy. But the following is definitely known:

— Influential United Nations sources have put out feelers to the State Department on hurricane aid for Cuba. These backstage overtures have been made with the knowledge and approval of puppet dictator Fidel Castro — despite his violent diatribes against accepting help from "imperialists."

— The little-known interdepartmental "Committee on Principles for Cuba," headed by Secretary Dean Rusk, is exploring the "possibility of increasing contacts" with the Castro regime.

— A Central Intelligence Agency report, submitted to President Kennedy, states that the five-day hurricane that ravaged Cuba last month inflicted "catastrophic" damage on its main crops. Sugar was slashed by an estimated 1.1 million tons; virtually all of the wheat crop in Oriente Province, which produces about 90 per cent of this grain was destroyed; and more than 50 per cent of the rice and tobacco crops were lost.

CIA ESTIMATES Cuba's total sugar output this year will be less than 2,250,000 tons. That is approximately one-third of the six million-plus tons averaged between 1957 and the Communist take-over.

It is also more than two million tons less than last year's production, which was one million tons under the previous year. Since the Reds have ruled Cuba, there has been a steady decline in sugar output. The same is true of every other important export commodity.

Last month's massive hurricane destruction compounded the already high crop losses due to mismanagement, incompetence, waste and bungling.

Congressional leaders have gotten wind of the undercover move to extend hurricane aid to Cuba, and are keeping a close eye on the matter. They are particularly aroused because of the bitter battle raging in the Senate over the President's multi-billion dollar foreign aid program.

An aid scheme for Cuba could have explosive impact on this stormy controversy.

PRIOR TO the hurricane, Cuba had shipped several hundred thousand tons of sugar to Red China in exchange for 100,000 tons of rice. . . . To help meet Cuba's serious shortage of footwear, Red China has sent a large shipment of shoes made of cloth and rubber, and North Korea a quantity of used military boots. . . . The Cuban freighter Puerto de Nuevitas, which sailed from Port Mariel with tanks, artillery and ammunition for Algeria, switched names in mid-Atlantic. Port Mariel is used by Russia to unload most of its military supplies and personnel.

SECRETARY Dean Rusk has a simple stratagem for ducking disconcerting congressional questions.

With unusual candor, the State Department head disclosed this during a private meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He had been sharply grilled on the embattled foreign aid bill, and Senator Stuart Symington, D-Mo., nudged him for being evasive.

"Senator, when I was a young member of the State Department and was down in this part of town," replied Rusk, "I was advised that when I got a question that I couldn't answer, to answer another one."

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, Nov. 9, the 313th day of 1963 with 52 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1861, Ulysses S. Grant fought his first battle of the Civil War during an engagement at Belmont, Mo.

In 1933, President Franklin Roosevelt created the Civil Works Administration as an emergency means to ease depression-caused unemployment.

In 1953, the U. S. Supreme Court confirmed a 1922 ruling that big-league baseball does not come under the anti-trust laws.

In 1960, John F. Kennedy was elected President by a narrow margin over his Republican opponent, Vice President Richard Nixon.

A thought for the day: Former President Ulysses S. Grant said: "Labor disgraces no man; unfortunately, you occasionally find men disgrace labor."

BASCOM TIMMONS

Divided Authority On Viet Nam Issue

WASHINGTON — Once again, the United States has been drawn completely into a situation in Viet Nam in which it had hoped to be only a fringe participant. Like the big boy in the neighborhood who tries but fails to avoid being drawn into the quarrels, this nation is too vast and its military strength too great to keep the international propagandists, with Communist prompting, from picturing it as a nation bent on war, if necessary to accomplish its world aims.

The end of the Diem Nhu regime in Viet Nam in the opinion of a number of newsmen who have been there, may help the U. S. effort there, but much will depend on whether the divided authority which operates from Washington can be concentrated against the Communist Viet Cong.

ANNOYING to members of Congress and other government figures have been reports from authoritative sources of division between the State Department, the Central Intelligence Agency and the Armed forces in Viet Nam which vitiated much of the military effort to knock out the Viet Cong, who are a branch of the Red Chinese.

The Viet Nam development gives no satisfaction to the Kennedy Administration and to the State Department in particular, but the same uncertain thread runs through it that was visible when Soviet Russia put up the Berlin Wall, and when the Reds while withdrawing long range missiles from Cuba, defied the U. S. by keeping Russian troops there to back up Castro and support him in other ways which kept pressure on the American Colossus.

THIS ALL adds up to the fact that there are not an aggressive country. Senate speeches on foreign aid are filled with vagaries, which strike listeners as further evidence that those who control the government are still convinced that money alone will accomplish the vague purposes included in our aid programs.

Some believe it does, though the recipients of aid have given no thanks at all for the rebuilding of their shattered countries and their economies. On the contrary, France, which has received more help from the U. S. than two wars than any other country in the world, under General De Gaulle's leadership, has voiced no gratitude for American aid.

can help, and has made no offer to strengthen the Western Alliance, in which France at present is concentrating on making itself independent of the two nations which saved it, Britain and the U. S.

Senator J. William Fulbright (Dem-Ark.) chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a recent speech that "the spirit of common interest and common obligation is strikingly lacking in current French policy."

WHILE manifestly indifferent to any obligations to a western defense alliance, DeGaulle recently dropped a strong suggestion that France might be willing to negotiate with the Nhu government, which has just collapsed in Viet Nam, in what could only be viewed as an overture to regain some of the strength and power which France has lost in southeast Asia.

Whether that idea is still among the clouds which make up the DeGaulle vision of new French greatness has not been revealed, but reports from Paris do not indicate it has faded. The Fulbright speech was among the few utterances by a leading figure in Congress chiding our allies for their failure to strengthen the resistance of the western nations against Communism.

"The United States is at present putting 11 per cent of its gross national product into defense and foreign aid, while some of its allies are doing less than half as much proportionately," said the mild spoken Arkansan.

"The United States, which has committed itself to a unified defense of the west will not of its volition abandon Europe but this does not mean that it cannot be driven from Europe."

That could happen, he went on, if "our partners pursue protectionist trade policies against us and decline to carry a proportion of the military and foreign aid burdens commensurate with their resources."

Some critics thought that Fulbright had made the problem of negotiating with DeGaulle even tougher. For observers who have watched a U. S. government policy in which negotiation followed negotiation, with no straight out warning to other parties, the Fulbright criticism of De Gaulle, together with the Viet Nam revolt was taken to mean that the policy is beginning to have some meaning.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

The Healthiest Hearts Skip Occasionally

I receive scores of letters from people who live in fear that they may drop dead suddenly because of heart skips. Having had occasional skips (premature contractions) myself, I know that the unnatural slap of the heart against the chest and the flip-over in the throat are not exactly conducive to freedom from anxiety.

Yet, as I keep saying, such skips may occur in the healthiest of hearts. If your doctor has thoroughly examined you and found no evidence of heart trouble, then your job is to believe; and live your life free from unnecessary doubts and fears. Even though you may wonder, as your heart skips a beat, if it will ever start up again.

FOR THOSE of you who need further encouragement, here is a note from a Los Angeles reader that may bring you some comfort:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I was reading your column about the man who was not far from a nervous breakdown because he was deathly afraid of heart skips. He will be interested to know my husband's experience. More than 25 years ago he was lying on the davenport and he called me to feel his heartbeats. His heart was skipping at least every three or four beats. These have been present on and off since then.

Now, at the age of 82 my husband had an electrocardiogram and physical examination. They told him that as far as his heart is concerned, he can live to be 100. I hope the man you wrote about reads this and begins to relax and enjoy life. — Mrs. W. (Send for my trouble, "Maybe Your Heart Trouble's Imaginary" Write to me at this newspaper, enclosing 15 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

X ray, fluoroscopic examination, electrocardiograms or even the old stethoscope or a hemoglobin test. All told I wasn't in his office more than 15 minutes.

IT SO happens I am an R.N. from a large hospital in Chicago. I did nursing for 35 years. I am now in my 80's so you see I know what a checkup should be. It makes me so sad to see how doctors are degrading their profession and losing the confidence and respect of the public.

Is this the personal doctor-patient relationship they are so afraid of losing if and when we get socialized medicine? And as sure as I'm writing this it's coming and they have only themselves to blame. — Miss D.

COMMENT: All I can say is Hear ye! Hear ye! Give ears, you doctors in the minority who tend to drag down the conscientious, hard-working men who dedicate their days and nights to patients. Some way, somehow, I think it's the job of the doctors to do their own housecleaning.

Senator Soaper Says

A California congressman has asked federal agencies to reveal how many public relations officers they employ. Getting this information for him may, of course, require putting on additional public relations officers.

Joe Valachi, like other currently popular singing sensations, never had a lesson in his life. Although it is assumed that a lot of old underworld pals would be willing to teach him one.

Mental Disarmament

The enemies of the United States are patient. In fact, working through the United Nations Education Scientific and Cultural Organization, those wishing to disarm our nation have already begun work on the minds of today's children.

An article entitled "The Cold War in the Classroom," published in June, 1963, provides a forum for disarmers and so - called "peace workers." The author of the article in question, Mrs. Elise Boulding, is a research associate at the Center for Research on Conflict Resolution.

Mrs. Boulding's thesis is that American children have long been taught a stereotype of the "enemy." She goes on to explain how some teachers are seeking ways and means to present a radically different view of America's cold war enemy.

How will this change in teaching and thinking be put into effect? As far as Mrs. Boulding is concerned, UNESCO has the solution. She and others of like thinking believe the United Nations group can help get rid of the stereotypes of which they disapprove.

"A few beginning efforts have been made," she wrote, "to give students a more universal view of the world. This was one of the hopes of UNESCO at its founding in 1950."

The writer gave an account of a "World Forum of Women" held in Brussels, Belgium, in November, 1962, which discussed such topics as "The Education of Children and Youth in the Spirit of Friendship and Understanding Among Peoples."

The topic itself sounds disarming by virtue of its length if for no other reason.

In describing the work of the conference, Mrs. Boulding deplored the representation of the Soviet Union in U. S. textbooks generally. She said one American text teaches:

"In the Soviet Union, a few persons in the Communist Party, not elected by the people, have most of the power."

To this clearly stated fact, which not even the communists themselves would deny, Mrs. Boulding hastens to reply:

"Without information to the contrary, American school children grow up believing that the Soviet people are ruled capriciously by a few power-mad men."

We wonder why this belief on the part of the children or as stated in the textbooks should alarm Mrs. Boulding. One is apt to wonder just what it is that Mrs. Boulding herself thinks. How, for example, does such a person explain the examples of dictators Stalin and Khrushchev with their bloody purges and rocket rattling?

As a partial solution to the "problem" as UNESCO sees it, there is something called the Liaison Bureau, which Mrs. Boulding says "is undertaking the organization of national commissions on children's books until such time as UNESCO will be able to add this to its roster of projects."

In her words, the aim of this bureau is "to make it possible for children around the world to read the same books in their different countries." This, she claims, "will help them find their international identity in tomorrow's world."

The UNESCO workers are not for a minute proposing that Russian and American children swap books. They are proposing that Soviet and U. S. children read the same, pre-examined books. Russia would never permit Soviet children to read American books. But books approved by a loaded committee for both countries would force the flow of propaganda one way — their way.

It is a tragedy that even after 40 years of communist death, some well-meaning U. S. citizens still refuse to realize that every instance of Soviet cooperation with the West is another effort to undermine freedom.

The record of communist activity leads us to believe that any joint textbook project with the Russians would result in a move to brainwash U. S. school children. In particular, the UNESCO idea cited above appears to be an attempt to play down the danger of the Soviet Union as a dictator nation.

Highway Harassment Shows Tensions Not Yet Relaxed

Two events, both of explosive significance, are being pondered by foreign policy experts in Washington — and by the portent watchers along Embassy Row — as indicators of a new trend in United States diplomacy.

The first of these events has been filling the front pages of the nation: the shocking running story of a U. S. encouraged (if not planned) overthrow of the legitimate government of South Vietnam and the murder of its leaders.

The second gained little or no attention until this week — and both the Pentagon and the State Department would have preferred it that way. I refer to the recent uncalculated and unnecessary retreat of the Allied powers in their reaction to Soviet and East German harassment. It was this retreat which led to new trouble on the Berlin autobahn.

IT WILL be recalled that the earlier incident involving U. S. forces and the East German guards along the highway to West Berlin had to do with an effort by the Communists to set down their own rules. Neither the East Germans nor the Soviets have any right, by treaty or precedent, to impose their own regulations. Yet they were demanding that in every movement of troops to West Berlin, the soldiers must dismount from trucks or buses and be counted.

This, as the U. S. promptly noted, was an encroachment on Allied rights of access and nobody's business but our own. Our commanders and the State Department said it very loud and clear. But what was shouted in the world's ear was more wind than determination. Working quietly behind the scenes, American diplomats convinced the British and the French that we should accede to the Communist demand.

Thereupon, the Allied powers notified the Soviets that in the future any troop convoy larger than 31 men would dismount for a count by Soviet and East German guards. This was described as a "courtesy" to the Communists.

AS WE know, this retreat from previous Allied positions has served the West not a whit. The Soviets stopped another U. S. convoy made up of fewer than 31 men, demanding a count there as well. The inch we were so ready to cede has, of course, begun to stretch into the proverbial yard, though the State Department now insists that this will not be tolerated.

The importance and significance of these two events must be measured (1) as they are interpreted by the world, and (2) by what they really mean. There is little doubt from all the reports so far received here that both events, however they may seem unrelated, are being seen as an effort by the United States to placate the Soviet Union and "prove" its good intentions.

The once-firm Berlin policy, it is believed, has been replaced by one of preserving the myth that East-West tensions are relaxing. In South Vietnam, the United States has once again aided in the downfall of a strongly anti-Communist leader and opened the door to the kind of chaos which can mean Communist victory. The Philippine government has quietly let it be known that it reads this as a further sign of an American withdrawal from Southeast Asia.

Last month's massive hurricane destruction compounded the already high crop losses due to mismanagement, incompetence, waste and bungling.

Congressional leaders have gotten wind of the undercover move to extend hurricane aid to Cuba, and are keeping a close eye on the matter. They are particularly aroused because of the bitter battle raging in the Senate over the President's multi-billion dollar foreign aid program.

An aid scheme for Cuba could have explosive impact on this stormy controversy.

PRIOR TO the hurricane, Cuba had shipped several hundred thousand tons of sugar to Red China in exchange for 100,000 tons of rice. . . . To help meet Cuba's serious shortage of footwear, Red China has sent a large shipment of shoes made of cloth and rubber, and North Korea a quantity of used military boots. . . . The Cuban freighter Puerto de Nuevitas, which sailed from Port Mariel with tanks, artillery and ammunition for Algeria, switched names in mid-Atlantic. Port Mariel is used by Russia to unload most of its military supplies and personnel.

SECRETARY Dean Rusk has a simple stratagem for ducking disconcerting congressional questions.

With unusual candor, the State Department head disclosed this during a private meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He had been sharply grilled on the embattled foreign aid bill, and Senator Stuart Symington, D-Mo., chided him for being evasive.

"Senator, when I was a young member of the State Department and was down in this part of town," replied Rusk, "I was advised that I couldn't answer, to answer another one."

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, Nov. 9, the 313th day of 1963 with 52 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1861, Ulysses S. Grant fought his first battle of the Civil War during an engagement at Belmont, Mo.

In 1933, President Franklin Roosevelt created the Civil Works Administration as an emergency means to ease depression-caused unemployment.

In 1953, the U. S. Supreme Court confirmed a 1922 ruling that big-league baseball does not come under the anti-trust laws.

In 1960, John F. Kennedy was elected President by a narrow margin over his Republican opponent, Vice President Richard Nixon.

Divided Authority On Viet Nam Issue

WASHINGTON — Once again, the United States has been drawn completely into a situation in Viet Nam in which it had hoped to be only a fringe participant. Like the big boy in the neighborhood who tries but fails to avoid being drawn into alley quarrels, this nation is too vast and its military strength too great to keep the international propagandists, with Communist prompting, from picturing it as a nation bent on war, if necessary to accomplish its world aims.

The end of the Diem Nhu regime in Viet Nam in the opinion of a number of newsmen who have been there, may help the U. S. effort there, but much will depend on whether the divided authority which operates from Washington can be concentrated against the Communist Viet Cong.

ANNOYING to members of Congress and other government figures here have been reports from authoritative sources of division between the State Department, the Central Intelligence Agency and the U. S. Armed Forces in Viet Nam which vitiated much of the military effort to knock out the Viet Cong, who are a branch of the Red Chinese.

The Viet Nam development gives no satisfaction to the Kennedy Administration and to the State Department in particular, but the same uncertain thread runs through it that was visible when Soviet Russia put up the Berlin Wall, and when the Reds while withdrawing long range missiles from Cuba, defied the U. S. by keeping Russian troops there to back up Castro and support him in other ways which kept pressure on the American Colossus.

THIS ALL adds up to the fact that we are not an aggressive country. Senate speeches on foreign aid are filled with vagaries, which strike listeners as further evidence that those who control the government are still convinced that money alone will accomplish the vague purposes included in our aid programs.

Some believe it does, though the recipients of aid have given no thanks at all for the rebuilding of their shattered countries and their economies. On the contrary, France, which has received more help from the U. S. thru two wars than any other country in the world, under General De Gaulle's leadership, has voiced no gratitude for American aid.

That could happen, he went on, if "our partners pursue protectionist trade policies against us and decline to carry a proportion of the military and foreign aid burdens commensurate with their resources."

Some critics thought that Fulbright had made the problem of negotiating with De Gaulle even tougher. For observers who have watched a U. S. government policy in which negotiation followed negotiation, with no straight out warning to other parties, the Fulbright criticism of De Gaulle, together with the Viet Nam revolt was taken to mean that the policy is beginning to have some meaning.

whose 29th annual conference ends here today.

Neville High School, host for the 14-state convention, was covered with campaign posters for the 7:30 p.m. rally.

Guest speaker for the night was Dr. David Townsend, dean of the School of Applied Arts and Sciences at Northwestern State College in Natchitoches.

Dr. Townsend was ushered into the auditorium with a flourish and charged at the microphone with a speech on the political and economic situation of the world.

In keeping with Friday's theme, "Youth and World Affairs," the doctor of economics discussed the question, "What can youth do about the world affairs?"

Addressing the high school delegates, Dr. Townsend said, "As citizens of the leading nation in the twentieth century, you are destined to go to college and become experts. Those who train themselves to be experts do have an opportunity to influence world events."

Concentrating most of his talk on existing "economic systems," Dr. Townsend pointed out that the United States is on the "threshold of solving the problem of economic existence."

He outlined the difficulties in coping with economic conditions in underdeveloped countries and concluded his talk with the statement that "the challenge is great, but the prize greater."

Following Dr. Townsend's speech, the delegates turned the auditorium into a political campaign hall. Schools for the various offices were nominated, seconded and made acceptance speeches.

Clever skits and witty speeches enlivened the proceedings. One delegation featured a folk-singing group, another a mock newscast, and there was one imitation of John F. Kennedy.

Schools rather than individuals are nominated for office, then the winning institution names the person to serve in the official capacity.

Put forward for SASC president were Fayetteville High School of Fayetteville, Ark. Murrah High School of Jackson, Miss. and Hewitt - Trussville High School of Trussville, Ala.

Nominees for vice president were North Miami High of North Miami, Fla. and Holdenville High of Holdenville, Okla. Unopposed for office are, for parliamentarian, Jefferson High School of Roanoke, Va. and, for secretary and host of next year's convention, Fletcher High School of Jacksonville, Fla.

The position of publisher of the journal is a two-year office, to be filled again in 1964 by West Monroe High School.

Balloting for the officers will start off today's program at 9 a.m. Delegates will meet in state groups to vote for the 1964 SASC leaders.

The closing general session will get under way at 9:40 a.m. in the school auditorium. Highlighting this meeting will be a program by the Northeast Louisiana State College Concert Band and a talk by Dr. Ethel Trice, former faculty member at Northeast, now with the physical education department at the University of Arkansas.

Also during this final meeting, Miss Oneta Cummings, of Corpus Christi, Tex., head sponsor of the SASC, will address the delegates.

Election results will be announced and the new officers installed to wind up the 1963 conference of the Association.

The entire meeting was rated "a great success" by attending high school delegates and faculty sponsors. Visitors commended Neville student council sponsor Jerry Lee on a "very well organized meeting."

One Texas representative remarked, "Next year's host is going to have a hard time following this meeting in Monroe. Everyone has had a wonderful time."

Auto Production To Notch Record For This Week

DETROIT (UPI)—Ward's Automotive Reports said Friday U.S. auto production will set an industry record this week.

Ward's said the industry would produce an estimated 187,896 cars this week, the largest week's production in history. Last week the industry turned out 175,560 cars and in this same week last year, 166,112 cars. The previous single week high was in April 1955, when 184,277 cars were built.

The statistical agency noted revised production figures confirmed October was an all-time high. A total of 798,719 cars and 140,398 trucks were built. The previous month's record was March, 1955, when 794,015 cars and 140,125 commercial vehicles were built.

Ward's said 33 plants have scheduled overtime production this week. The statistical agency said labor problems spurred by peak production schedules continue to plague automakers. There were two walkouts during October and since the 1964 model startup, a total of 20 plants have been strike votes.

So far this year auto assemblies total 6,376,812 units compared with 5,835,251 at the comparable period last year. Truck assemblies to date totaled 1,245,411 units compared with 1,071,115 in the like period in 1962.

AT PRECINCT LEVEL GOP Makes Plans For Southern Win

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Republican leaders hammered out plans Friday for organizing at the precinct level throughout the South as the way to win Dixie in the 1964 presidential election.

"We are building a grass roots organization that will win this time," said Raymond V. Humphreys of Washington, D.C., a national GOP strategist who has spent most of the year in the South.

Opening two days of strategy talks, Republican leaders from 13 states exuded confidence in this prelude to an all-out push for a bloc of electoral votes which they hope will be the springboard to the White House.

Obviously, top-echelon Republicans consider Dixie ripe for plucking because of widespread discontent with Democratic President Kennedy's policies on civil rights, spending, and the cold war.

Humphreys is director of education and training for the Republican National Committee. He said in an interview that precinct organization in the South is moving along rapidly with traditionally Democratic Mississippi and Alabama both organized.

"Mississippi has a two-party system," said Humphreys. He helped in a big push that gave a Republican candidate for governor 38 per cent of the vote in Tuesday's election.

Humphreys said the Mississippi drive, a pattern for the rest of the South, began with only 41 Republicans attending a rally but went into the stretch with 11,800 precinct workers organized.

Wirt Yerger, the Mississippi chairman, said Tuesday's vote for GOP candidate Rubel Phillips was a positive Republican vote. He said about 75 of the state's 82 counties have Republican precinct organizations.

"Most Southerners vote Democratic not because of convictions, but because of habit," he said.

William E. Miller of New York, national party chairman, said "we have come here not to campaign for a candidate" but to concentrate on developing grass roots strength.

The meeting Thursday took on the aspect of a rally for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater with most of the Southerners predicting the Republican senator would sweep the South if he is nominated.

The conference ends Saturday. All of the sessions are closed.

KC Memorial Services Held

Memorial services for two members of the Council 1337, Knights of Columbus were held Thursday night in the KC Hall on Oliver Road.

The rites were in honor of B. J. Renaud and Dr. V. J. Sampognaro who died during the past year.

ICC Puts Out Restrictions On Boxcar Handling

WASHINGTON UPI — The Interstate Commerce Commission Friday issued new restrictions on railroad boxcar handling in an effort to relieve a nationwide shortage, which has hampered efforts to get a big crop to market.

The shortage of boxcars has been particularly acute in the Midwest and West during this grain harvesting season.

The new ICC order, effective Monday, permits a railroad 24 hours plus actual travel time to get a freight car to the place where it is to be unloaded. And once the receiver notifies the railroad it is unloaded, the railroad has only 24 hours to pick it up.

At present, there is no time limit.

The ICC cannot force the shipper or receiver to load or unload the cars faster, but Thursday it urged industry to do so.

The closing general session will get under way at 9:40 a.m. in the school auditorium. Highlighting this meeting will be a program by the Northeast Louisiana State College Concert Band and a talk by Dr. Ethel Trice, former faculty member at Northeast, now with the physical education department at the University of Arkansas.

Also during this final meeting, Miss Oneta Cummings, of Corpus Christi, Tex., head sponsor of the SASC, will address the delegates.

Election results will be announced and the new officers installed to wind up the 1963 conference of the Association.

The entire meeting was rated "a great success" by attending high school delegates and faculty sponsors. Visitors commended Neville student council sponsor Jerry Lee on a "very well organized meeting."

One Texas representative remarked, "Next year's host is going to have a hard time following this meeting in Monroe. Everyone has had a wonderful time."

Auto Production To Notch Record For This Week

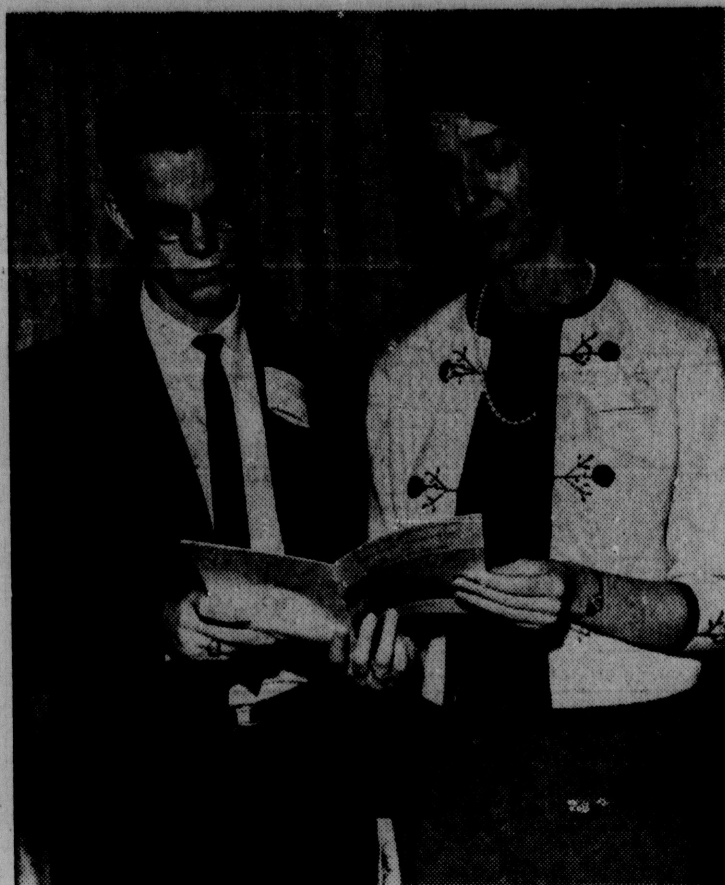

DETROIT (UPI)—Ward's Automotive Reports said Friday U.S. auto production will set an industry record this week.

Ward's said the industry would produce an estimated 187,896 cars this week, the largest week's production in history. Last week the industry turned out 175,560 cars and in this same week last year, 166,112 cars. The previous single week high was in April 1955, when 184,277 cars were built.

The statistical agency noted revised production figures confirmed October was an all-time high. A total of 798,719 cars and 140,398 trucks were built. The previous month's record was March, 1955, when 794,015 cars and 140,125 commercial vehicles were built.

Ward's said 33 plants have scheduled overtime production this week. The statistical agency said labor problems spurred by peak production schedules continue to plague automakers. There were two walkouts during October and since the 1964 model startup, a total of 20 plants have been strike votes.

So far this year auto assemblies total 6,376,812 units compared with 5,835,251 at the comparable period last year. Truck assemblies to date totaled 1,245,411 units compared with 1,071,115 in the like period in 1962.

STUDENT DELEGATES to the Southern Association of Student Councils being held at Neville High School here will windup the four-day 29th annual conference today. AT PRECINCT LEVEL

GOP Makes Plans For Southern Win

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Republican leaders hammered out plans Friday for organizing at the precinct level throughout the South as the way to win Dixie in the 1964 presidential election.

"We are building a grass roots organization that will win this time," said Raymond V. Humphreys of Washington, D.C., a national GOP strategist who has spent most of the year in the South.

Opening two days of strategy talks, Republican leaders from 13 states exuded confidence in this prelude to an all-out push for a bloc of electoral votes which they hope will be the springboard to the White House. Obviously, top-echelon Republicans consider Dixie ripe for plucking because of widespread discontent with Democratic President Kennedy's policies on civil rights, spending, and the cold war.

Humphreys is director of education and training for the Republican National Committee. He said in an interview that precinct organization in the South is moving along rapidly with traditionally Democratic Mississippi and Alabama both organized.

"Mississippi has a two-party system," said Humphreys. He helped in a big push that gave a Republican candidate for governor 38 per cent of the vote in Tuesday's election.

Humphreys said the Mississippi drive, a pattern for the rest of the South, began with only 41 Republicans attending a rally but went into the stretch with 11,800 precinct workers organized.

ICC Puts Out Restrictions On Boxcar Handling

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interstate Commerce Commission Friday issued new restrictions on railroad boxcar handling in an effort to relieve a nationwide shortage, which has hampered efforts to get a big crop to market.

The shortage of boxcars has been particularly acute in the Midwest and West during this grain harvesting season.

The new ICC order, effective Monday, permits a railroad 24 hours plus actual travel time to get a freight car to the place where it is to be unloaded. And once the receiver notifies the railroad it is unloaded, the railroad has only 24 hours to pick it up.

At present, there is no time limit. The ICC cannot force the shipper or receiver to load or unload the cars faster, but Thursday it urged industry to do so.

KC Memorial Services Held

Memorial services for two members of the Council 1337, Knights of Columbus were held Thursday night in the KC Hall on Oliver Road.

The rites were in honor of B. J. Renaud and Dr. V. J. Sam-pognaro who died during the past year.

Eulogies were delivered by Robert Beau and George Tonore, with Anthony Messina, grand knight, was in charge of services.

Damages Asked In Court Suit

A West Monroe man filed a suit against another Ouachita Parish man in Fourth District court this week, asking for $35,500 damages in a charge of persecution.

Raymond Johnson, of Rt. 4, Box 156, filed the suit Wednesday against Robert A. Smith, also of West Monroe.

Smith obtained a warrant for Johnson's arrest in July, charging him with theft of tools valued at more than $100 in East Carroll Parish. Johnson was taken into custody on the charges for trial there.

The theft charge was subsequently nolle prossed in Sixth District Court in East Carroll Parish on Oct. 7 and Johnson released. The charge of persecution in the suit against Smith arises out of the earlier incident.

Citation Honors Late Ouachita Parish Engineer

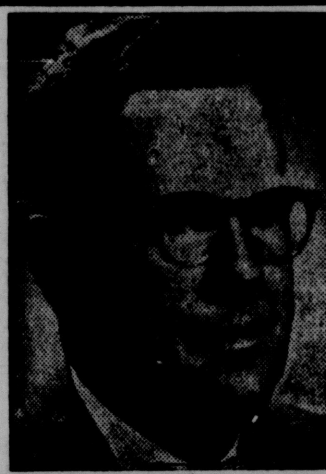

The late Wayne H. Huckaby, Ouachita Parish engineer until his death Oct. 23, was honored in a citation by President Kennedy in memory of his services in both World Wars.

Mrs. Marion Huckaby, widow of the engineer who supervised construction of the Burma Road, received the certificate Thursday.

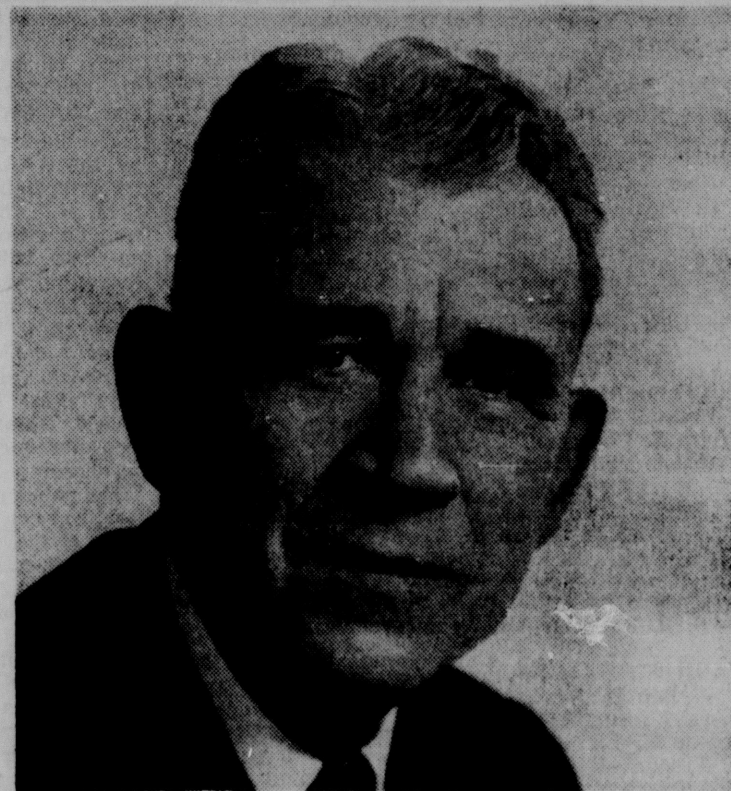

It read as follows:

"The United States of America honors the memory of Wayne H. Huckaby. This certificate is awarded by a grateful nation in recognition of devoted and selfless consecration to the services of our country in the Armed Forces of the United States."

Mr. Huckaby served overseas with the U.S. Corps of Engineers during World War I and World War II.

Michaelangelo's Famous 'Pieta' Shipped To U.S.

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The famous Pieta of Michaelangelo will be shipped from St. Peter's Basilica to the New York World's Fair with Pope Paul's VI's authorization, it was announced Friday.

Thomas J. Deegan, chairman of the 1964-1965 fair corporation made the announcement after an audience with the Pope which was attended by Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Bishop Bryan J. McEntegart of Brooklyn, N.Y.

The famous marble group sculpted by Michelangelo, showing the dead Christ held by the Virgin Mary, will be shipped aboard the Italian liner Cristoforo Colombo sailing from Genoa on April 5.

Special precautions will be taken en route and in New York for preservation of the master piece.

The late Pope John XXIII already had authorized the temporary transfer of the master piece to New York, and his decision stirred considerable controversy in Italy.

Life magazine reported that a survey of 25 merchandise-minded builders from coast to coast showed that builders credit 60 per cent of their sales to newspaper ads.

The shindig gets underway at 7 p.m., with refreshments to be served. Bradley said the party is being given in conjunction with the legion's drive for new members.

Police Activity Unusually Quiet In Twin Cities

Police activities were unusually quiet in the Twin Cities Friday, with a couple of minor thefts under investigation.

Chief James C. Kelly, Monroe, said his department apprehended a 16-year-old Negro juvenile in J. C. Penney Company on DeSiard Street for shoplifting. When taken into custody, he reportedly had a thirteen dollar knit sweater in his possession. The youth was being held in the parish detention home until juvenile court can meet.

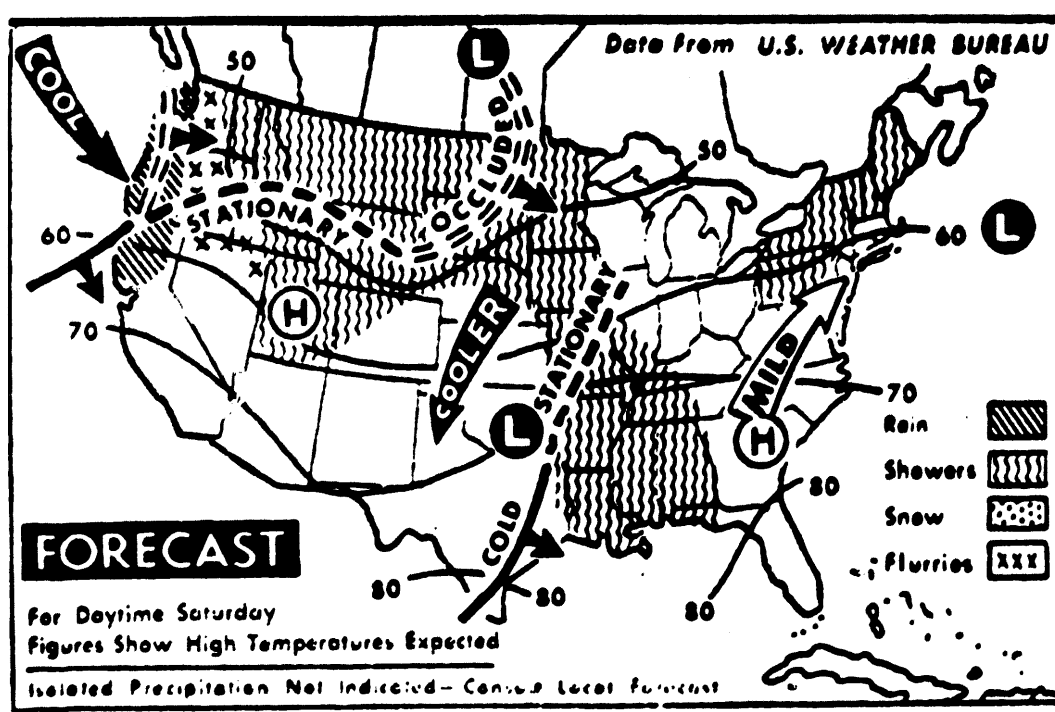

Monroe officers were also checking the reported burglary of the Missouri Pacific railroad ticket office located at the MOP depot which occurred sometime Thursday night. Entrance was gained through a side window, and a desk drawer was jimmied open but nothing was reported taken.

West Monroe police were searching for a 1961-model Chevrolet sedan which was reported stolen from Miller's Used Car Lot in the 100 block of Cypress Friday evening. The white and green vehicle bore 1963 Miss. license No. S-8423.

Armed Bandits Rob Jewel Truck

liced commercial areas. It is beneath the West Side Highway, next to the Hudson River luxury piers, and near the heavily traveled entrance to Lincoln Tunnel.

The holdup occurred shortly before 1 p.m. on a gray, rainy day. It went off with a minimum of confusion and was heralded when one of the bandits stepped up to the halted diamond truck with a gun in his hand and announced tritely but forcefully:

"This is a stickup."

Six men inside the diamond truck were unarmed—a company policy. They were handcuffed and forced into the bandits' panel truck. The robbers then drove the diamond truck three blocks south, looting it and abandoning it at 38th Street and 12th Avenue.

The diamond truck was owned by the AAA Jewelers Service. Its driver, Louis Moots, Ridgefield, N.J., had picked up 2,000 envelopes from the firm's office on West 47th Street, center of the nation's diamond trading.

Each envelope contained one or more gems deposited with the firm by dealers in the area.

The glittering fortune was being taken downtown to the AAA's Nassau Street offices, for subsequent distribution to purchasers.

The police estimate of the loot—subject to final inventory—made it the largest jewel heist ever pulled in New York, according to the $900,000 robbery of a Manhattan diamond firm in 1961.

However, it did not approach in magnitude the $1,750,000 gem robbery of a Pompano Beach, Fla., jewelry store in 1962. Largest cash holdup in American history was the $1,551,277 stickup Aug. 14, 1962, of a U.S. mail truck near Boston.

The diamond truck was headed south on 12th Avenue when the bandits panel truck with New Jersey license plates pulled alongside at 41st Street, forcing it to the curb. The employees in the diamond truck later told detectives the disguise of two of the bandits completely disarmed them—they thought they were being halted by real policemen for a traffic violation.

The two disguised bandits, however, quickly made their mission clear as they approached the diamond truck from either side and announced the holdup.

The employees in the diamond truck were transferred at gunpoint to the bandits' vehicle, which had its back door chained shut to impede escape. After the bandits drove off with the diamond truck, the employees scrambled out through the front of the panel truck and summoned police.

The robbery victims, who serve as jewelry messengers for a gem-distributing firm, said they recognized two of the bandits as the pair who stopped their truck several weeks ago, as it traveled its regular route downtown on the West Side.

At that time the two bandits wore uniforms and the men in the diamond truck thought they were policemen stopping them for a traffic violation.

"But they merely looked us over and let us go," said one of the messengers, Thomas Savoca.

However, this time the bandits obviously meant business.

Savoca recounted: "They warned us not to look directly at them, but to keep our faces turned away. One told us not to do anything silly because if you do you'll get hurt—don't, and you won't even be tickled."

The diamond messengers said the tempo of activity in the area continued unabated while the holdup took place.

"I'm sure that workers on construction jobs near the scene must have seen the activity around the truck. But maybe they didn't want to get involved, or maybe they didn't realize what was happening," one said.

Negro Children Burn To Death In Ruston Fire

RUSTON (Special) — Five Negro children burned to death in their beds near here Friday night as a fire swept through the frame house in which they were sleeping alone.

The dead youngsters, all brothers and sisters, were the children of Vidalia Buffett who lived alone in the tenant house about one half mile from Ruston on the Chatham Road. They were listed as Juliette Baldwin, 10; Hosea Baldwin Jr., 9; Mattie Marie Baldwin, 8; Nell Baldwin, 7; and Darrol Baldwin, 3.

Reports indicate that their mother was divorced from Hosea Baldwin Sr., their father. According to investigating officials of the Lincoln Parish sheriff's department the children were alone in the house, sleeping in two beds when the fire struck. The cause of the blaze was undetermined. However, authorities noted that the structure was fitted with an open fireplace.

Dr. J. M. Johnson, assistant parish coroner, said the bodies were cremated beyond recognition. All were recovered he stated and taken to King's Funeral Home in Ruston.

The mother and possibly one or two other children were not at the house at the time of the tragedy according to reports.

The Ruston Fire Department answered the alarm around 8:30 p.m. but could do little until the flames subsided. One observer noted that the blaze consumed the house like a "piece of kindling wood."

Parish officials reported that the Buffetts house was the only structure involved. They said the building was in a sharecropper settlement but the closest house was approximately 150 feet away.

Wheat Deals Will Be Left Up To Firms

ion provided that the actual price of the wheat and shipping costs would be determined in negotiations between U.S. grain dealers and a Russian grain purchasing team.

There were strong indications that the Russians would work out agreements with the private American grain dealers on the actual price and other terms. Roosevelt did not reveal the name of the grain dealer nor the freight cost.

A Commerce Department spokesman said no applications for shipment of wheat to Russia were pending but he said at least one grain dealer already had started negotiations with the Russian representatives.

This was after the State Department announced late in the day that an understanding has been reached with Soviet negotiators under which American dealers will quote a delivered-in-Russia price for their surplus wheat.

Thus was a solution proposed for the problem presented by President Kennedy's requirement that American wheat be carried in American ships whenever possible.

American freighters charge anywhere from 20 to 30 per cent more than foreign vessels, because of their higher labor costs and the Russians had balked at paying the extra freight.

Under the agreement reached after three weeks of talks, the U.S. government will step aside and let American dealers quote a price based on the cost of delivering wheat in Soviet ports.

This means the Americans will have to take their chances on a smaller profit if they have to ship American, but a better profit if the Maritime Administration certifies that no American vessels are available and allows them to use foreign ships.

A government official explained that 50 per cent of each exporter's shipment may be carried in cheaper foreign vessels, and the remaining 50 per cent need go to American ships only if they are available at rates set by the government.

State Department officials said it will be up to the Commerce Department, which issues export licenses, and the Maritime Administration to determine whether American ships are available at the prescribed rates.

The breakthrough was announced after a meeting between the Soviet mission and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

"We reached an understanding with the Soviet trade delegation that American grain dealers will make offers of sales of American wheat to the Soviet purchasing commission on a cost-and-freight basis," said Llewellyn Thompson, State Department ambassador-at-large.

Thompson, former ambassador to Moscow, sat in on the negotiations with a Soviet delegation headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei A. Borisev.

This presumably was what Soviet Premier Khrushchev was talking about when he told a group of visiting American businessmen at a Moscow party Thursday: "I got news today that the grain dealers in America have made a reasonable approach and perhaps we can reach agreement after all."

The Russians had insisted they would pay no more than the prevailing world price for American wheat, and the cost of delivering it to them had been the chief stumbling block.

Roosevelt said he met with representatives of American ship owners and he added: "The American shipping industry will make every effort to facilitate the deal."

Roosevelt said the United States and the Soviet Union had agreed on the framework for negotiations for about 2.5 million tons of wheat for delivery before May 31, 1964.

His statement did not mention

Engineer Denies Sniper Slaying

CONCORD, Mass. (UPI) — A slight, scholarly looking engineer pleaded innocent to a murder charge Friday in the sniper slaying of Benjamin M. Gurley, a nationally known computer expert.

Police accused Allan N. Blumenthal, 36, of Peabody, Mass., of shooting Gurley to death as the 38-year-old electronics engineer ate dinner Thursday night with his wife and seven children.

Blumenthal, a former business associate of Gurley, was picked up in Peabody five hours after the slaying. He was charged with murder after night-long questioning by police.

District Court Judge Otis M. Whitney ordered him held without bail for a hearing Nov. 22.

Received Threats

Gurley was slain less than a month after he told police he feared for his life. Police said Gurley had "had trouble" with Blumenthal over a period of time and had complained that Blumenthal had threatened to shoot him.

the amount the Soviet Union's East European satellites are expected to purchase, but it was understood they probably would want 1.5 million tons.

The four million tons would be equivalent to about 130 million bushels and would involve about $250 million.

The U.S. government is setting maximum rates that may be charged by American shippers, based on the type of ship and generally pegged to current rates.

As previously announced, the proposed wheat sales will be in exchange for U.S. dollars or gold, a Commerce Department official said.

The official estimated that under the freight rate guidelines a ship of the Liberty class would charge about $22.50 a ton to carry the grain from the United States to a Soviet port on the Black Sea. A Liberty ship carries about 10,000 tons.

Gurley, described by associates as "brilliant," was killed by a single shot fired through the kitchen window of his modest two-story home in this fashionable Boston suburb.

Officials said the slug struck him over the left eye and "almost tore his head off." He slumped to the floor as his stunned wife Betty and their children looked on.

Police, who had been conducting nightly checks on the Gurley residence since Gurley reported his fears, immediately began looking for Blumenthal. He was taken into custody shortly before midnight as he drove into his driveway in Peabody.

Shotgun Found
Police said a shotgun was found in the trunk of Blumenthal's car.

Gurley had worked with Blumenthal at Digital Equipment Co. in Maynard until 10 months ago, when he left the firm to become vice president of Information International, Inc., also of Maynard.

Blumenthal is still employed at Digital Equipment as a design engineer.

Legion Party

The American Legion Home on Forsythe Avenue will be the scene of a Veterans' Day Party tonight in celebration of the national holiday Monday.

J. B. Bradley, commander of the L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, said that all Legionnaires, their wives and auxiliary members are invited and urged to attend. The shindig gets underway at 7 p.m., with refreshments to be served. Bradley said the party is being given in conjunction with the legion's drive for new members.

Police Activity Unusually Quiet In Twin Cities

Police activities were unusually quiet in the Twin Cities Friday, with a couple of minor thefts under investigation.

Chief James C. Kelly, Monroe, said his department apprehended a 16-year-old Negro juvenile in J. C. Penney Company on DeSiard Street for shoplifting. When taken into custody, he reportedly had a thirteen dollar knit sweater in his possession. The youth was being held in the parish detention home until juvenile court can meet.

Monroe officers were also checking the reported burglary of the Missouri Pacific railroad ticket office located at the MOP depot which occurred sometime Thursday night. Entrance was gained through a side window, and a desk drawer was jimmied open but nothing was reported taken.

West Monroe police were searching for a 1961-model Chevrolet sedan which was reported stolen from Miller's Used Car Lot in the 100 block of Cypress Friday evening. The white and green vehicle bore 1963 Miss. license No. S-8423.

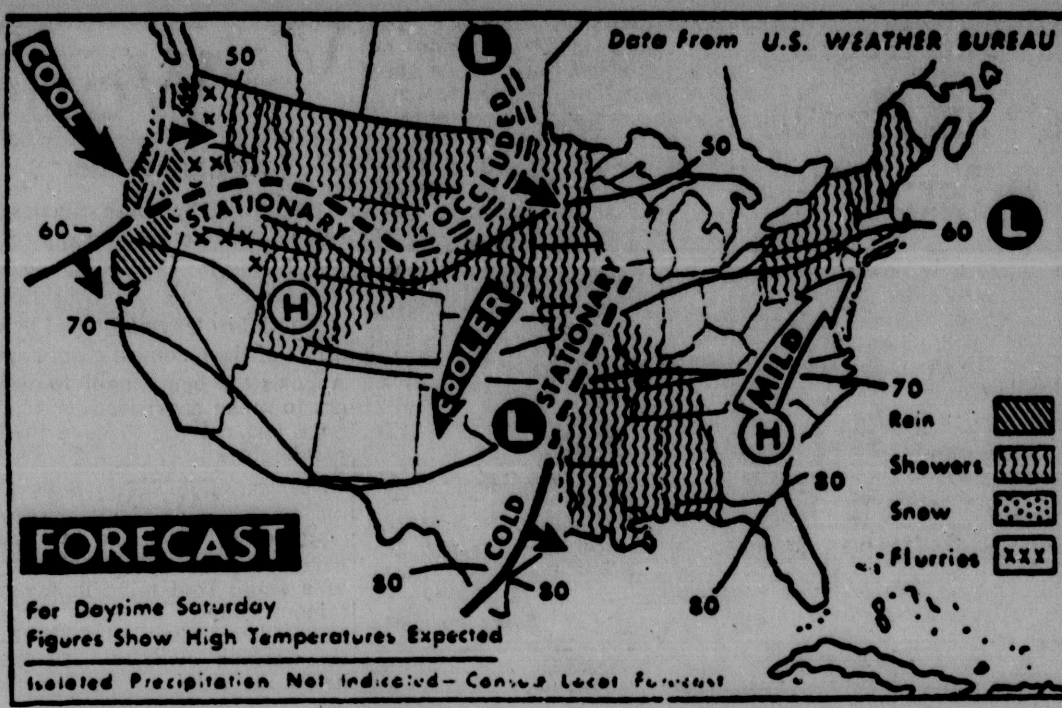

Lowell Thomas Seized With Mild Heart Condition

DETROIT (UPI) — Famed news commentator Lowell Thomas suffered a mild heart attack and will be hospitalized for an indefinite period, his doctors said Friday.

Thomas, 71, complained of feeling ill and was admitted to Henry Ford Hospital early Thursday. Tests disclosed the heart attack.

liced commercial areas. It is beneath the West Side Highway, next to the Hudson River luxury piers, and near the heavily traveled entrance to Lincoln Tunnel.

The holdup occurred shortly before 1 p.m. on a gray, rainy day. It went off with a minimum of confusion and was heralded when one of the bandits stepped up to the halted diamond truck with a gun in his hand and announced tritely but forcefully:

"This is a stickup."

Six men inside the diamond truck were unarmed — a company policy. They were handcuffed and forced into the bandits' panel truck. The robbers then drove the diamond truck three blocks south, looting it and abandoning it at 38th Street and 12th Avenue.

The diamond truck was owned by the AAA Jewelers Service. Its driver, Louis Moots, Ridgefield, N.J., had picked up 2,000 envelopes from the firm's office on West 47th Street, center of the nation's diamond trading. Each envelope contained one or more gems deposited with the firm by dealers in the area.

The glittering fortune was being taken downtown to the AAA's Nassau Street offices, for subsequent distribution to purchasers.

The police estimate of the loot — subject to final inventory — made it the largest jewel heist ever pulled in New York, according to the $900,000 robbery of a Manhattan diamond firm in 1961.

However, it did not approach in magnitude the $1,750,000 gem robbery of a Pompano Beach, Fla., jewelry store in 1962. Largest cash holdup in American history was the $1,551,277 stickup Aug. 14, 1962, of a U.S. mail truck near Boston.

The diamond truck was headed south on 12th Avenue when the bandits panel truck with New Jersey license plates pulled alongside at 41st Street, forcing it to the curb. The employees in the diamond truck told detectives the disguise of two of the bandits completely disarmed them — they thought they were being halted by real policemen for a traffic violation.

The two disguised bandits, however, quickly made their mission clear as they approached the diamond truck from either side and announced the holdup.

The employees in the diamond truck were transferred at gunpoint to the bandits' vehicle, which had its back door chained shut to impede escape. After the bandits drove off through the front of the panel truck and summoned police.

The robbery victims, who serve as jewelry messengers for a gem-distributing firm, said they recognized two of the bandits as the pair who stopped their truck several weeks ago, as it traveled its regular route downtown on the West Side.

At that time the two bandits wore uniforms and the men in the diamond truck thought they were policemen stopping them for a traffic violation.

"But they merely looked us over and let us go," said one of the messengers, Thomas Savoca.

However, this time the bandits obviously meant business.

Savoca recounted: "They warned us not to look directly at them, but to keep our faces turned away. One told us not to 'do anything silly because if you do you'll get hurt—don't, and you won't even be tickled.'"

The diamond messengers said the tempo of activity in the area continued unabated while the holdup took place.

"I'm sure that workers on construction jobs near the scene must have seen the activity around the truck. But maybe they didn't want to get involved, or maybe they didn't realize what was happening," one said.

Negro Children Burn To Death In Ruston Fire

RUSTON (Special) — Five Negro children burned to death in their beds near here Friday night as a fire swept through the frame house in which they were sleeping alone.

The dead youngsters, all brothers and sisters, were the children of Vidalia Buffett who lived alone in the tenant house about one half mile from Ruston on the Chatham Road. They were listed as Juliette Baldwin, 10; Hattie Baldwin, 9; Hattie Marie Baldwin, 8; Nell Baldwin, 7; and Darrol Baldwin, 3. Reports indicate that their mother was divorced from Hosea Baldwin Sr., their father.

According to investigating officials of the Lincoln Parish sheriff's department the children were alone in the house, sleeping in two beds when the fire struck. The cause of the blaze was undetermined. However, authorities noted that the structure was fitted with an open fireplace.

Dr. J. M. Johnson, assistant parish coroner, said the bodies were cremated beyond recognition. All were recovered he stated and taken to King's Funeral Home in Ruston.

The mother and possibly one or two other children were not at the house at the time of the tragedy according to reports.

The Ruston Fire Department answered the alarm around 8:50 p.m. but could do little until the flames subsided. One observer noted that the blaze consumed the house like a "piece of kindling wood."

Parish officials reported that the Buffetts house was the only structure involved. They said the building was in a sharecropper settlement but the closest house was approximately 150 feet away.

Wheat Deals Will Be Left Up To Firms

ion provided that the actual price of the wheat and shipping costs would be determined in negotiations between U.S. grain dealers and a Russian grain purchasing team.

There were strong indications that the Russians would work out agreements with the private American grain dealers on the actual price and other terms.

Roosevelt did not reveal the name of the grain dealer nor the freight cost.

A Commerce Department spokesman said no applications for shipment of wheat to Russia were pending but he said at least one grain dealer already had started negotiations with the Russian representatives.

This was after the State Department announced late in the day that an understanding has been reached with Soviet negotiators under which American dealers will quote a delivered-in-Russia price for their surplus wheat.

Thus was a solution proposed for the problem presented by President Kennedy's requirement that American wheat be carried in American ships whenever possible.

American freighters charge anywhere from 20 to 30 per cent more than foreign vessels, because of their higher labor costs and the Russians had balked at paying the extra freight.

Under the agreement reached after three weeks of talks, the U.S. government will step aside and let American dealers quote a price based on the cost of delivering wheat in Soviet ports.

This means the Americans will have to take their chances on a smaller profit if they have to ship American, but a better profit if the Maritime Administration certifies that no American vessels are available and allows them to use foreign ships.

A government official explained that 50 per cent of each exporter's shipment may be carried in cheaper foreign vessels, and the remaining 50 per cent need go to American ships only if they are available at rates set by the government.

State Department officials said it will be up to the Commerce Department, which issues export licenses, and the Maritime Administration to determine whether American ships are available at the prescribed rates.

The breakthrough was announced after a meeting between the Soviet mission and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

"We reached an understanding with the Soviet trade delegation that American grain dealers will make offers of sales of American wheat to the Soviet purchasing commission on a cost-and-freight basis," said Llewellyn Thompson, State Department ambassador-at-large.

Thompson, former ambassador to Moscow, sat in on the negotiations with a Soviet delegation headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei A. Borisov.

This presumably was what Soviet Premier Khrushchev was talking about when he told a group of visiting American businessmen at a Moscow party Thursday: "I got news today that the grain dealers in America have made a reasonable approach and perhaps we can reach agreement after all."

The Russians had insisted they would pay no more than the prevailing world price for American wheat, and the cost of delivering it to them had been the chief stumbling block.

Roosevelt said he met with representatives of American ship owners and he added: "The American shipping industry will make every effort to facilitate the deal."

Roosevelt said the United States and the Soviet Union had agreed on the framework for negotiations for about 2.5 million tons of wheat for delivery before May 31, 1964.

COMPUTER EXPERT KILLED Engineer Denies Sniper Slaying

CONCORD, Mass. (UPI) — A slight, scholarly looking engineer pleaded innocent to a murder charge Friday in the sniper slaying of Benjamin M. Gurley, a nationally known computer expert.

Police accused Allan N. Blumenthal, 36, of Peabody, Mass., of shooting Gurley to death as the 38-year-old electronics engineer ate dinner Thursday night with his wife and seven children.

Blumenthal, a former business associate of Gurley, was picked up in Peabody five hours after the slaying. He was charged with murder after night-long questioning by police.

District Court Judge Otis M. Whitney ordered him held without bail for a hearing Nov. 22.

Received Threats

Gurley was slain less than a month after he told police he feared for his life. Police said Gurley had "had trouble" with Blumenthal over a period of time and had complained that Blumenthal had threatened to shoot him.

Blumenthal is still employed at Digital Equipment Co. in Maynard until 10 months ago, when he left the firm to become vice president of Information International, Inc., also of Maynard.

Gurley, described by associates as one of the world's finest digital engineers, recently invented, designed and built one of the most advanced electronic computers, the PDT-1, in three months.

The amount the Soviet Union's

East European satellites are expected to purchase, but it was understood they probably would want 1.5 million tons.

The four million tons would be equivalent to about 130 million bushels and would involve about $250 million.

The U.S. government is setting maximum rates that may be charged by American shippers, based on the type of ship and generally pegged to current rates.

As previously announced, the proposed wheat sales will be in exchange for U.S. dollars or gold, a Commerce Department official said.

The official estimated that under the freight rate guidelines a ship of the Liberty class would charge about $22.50 a ton to carry the grain from the United States to a Soviet port on the Black Sea. A Liberty ship carries about 10,000 tons.

Chips From The Stump

Michot

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — To a group of supporters here Friday, gubernatorial candidate Louis J. Michot, Jr. said he favored the idea of attracting new industry to Louisiana, but added "before starting such a program, I would want to assist in every way possible, the hundreds of plants and industries now in our state, to find larger markets for the products they have to sell."

Michot said, "As governor, I would insist that any vast industrial development plan be held off until our own industries were adequately promoted. I think a 'Buy Louisiana' campaign should be launched, and publicly given to products we produce. After all, many of our industries and manufacturing plants have been located in the state and paid taxes here for years. By helping them to expand their markets, greater sales would not only benefit our economy, but would possibly provide more jobs for our people as well."

"I feel we are duty-bound to support state-located industry first, and certainly I would insist that wherever possible all state purchases be Louisiana-made products, and in state construction, Louisiana-made materials be used."

"My Chamber of Commerce experience has taught me that a healthy economy comes not from grand dreams for the future, but from developing and promoting what you have. By helping Louisiana's present industry, we may not only create new jobs, but may very well be saving the jobs of many now employed in plants and factories across the state."

McKeithen

VIDALIA (Special) — Midway in a four-day stump tour, gubernatorial candidate John McKeithen said here Friday that, "Louisianans are joining our cause by the hundreds every day because they know that we are representing government answerable to them rather than a handful of chosen people."

McKeithen stated, "Day in and day out, campaigning has been gratifying as citizens in every part of Louisiana and from every walk of life have come up to us and told us that they were with us because we dared to speak out against both federal intervention into Louisiana affairs and the sorry government we've had in Baton Rouge for the past four years."

"Citizens have expressed to us shock and indignation at the way this potentially great state has been misruled by those sworn to govern us," he added. "The Louisiana citizen is tired of sitting back and watching sister states out-strip us in per capita income and in job opportunities. And the Louisiana citizen is weary of government that cloaks its every act with shadows. Annual press conferences by the governor simply won't do the job of keeping our people informed about their government. We represent forthright government that will proudly welcome inquiry by citizens and will hold regularly scheduled press conferences in order that every citizen can know what's going on in his government."

McKeithen went on, "The past sad years have seen the ambition and hopes of its average citizen lost and forgotten while a small group or inner circle profited on the wealth of this state. The average citizen will no longer tolerate this and I believe that he will show his indignation on December 7th."

McKeithen concluded, "Ashton Mouton, Speedy Long and I will dedicate the next four years of our lives to making Louisiana's citizens the beneficiaries of this state's greatness. We're going to get Louisiana moving again so that our young people can hold their heads high with pride. We invite each man and woman who loves this state as we do to join with us. Let us forever end government dedicated to the few. Let us return government to the people where it so rightfully belongs."

Lyons Statement

CHARLESTON, S.C. (Special) — Charlton H. Lyons Sr., Louisiana Republican candidate for Governor, attending a regional meeting of the Republican National Committee, in Charleston, South Carolina, issued the following statement Friday.

"Our Republican leadership from throughout the south which is present here in Charleston today has expressed a most obvious eagerness to begin the 1964 presidential campaign. Our feeling is that the Republican Party will carry the southern states in the presidential race in 1964 for the Republican nominee."

"At this time, it is rather obvious that Senator Goldwater has a clear and well-established lead for that nomination. These Republican leaders are reasonably confident that their effort in 1964 will be the key factor in electing a Republican president next year."

"The balance of the power lies with the southern states, and this Republican trend in the south indicates that our feelings are justified in that Mr. Kennedy will be a one-term president. We are of the opinion that 1964 is a Republican year and that the one-party system in the south is almost over."

Morrison

LAKE CHARLES (Special) — Gubernatorial candidate Del. LeSeps Morrison Friday pledged an all out effort to make the Louisiana Intracoastal Seaway project a reality.

Speaking to a meeting of Lake Charles industrial leaders, Morrison said completion of the project would link the ports of Lake Charles, Morgan City, Baton Rouge and New Orleans with — a lateral deep water canal which would also serve as a deep sea artery connecting every section of rich south and southwest Louisiana to the nations of the world.

Morrison said the Louisiana Intracoastal Seaway Association project — is the type investment needed for our future development and the type project which will get the wholehearted backing of the Morrison-Claude Duval ticket.

He added "Many people seem to have overlooked the fact that the government signed a 10 year contract with 19 Latin American nations. I am proud to have been one of the authors of that agreement known as the Alliance for Progress."

Under the program the U.S. is putting up $20 billion and member Latin American nations $80 billion to improve social and economic conditions.

Louisiana is situated at the crossroads of this fantastic undertaking Morrison said and the LISA project can be the front door to this new trade frontier supplementing the facilities of our port cities.

He reminded that industry goes where it can find fuel power water and markets.

Under the $100 billion Alliance for Progress program the opportunity for new and growing markets is unlimited, Morrison said.

"Unfortunately Louisiana in the last 20 years has never had an administration that could look to the future with the slightest idea of our states tremendous potential," he charged.

"Past administrators have been too busy fattening themselves and their cronies to worry about our social and economic progress."

Kirkpatrick

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — Independent gubernatorial candidate Claude Kirkpatrick, in a meeting with supporters in his New Orleans headquarters called on the voters of Louisiana to look behind the expensive advertising campaigns being put on by some of the gubernatorial candidates and find the real capabilities of the man.

"Some of the candidates say they are going to reduce taxes millions of dollars per year and increase expenditures by tens of millions," he said. "Anyone with any study of these statements, knows it cannot be done and still maintain a balanced budget."

"This causes concern as to the sincerity of many other promises being made. What we need in Louisiana politics is less promises and more businesslike performance."

"My only promise to the people of Louisiana is that I will give them an honest, sincere administration, based in the knowledge I have in the many years I have had in government and business. I will have a balanced budget by taking care of the most important things first. I will eliminate waste and unneeded personnel. Vote for the man best qualified for the office of governor of Louisiana and not for the one that makes the biggest show of money spent."

Kirkpatrick announced Friday the appointment of Felix Brown of Farmville to the position of Union Parish campaign manager. Brown is active in real estate and insurance in the Farmville area.

Kennon

Gubernatorial candidate Robert F. Kennon said Friday that he has "more friends in more places and more good solid support throughout Louisiana than any other candidate in this race."

He said the only man who had more personal contact in Louisiana than he did was "Uncle Earl" who was still living there would be a real contest in Louisiana on December 7th date of the first Democratic primary.

"But with him out of the picture, don't be surprised with what might happen," he said. Asked if he was predicting a first primary victory, Kennon replied: "Don't be surprised."

Kennon said the issues in the current race "are clear cut. The people of Louisiana want their next governor to be able to give the state responsible government while standing fast against the Washington socialists." He said he was the only candidate in the race with a solid record on both points.

"We ran a good shop in Baton Rouge as your governor from 1952 to 1956. Industrial development, institutional reforms and good management of the taxpayers' dollar hit new peaks during that period. Just sum it up as good government based on honesty, integrity and thrift," he said.

"And everybody knows my position on the national issue — and don't let anyone tell you that the national issue has no place in the Louisiana governor's race. When our national government 'tries to foist unbearable dictatorship upon our state, then it is of vital concern to our people," Kennon declared.

Kennon has said repeatedly during the campaign that as the next governor of the state he would help keep Louisiana's 10 electoral votes from being cast for the re-nomination of President Kennedy and take an active part nationally to prevent his re-election. He also opposed Kennedy in 1960.

"I don't have a mad dog attitude toward the presidency of the United States," Kennon said. "I respect the office but not the man, and I will work toward his early retirement."

Soviets Seek To Veer U.N. Disarm Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union sought Friday to change U.N. guidelines intended to chart the way for further agreement on disarmament at the 18-nation conference in Geneva early next year.

In a move that could upset the appeal in U.N. disarmament debate, the Soviet Union circulated proposed amendments to a resolution sponsored by 46 nations in the assembly's Main Political Committee.

The amendments were not submitted formally pending consultation with the sponsor nations.

Ten Latin American delegations submitted a resolution Friday night that would have the assembly express hope that the countries of Latin America would begin a study of a proposal to bar nuclear weapons from that region.

Five of the sponsors are Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and Mexico, whose presidents made the denuclearization proposal in a declaration last spring. The other five are Costa Rica, El Salvador, Haiti, Panama and Uruguay.

Some sponsoring delegates said the Soviet Union and the United States both were ready to vote for the resolution but in Latin America it would lack the support of Colombia, Cuba, Guatemala and Venezuela.

Western diplomats were puzzled by the Soviet move which was regarded as virtually certain to meet determined U.S. and British opposition.

Under the Soviet amendments the resolution would urge the Geneva conference to make efforts to seek agreement on measures which could serve to reduce international tensions, lessen the possibility of war and facilitate agreement on general and complete disarmament. Monroe Negro Gets Six Months Jail Term, Fine

Judge W. M. Harper sentenced a Monroe Negro to six months in jail for unauthorized use of an automobile and fined him an additional $30 for no driver's license in Monroe city court Friday.

The Negro drawing the sentence was Marshall Lee Hackney, 3310 Church St. The judge also fined two Negroes $100 each for theft by shoplifting and nolle prossed a theft count against Negro Jimmie Davis Jr., 1012 Columbia Ave. Those fined include Edward Robinson, Oak Ridge, and Otis Presley, 2804 Renwick St. A count of carrying concealed weapons against Robinson, was nolle prossed.

A charge of theft by check against Mrs. Malcolm James, 3407 Breville St., was nolle prossed when she promised the court to make the check good and pay $10 court costs. A Ruston man, Jimmie Meeks, was that the Geneva negotiators stick to disarmament and keep hands off international questions of a political nature.

The amendments knock out of the resolution specific directives to seek agreement on measures of reducing the risk of war by accident or surprise attack, and for halting the spread of weapons.

The Russians would also eliminate reference to previous negotiations having brought about changes in position and narrowing of differences that would permit prospects of further constructive negotiation.

Garry Don Jenny, Rt. 1, Sterling, was fined $10 for speeding, while five were fined $30 and costs for reckless driving. They include Johnnie Johnson, Negro, 1804 Powell Ave.; Marion Davis, 905 Columbia St.; Donald W. Myers, 505 N. 8th St.; West Monroe; Margaret Sheppard, 500 Lula St.; and Tina Barfield, 3004 D'Arbonne Rd.

Other traffic counts handled include two for running red lights, three fined for running stop signs, three for improper mufflers, one for improper passing, one fined $12 for both making an improper left turn and driving the wrong way on a one-way street, four fined $30 for following too close in traffic, five fined the same amount for failure to yield right-of-way, one similar count nolle prossed and one forfeited a $13 bond for overparking.

Vatican Sees No Bias Basis

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—An official Ecumenical Council document published Friday declared there is no Biblical basis for the hatred or persecution of the Jewish people because of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

The American Jewish Congress (AJC) hailed the document as "historic" and said it "may well augur a new era in Christian-Jewish relations."

Copies of the document, drafted by the Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity, were distributed to the council fathers meeting in St. Peter's Basilica. The document said it is "unjust" to call Jews God-killers or accused by God, since all mankind must share the responsibility for the crucifixion.

The text of the document, which is proposed as the fourth chapter of an eventual document on Ecumenism (church principles and practices), was not made public. But a communiqué describing its contents was released by the secretariat headed by Augustine Cardinal Bea of Germany.

The communiqué said that the "part the Jewish leaders of Christ's day played in bringing about the crucifixion does not exclude the guilt of all mankind."

"The personal guilt of these leaders cannot be charged to the whole Jewish people, either of His time or today," it said.

The communiqué made clear the council document does not propose to deal with the various causes of anti-Semitism.

5 Scholars Are Given Out

RUSTON (Special) — Five chemical engineering students of Louisiana Tech have been announced as recipients of scholarships by W. W. Chew, head of the chemical engineering department here.

Two seniors have received awards from the Universal Oil Products Co. of Des Plaines, Ill. They are Thomas Arrington Jr., of Columbia, granted $250, and James A. Wright of Springhill, $125.

The Louisiana division of the Dow Chemical Co. at Plaquemine presented scholarships to three juniors. They are James H. Blunt of Manfield, $165; Edgar L. Chase of Waterproof, $165, and William Gates, Gurdon, Ark., $170.

Chips From The Stump

Michot

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — To a group of supporters here Friday, gubernatorial candidate Louis J. Michot, Jr. said he favored the idea of attracting new industry to Louisiana, but added "before starting such a program, I would want to assist in every way possible, the hundreds of plants and industries now in our state, to find larger markets for the products they have to sell."

Michot said, "As governor, I would insist that any vast industrial development plan be held off until our own industries were adequately promoted. I think a 'Buy Louisiana' campaign should be launched, and publicity given to products we produce. After all, many of our industries and manufacturing plants have been located in the state and paid taxes here for years. By helping them to expand their markets, greater sales would not only benefit our economy, but would possibly provide more jobs for our people as well."

"I feel we are duty-bound to support state-located industry first, and certainly I would insist that wherever possible all state products, and in state construction, Louisiana-made materials be used."

"My Chamber of Commerce experience has taught me that a healthy economy comes not from grand dreams for the future, but from developing and promoting what you have. By helping Louisiana's present industry, we may not only create new jobs, but may very well be saving the jobs of many now employed in plants and factories across the state."

McKeithen

VIDALIA (Special) — Midway in a four-day stump tour, gubernatorial candidate John McKeithen said here Friday that "Louisianians are joining our cause by the hundreds every day because they know that we are representing government answerable to them rather than a handful of chosen people."

McKeithen stated, "Day in and day out, campaigning has been gratifying as citizens in every part of Louisiana and from every walk of life have come up to us and told us that they were with us because we dared to speak out against both federal intervention into Louisiana affairs and the sorry government we've had in Baton Rouge for the past four years."

"Citizens have expressed to me shock and indignation at the way this potentially great state has been mistreated by the sworn to govern us," he added. "The Louisiana citizen is tired of sitting back and watching sister states out-strip us in per capita income and in job opportunities. And the Louisiana citizen is weary of government that cloaks its every act with shadows. Annual press conferences by the governor simply won't do the job of keeping our people informed about their government. We represent forthright government in that will proudly welcome inquiry by citizens and will hold regularly scheduled press conferences in order that every citizen can know what's going on in his government."

McKeithen went on, "The past sad years have seen the ambition and hopes of its average citizen lost and forgotten while a small group or inner circle profited on the wealth of this state. The average citizen will no longer tolerate this and I believe that he will show his indignation on December 7th."

McKeithen concluded, "Ash-ton Mouton, Speedy Long and I will dedicate the next four years of our lives to making Louisiana's citizens the beneficiaries of this state's greatness. We're going to get Louisiana moving again so that our young people can hold their heads high with pride. We invite each man and woman who loves this state as we do to join with us. Let us forever end government dedicated to the few. Let us return government to the people where it so rightfully belongs."

Lyons Statement

CHARLESTON, S.C. (Special) — Charlton H. Lyons Sr., Louisiana Republican candidate for Governor, attending a regional meeting of the Republican National Committee, in Charleston, South Carolina, issued the following statement Friday.

"Our Republican leadership from throughout the south which is present here in Charleston today has expressed a most obvious eagerness to begin the 1964 presidential campaign. Our feeling is that the Republican Party will carry the southern states in the presidential race in 1964 for the Republican nominee."

"At this time, it is rather obvious that Senator Goldwater has a clear and well-established lead for that nomination. These Republican leaders are reasonably confident that their effort in 1964 will be the key factor in electing a Republican president next year."

"The balance of the power lies with the southern states, and this Republican trend in the south indicates that our feelings are justified in that Mr. Kennedy will be a one-term president. We are of the joint opinion that 1964 is a Republican year and that the one-party system in the south is almost over."

Morrison

LAKE CHARLES (Special) — Gubernatorial candidate DeLesseps Morrison Friday pledged an all-out effort to make the Louisiana Intracoastal Seaway project a reality.

Speaking to a meeting of Lake Charles industrial leaders, Morrison said completion of the project would link the ports of Lake Charles, Morgan City, Baton Rouge and New Orleans with — a lateral deep water canal which would also serve as a deep sea artery connecting every section of rich south and southwest Louisiana to the nations of the world.

Morrison said the Louisiana Intracoastal Seaway Association project — is the type investment needed for our future development and the type project which will get the wholehearted backing of the Morrison-Claude Duval ticket.

He added "many people seem to have overlooked the fact that the government signed a 10-year contract with 19 Latin American nations. I am proud to have been one of the authors of that agreement known as the Alliance for Progress."

Under the program the U.S. is putting up $20 billion and member Latin American nations $80 billion to improve social and economic conditions.

Louisiana is situated at the crossroads of this fantastic undertaking Morrison said and the LISA project can be the front door to this new trade frontier supplementing the facilities of our port cities.

He reminded that industry goes where it can find fuel power water and markets.

Under the $100 billion Alliance for Progress program the opportunity for new and growing markets is unlimited, Morrison said.

"Unfortunately Louisiana in the last 20 years has never had an administration that could look to the future with the slightest idea of our states tremendous potential," he charged. "Past administrators have been too busy fattening themselves and their cronies to worry about our social and economic progress."

Kirkpatrick

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — Independent gubernatorial candidate Claude Kirkpatrick, in a meeting with supporters in his New Orleans headquarters called on the voters of Louisiana to look behind the expensive advertising campaigns being put on by some of the gubernatorial candidates and find the real capabilities of the man.

"Some of the candidates say they are going to reduce taxes millions of dollars per year and increase expenditures by tens of millions," he said. "Anyone with any study of these statements, knows it cannot be done and still maintain a balanced budget."

"This causes concern as to the sincerity of many other promises being made. What we need in Louisiana politics is less promises and more businesslike performance."

"My only promise to the people of Louisiana is that I will give them an honest, sincere administration, based in the knowledge I have in the many years I have had in government and business. I will have a balanced budget by taking care of the most important things first. I will eliminate waste and unneeded personnel. Vote for the man best qualified for the office of governor of Louisiana and not for the one that makes the biggest show of money spent."

Kirkpatrick announced Friday the appointment of Felix Brown of Farmville to the position of Union Parish campaign manager. Brown is active in real estate and insurance in the Farmville area.

Kennon

Gubernatorial candidate Robert F. Kennon said Friday that he has "more friends in more places and more good solid support throughout Louisiana than any other candidate in this race."

He said the only man who had more personal contact in Louisiana than he did was "the late Earl K. Long. And if Uncle Earl was still living there would be a real contest in Louisiana on December 7," date of the first Democratic primary.

"But with him out of the picture, don't be surprised with what might happen," he said. Asked if he was predicting a first primary victory, Kennon replied: "Don't be surprised."

Kennon said the issues in the current race "are clear cut. The people of Louisiana want their next governor to be able to give the state responsible government while standing fast against the Washington socialists." He said he was the only candidate in the race with a solid record on both points.

"We ran a good shop in Baton Rouge as your governor from 1952 to 1956. Industrial development, institutional reforms and good management of the taxpayers' dollar hit new peaks during that period. Just sum it up as good government based on honesty, integrity and thrift," he said.

"And everybody knows my position on the national issue — and don't let anyone tell you that the national issue has no place in the Louisiana governor's race. When our national government 'tries to foist unbearable dictatorship upon our state, then it is of vital concern to our people.' Kennon declared. Kennon has said repeatedly during the campaign that as the next governor of the state he would help keep Louisiana's 10 electoral votes from being cast for the re-nomination of President Kennedy and take an active part nationally to prevent his re-election. He also opposed Kennedy in 1960.

"I don't have a mad dog attitude toward the presidency of the United States," Kennon said. "I respect the office but not the man, and I will work toward his early retirement."

Soviets Seek To Veer U.N. Disarm Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union sought Friday to change U.N. guidelines intended to chart the way for further agreement on disarmament at the 18-nation conference in Geneva early next year.

In a move that could upset the apparent in U.N. disarmament debate, the Soviet Union circulated proposed amendments to a resolution sponsored by 46 nations in the assembly's Main Political Committee.

The amendments were not submitted formally pending consultation with the sponsor nations.

Ten Latin-American delegations submitted a resolution Friday night that would have the assembly express hope that the countries of Latin America would begin a study of a proposal to bar nuclear weapons from that region.

Five of the sponsors are Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and Mexico, whose presidents made the denuclearization proposal in a declaration last spring. The other five are Costa Rica, El Salvador, Haiti, Panama and Uruguay.

Some sponsoring delegates said the Soviet Union and the United States both were ready to vote for the resolution but in Latin America it would lack the support of Colombia, Cuba, Guatemala and Venezuela.

Western diplomats were puzzled by the Soviet move which was regarded as virtually certain to meet determined U.S. and British opposition.

Under the Soviet amendments the resolution would urge the Geneva conference to make efforts to seek agreement on measures which could serve to reduce international tensions, lessen the possibility of war and facilitate agreement on general and complete disarmament. Wisconsin Bar Disfavors JFK's Judge Appointee

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A majority of Wisconsin attorneys, responding to an unprecedented poll conducted by the state bar association, has registered the opinion that Wisconsin's Democratic national committee is unqualified to be a federal judge.

President Kennedy named David Rabinowitz, a labor attorney from Sheboygan, in eastern Wisconsin, to be U.S. district judge for the western district, to succeed the late Patrick T. Stone. The Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on confirmation was continued after a spokesman for the American Bar Association registered opposition.

The state bar, which undertook to poll Wisconsin's 5,055 attorneys members, announced Friday that 3,530 responded, and that of these 2,040 said they did not consider Rabinowitz qualified, 793 gave the opinion that he was qualified and 697 expressed no opinion.

Some Democratic leaders bitterly contested the poll, forced a special meeting of the integrated group's board of governors to reconsider it, and when the action was affirmed, ordered temporarily restraining tabulation. However, the high court vacated the injunction Thursday on the bar's plea that the poll was in the public interest.

The results are being forwarded to Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Kennedy's Life As A Reporter

NORFOLK V.A. (AP) — As a Harvard college paper reporter, John Fitzgerald Kennedy was a great politician.

"I got him on the Crimson," Harvard graduate Blair Clark, vice president and general manager of CBS News, told the Sigma Delta Chi journalism convention today. "He showed up once — to vote for me for staff president." Clark said. "Since I'm in a government-regulated industry, I won't say whether I'll return the favor."

Monroe Negro Gets Six Months Jail Term, Fine

Judge W. M. Harper sentenced a Monroe Negro to six months in jail for unauthorized use of an automobile and fined him an additional $30 for no driver's license in Monroe city court Friday.

The Negro drawing the sentence was Marshall Lee Hackney, 3310 Church St. The judge also fined two Negroes $100 each for theft by shoplifting and nolle prossed a theft count against Negro Jimmie Davis Jr., 1012 Columbia Ave. Those fined include Edward Robinson, Oak Ridge, and Otis Presley, 2804 Renwick St. A count of carrying concealed weapons against Robinson, was nolle prossed.

A charge of theft by check against Mrs. Malcolm James, 3407 Breville St., was nolle prossed when she promised the court to make the check good and pay $100 court costs. A Russian man, Jimmie Meeks, was that the Geneva negotiators stick to disarmament and keep hands off international questions of a political nature.

The amendments knock out of the resolution specific directives to seek agreement on measures of reducing the risk of war by accident or surprise attack, and for halting the spread of weapons.

The Russians would also eliminate reference to previous negotiations having brought about changes in position and narrowing of differences that would permit prospects of further constructive negotiation.

fining $100 and costs for theft by check in the amount of $35, while two others were fined $200 each on similar counts. Faye Jordan, 2502 S. Grand St., was fined $200 for theft by check valued at $16.38 while Billy A. Robertson, no permanent address, was fined a total of $400 on two counts. The checks cashed by him were valued at $10 and $10.45.

Negro Dan L. Powell, 1008 Short Layton St., was fined $425 and costs for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages but a reckless driving charge against him was nolle prossed.

A simple battery charge against Maurice A. Holley, 801 N. 2nd St., was nolle prossed, while two were fined $30 apiece for public drunkenness, one fined $30 for disturbing the peace, one was sentenced to 90 days on the penal farm for habitual drunkenness and one vagrancy charge was nolle prossed.

Garry Don Jenny, Rt. 1, Sterling, was fined $10 for speeding, while five were fined $30 and costs for reckless driving. They include Johnnie Johnson, Negro, 1804 Powell Ave.; Marion Davis, 905 Columbia St.; Donald W. Myers, 505 N. 8th St.; West Monroe; Margaret Sheppard, 500 Lula St.; and Tina Barfield, 3004 D'Arbonne Rd.

Other traffic counts handled include two for running red lights, three for running stop signs, three for improper passing, one for improper making an improper left turn and driving the wrong way on a one-way street, four fined $30 for following too close in traffic, five fined the same amount for failure to yield right of way, one similar count nolle prossed and one forfeited a $13 bond for overparking.

VOTE 8-4-42-51 FOR A BETTER STATE IT'S UP TO YOU

PHILIP GOLDMAN District Public Relations Assn.

Vatican Sees No Bias Basis

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—An official Ecumenical Council document published Friday declared there is no Biblical basis for the hatred or persecution of the Jewish people because of the crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

The American Jewish Congress (AJC) hailed the document as "historic" and said it "may well augur a new era in Christian-Jewish relations."

Copies of the document, drafted by the Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity, were distributed to the council fathers meeting in St. Peter's Basilica. The document said it is "unjust" to call Jews God-killers or accused by God, since all mankind must share the responsibility for the crucifixion.

The text of the document, which is proposed as the fourth chapter of an eventual document on Ecumenism (church principles and practices), was not made public. But a communiqué describing its contents was released by the secretariat headed by Augustin Cardinal Bea of Germany.

The communiqué said that the "part the Jewish leaders of Christ's day played in bringing about the crucifixion does not exclude the guilt of all mankind."

"The personal guilt of these leaders cannot be charged to the whole Jewish people, either of His time or today," it said.

The communiqué made clear the council document does not propose to deal with the various causes of anti-Semitism.

5 Scholarships Are Given Out

RUSTON (Special) — Five chemical engineering students of Louisiana Tech have been announced as recipients of scholarships by W. W. Chew, head of the chemical engineering department here.

Two seniors have received awards from the Universal Oil Products Co. of Des Plaines, Ill. They are Thomas Arrington Jr., of Columbia, granted $250, and James A. Wright of Springhill, $125.

The Louisiana division of the Dow Chemical Co. at Plaquemine presented scholarships to three juniors. They are James H. Blunt of Manfield, $165; Edgar L. Chase of Waterproof, $165, and William Gates, Gurdon, Ark., $170.

"... Both the contents and the purposes of the document are purely religious," the communiqué said. "It cannot be called pro-Zionist or anti-Zionist since it considers these are political questions and entirely outside its religious scope."

It emphasized that any attempt to use the document to support partisan discussions or particular political claims would be "completely unjustified."

The communiqué said the document — which was two years in preparation — "does indicate that the sacred events of the Bible and, in particular, its account of the crucifixion, cannot give rise to disdain or hatred or persecution of the Jews."

"It is therefore unjust to call this people 'deicide' (God killer) or to consider it cursed by God," the secretariat said. The draft document handed out to the fathers is titled: "The Attitude of Catholics Toward Non-Christians, Particularly Toward the Jews."

The communiqué said one point made by the draft document is "that the responsibility for Christ's death falls upon sinful mankind."

"It was to atone for the sins of every man that the Son of God willingly offered himself on the cross," it said.

Northeast State Hosts 'Cajuns'

Northeast State's Indians host Southwestern Bulldogs at Brown Stadium tonight in one of the Tribe's closest football series.

The game, final Gulf States Conference Contest of the season in Monroe, will begin at 8 p.m.

Northeast State holds a slim one-victory edge over Southwestern with six triumphs to five for the Lafayette-based team. The scores of some recent games reflect the closeness of the series with Southwestern winning by a point, 8-7, in 1960; Northeast winning by seven, 27-20, in 1961; and USL taking an eight-point decision last year, 18-10.

Saturday night's contest will be the first on the home field of either team since 1960. For the past two years the teams have met in State Fair Stadium in Shreveport.

Grid experts rate this year's meeting about even. Southwestern has the better season record, 3-3 to Northeast's 2-5, but Jack Rowan's Indians did a better job against the only common opponent, southeastern Southeastern beat USL, 14-0, in their season opener but managed to beat Northeast by only a 12-7 count.

Southwestern's victories have come over Hardin - Simmons (16-6), Tampa (19-17) and Louisiana College (7-6) and other losses were to Louisiana Tech (45-0) and Southern Mississippi (28-0).

Northeast defeated McMurry (8-7) and Arlington State (21-12) and lost to Chattanooga (9-0), Northwestern (27-19), Mc-

Neese (20-8) and Howard (13-7) in addition to Southeastern. Tonight's game rates as a "must" for both clubs since the loser is very likely to finish in the GSC cellar. USL is 0-2 in the league with McNeese and Northwestern to go while Northeast is 0-3 with Louisiana Tech left. USL pins its hopes on a veteran line and an all-rookie backfield. Three of the Cajuns' starting backs are freshmen while the other backfield regular is a sophomore who never played high school or college football until this season. The line consists of five lettermen, one senior transfer and one freshman.

The Cajun quarterback is Bill Bayard, a 160-pound freshman

who won the job from veteran Lindsey Landry, one of the GSC's finest men - under last season and hero of the USL victory over Northeast. The other frosh backs are halfback Craig Boudreaux and fullback Chester Gosnell.

The sophomore is Lonny Price, a Baton Rouge boy who has taken to football well. He's USL's leading rusher and considered one of the better running backs in the conference.

Northeast is expected to enter the game in excellent physical condition for a change. The team's most celebrated cripple, speedy halfback Ronnie Myrick, has run well in practice after sitting out last week's game with Arlington and barring a last-minute mishap, should be ready for extended duty.

Coach Jack Rowan hopes to get more long runs from his starting halfbacks, all - GSC Ken Newton and freshman Alton Thomas. Newton scampered 58 yards for a touchdown against Arlington and Thomas dashed 69 yards for a score on a punt return.

To run up the middle Rowan has the GSC's leading rusher, senior Willie Ragan. Making a strong bid for an all - GSC berth, Ragan has gained 389 yards.

Mike Cooper has won back the quarterback job from Bookie Shillcutt and will do most of the Northeast passing. He has completed 18 of 40 tosses for 186 yards.

Joe McClain, hobbled most of the year with injuries, will start at left guard in place of Don King, who has been suffering from flu this week. McClain turned in a good game against Arlington, making two blocks on Thomas' punt return.

The game will climax ROTC Day at Northeast with Indian cadets to conduct pre-game and halftime activities. The Fusiliers, the ROTC Band, the Color Guard and the Scabbard & Blade Society will be featured in the activities along with ROTC coed sponsors. The halftime program will conclude with a salute to all veterans at the game by the massed cadet brigade. The program will be dedicated to all veterans in recognition of national Veterans Week.

STRONG GROUND ATTACK

West Monroe Beats Fair Park By 20-6

SHREVEPORT (Special) — West Monroe turned loose a trio of hard-running backs and a strong ground attack to swamp Fair Park 20-6 in a district 1-AAA football game here Friday night.

The Rebels scored in every quarter but the third in taking their fifth victory against four losses. West Monroe touchdowns came on drives of 86, 71 and 45 yards.

Fullback Chuck Crawford broke loose for 28 yards in the first period to score and end an 86-yard touchdown march. Ray Alexander kicked the extra point.

In the 10 play drive Danny Perkins rambled for 18 yards. Crawford got 14, Raymond Frasier got 13 on a third and 11 situation and Alexander added 12 more, before Crawford broke loose to go all the way.

West Monroe threatened once more before the half, getting to the Indian 11 but couldn't score. In the third quarter, the Rebels marched 71 yards and tallied on fullback Bill Edgar's kick made it 14-0.

On the drive Alexander rambled for 31 yards on the first play, then he and Crawford alternated moving the ball to the four where Edgar punched over.

Roger Bell set up the last

West Monroe touchdown in the fourth period, intercepting a Tommy Roberts' pass and returning it to the Fair Park 45.

Sub quarterback Jim Mathis

passed 18 yards to end David Jones for the touchdown, but Alexander's kick was wide to the right.

Following the kickoff, Fair Park marched 67 yards for its only touchdown. Harry Watson was the big gun in the drive.

Alexander paced West Monroe's rushing with 84 yards on 14 carries. Crawford had 61 on 12 and Perkins 42 on 10.

Watson led Fair Park with 96 yards and 19 efforts and Christian had 12 on five.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Forward passing by Tom Flores and the running of Clem Daniels helped the Oakland Raiders whip the Kansas City Chiefs 22-7 Friday night for their fourth straight American Football League victory.

The Raider winning streak is the longest of the AFL season and put Al Davis' club only one game from first-place San Diego in the Western Division. Oakland is 6-4, San Diego 6-2.

It was the fifth straight defeat for the once-proud AFL defending champs and gave them undisputed possession of last place at 2-6-1.

Flores fired touchdown strikes of 24 and 34 yards to his talented split end, Art Powell, in a 19-point second quarter which settled the issue. Mike Mercer kicked 14 and 41-yard field goals.

Daniels, the AFL's No. 2 ball carrier, ripped the Chiefs for 122 yards in 31 carries, 83 in the second half, as the Raiders ate up the clock. Flores hit 12 of 23 passes for 148 yards and Powell grabbed 6 for 84.

Northeast State Hosts 'Cajuns'

Northeast State's Indians host Southwestern Bulldogs at Brown Stadium tonight in one of the Tribe's closest football series.

The game, final Gulf States Conference Contest of the season in Monroe, will begin at 8 p.m.

Northeast State holds a slim one-victory edge over Southwestern with six triumphs to five for the Lafayette-based team. The scores of some recent games reflect the closeness of the series with Southwestern winning by a point, 8-7, in 1960; Northeast winning by seven, 27-20, in 1961; and USL taking an eight-point decision last year, 18-10.

Saturday night's contest will be the first on the home field of either team since 1960. For the past two years the teams have met in State Fair Stadium in Shreveport.

Grid experts rate this year's meeting about even. Southwestern has the better season record, 3-3 to Northeast's 2-5, but Jack Rowan's Indians did a better job against the only common opponent, southeastern. Southeastern beat USL, 14-0, in their season opener but managed to beat Northeast by only a 12-7 count.

Southwestern's victories have come over Hardin - Simmons (16-6), Tampa (19-17) and Louisiana College (7-6) and other losses were to Louisiana Tech (45-0) and Southern Mississippi (28-0).

Northeast defeated McMurry (8-7) and Arlington State (21-12) and lost to Chattanooga (9-0), Northwestern (27-19), Mc-

Neese (20-8) and Howard (13-7) in addition to Southeastern.

Tonight's game rates as a "must" for both clubs since the loser is very likely to finish in the GSC cellar. USL is 0-2 in the league with McNeese and Northwestern to go while Northeast is 0-3 with Louisiana Tech left. USL pins its hopes on a veteran line and an all-rookie backfield. Three of the Cajuns' starting backs are freshmen while the other backfield regular is a sophomore who never played high school or college football until this season. The line consists of five lettermen, one senior transfer and one freshman.

The Cajun quarterback is Bill Bayard, a 160-pound freshman

who won the job from veteran Lindsey Landry, one of the GSC's finest men - under last season and hero of the USL victory over Northeast. The other frosh backs are halfback Craig Boudreaux and fullback Chester Gosnell.

The sophomore is Lonny Price, a Baton Rouge boy who has taken to football well. He's USL's leading rusher and considered one of the better running backs in the conference.

Northeast is expected to enter the game in excellent physical condition for a change. The team's most celebrated cripple, speedy halfback Ronnie Myrick, has run well in practice after sitting out last week's game with Arlington and barring a last-minute mishap, should be ready for extended duty.

Coach Jack Rowan hopes to get more long runs from his starting halfbacks, all - GSC Ken Newton and freshman Alton Thomas. Newton scampered 58 yards for a touchdown against Arlington and Thomas dashed 69 yards for a score on a punt return.

To run up the middle Rowan has the GSC's leading rusher, senior Willie Ragan. Making a strong bid for an all - GSC berth, Ragan has gained 389 yards.

Mike Cooper has won back the quarterback job from Bookie Shilcutt and will do most of the Northeast passing. He has completed 18 of 40 tosses for 186 yards.

Joe McClain, hobbled most of the year with injuries, will start at left guard in place of Don King, who has been suffering from flu this week. McClain turned in a good game against Arlington, making two blocks on Thomas' punt return.

The game will climax ROTC Day at Northeast with Indian cadets to conduct pre-game and halftime activities. The Fusiliers, the ROTC Band, the Color Guard and the Seaboard & Blade Society will be featured in the activities along with ROTC coed sponsors. The halftime program will conclude with a salute to all veterans at the game by the massed cadet brigade. The program will be dedicated to all veterans in recognition of national Veterans Week.

STRONG GROUND ATTACK

West Monroe Beats Fair Park By 20-6

SHREVEPORT (Special) — West Monroe turned loose a trio of hard-running backs and a strong ground attack to swamp Fair Park 20-6 in a district 1-AAA football game here Friday night.

The Rebels scored in every quarter but the third in taking their fifth victory against four losses. West Monroe touchdowns came on drives of 86, 71 and 45 yards.

Fullback Chuck Crawford broke loose for 28 yards in the first period to score and end an 86-yard touchdown march. Ray Alexander kicked the extra point.

In the 10 play drive Danny Perkins rambled for 18 yards, Crawford got 14, Raymond Frasier got 13 on a third and 11 situation and Alexander added 12 more, before Crawford broke loose to go all the way.

West Monroe threatened once more before the half, getting to the Indian 11 but couldn't score. In the third quarter, the Rebels marched 71 yards and tallied on fullback Bill Edgar's kick made it 14-0.

On the drive Alexander rambled for 31 yards on the first play, then he and Crawford alternated moving the ball to the four where Edgar punched over.

Roger Bell set up the last passed 18 yards to end David Jones for the touchdown, but Alexander's kick was wide to the right.

Following the kickoff, Fair Park marched 67 yards for its only touchdown. Harry Watson was the big gun in the drive.

but Roberts passed two yards to halfback Dennis Christian for the score. The PAT kick was wide.

Alexander paced West Monroe's rushing with 84 yards on 14 carries. Crawford had 61 on 12 and Perkins 42 on 10.

Watson led Fair Park with 96 yards and 19 efforts and Christian had 12 on five.

DELHI (Special) — Fort Necessity defeated Central of Delhi, 59-48, in a boys game and the Central girls tripped Fort Necessity, 71-50, in cage tilts here Friday night.

Gallagher led Fort Necessity with 22 points and Billy Williams netted 20 for the Central boys.

Central high scoring girl was Hammonds with 33 and Peggy Winters led the losers with 21.

Summerfield 5
Tops Choudrant

CHOUDRANT (Special) — The Summerfield varsity chugged by Choudrant, 70-60, and the Choudrant B team clipped Summerfield, 36-22, in basketball games here Friday night.

Charles Bishop scored 34 points to lead the varsity winners. Donny Britt hit 26 and Billy Jones netted 22 to lead the losers.

James Owen was high for the B winners with 10 points.

When asked whether he would use Lamonica, a rookie from Notre Dame, if Kemp had "one of those days", Saban answered: "I would use Daryle only if Kemp appeared to be completely off. And by completely off, I don't mean a slow start."

Denver planned to start rookie Don Breaux at quarterback as the result of his four-touchdown effort last week.

Monterey Gains
Cage Victories

MONTEREY (Special) — Monterey swept two basketball games from Central of Book here Friday night. The Monterey boys romped to a 68-40 win and the Monterey cagerettes tripped to a 64-42 victory.

Beverly Morace hit 29 for the winning girls and L. Wilkerson netted 13 for the losers.

Gene Tiffie basketed 21 points for winning boys and Ray Book hit 17 for Central.

Judy Temple was high for the Dodson girls with 20 and Mary Hanson slipped in 18 for the losers.

Dodson Collects
Two Cage Wins

DODSON (Special) — Dodson took a double basketball victory over Atlanta here Friday night. The boys won, 80-47 and the girls galloped by 62-30.

James Box led the winners' scoring with 15 points and Robert Rikard dropped in 23 for the losers.

Finsterwald Ties Ray Floyd In Sinatra Meet

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —Dow Finsterwald and Ray Floyd, both starting badly and finishing strongly, tied for the 36-hole lead Friday in the $50,000 Frank Sinatra Invitational Open Golf Tournament.

Floyd, at 21 the youngest tournament winner on the PGA tour, bogied two of his first three holes, but picked up seven birdies later in the round and shot a 3-under-par 68.

Finsterwald took a double bogey on the first hole, and was three over par going to the fourth tee. He got five birdies the rest of the way and came in with a 69, the same score he had Thursday.

Floyd and Finsterwald were a stroke ahead of Billy Casper who scored a spectacular eagle-2 on the 16th and took a 70. He had a 69 Thursday.

a time with fullback Clifford Linson, and halfback Mike Enis doing most of the carrying. Quarterback Jimmy Gilmer picked up the last eight with a blast through the center of the Ouachita forward wall.

The Lions, suddenly aroused came bursting back following the kickoff for their first tally. Ouachita lost the ball as Slusher punted on fourth down, intercepted quarterback Mike but halfback Ronnie Powell in White's pass to get the ball back at the Ouachita 22.

Again it looked as though the Lions wouldn't move as they faced a fourth down situation on their own 29, and Slusher dropped back into punt formation, but instead of taking the long snap from center, Slusher suddenly didn't have the ball. Instead, fullback Wayne Jensen took a short snap and went the four yards for the important first down.

From this point at the Ouachita 41, the Lions wouldn't be denied and went the rest of the way to pay dirt. Slusher capping the drive with a fifteen yard gallop, after Powell had put the ball at that point on gallops of 18, five, and 15 yards.

Bossier came right back after the kickoff to score in two plays, the final 68 yards coming on a screen pass from White to halfback Neal Prather.

Ouachita came back in the second half, took the opening kickoff of the second half and marching down to the four yard line of the visiting Bearcats before their drive faltered.

Again it was Powell doing much of the running, picking up 31 yards on three carries. With a fourth and goal situation at the four yard line, quarterback Mike Wallace, playing for Slusher who was ejected much to the displeasure of the home fans, was dropped for a four yard loss, and the drive ended with Bossier still leading 21-6.

The Lions made it 21-12 after holding Bossier on the next series of downs. Powell started things off with a 33 yard punt return and Hamilton's running plus some opportunistic penalties kept the drive alive.

Powell got the final two yards on a counter play with 11 minutes remaining in the final period.

From this point, leading by 9 points, Bossier elected to stay on the ground and use as much of his remaining time as possible. A 56 touchdown march used six plays with Enis going 16 for the tally, and later with but a minute left the Bearcats scored again to wrap up the game. This time it was Enis getting the final 14 yards on a shot off left tackle.

Ouachita had one good drive halted in between the Bossier marches, but it was halted as Powell fumbled on the 35.

Unbeaten Rams Take Slim Win

BASTROP (Special) — Bastrop's fighting Rams withstood their pressurized test to defeat the Byrd High Yellow Jackets 19-13 here Friday night and claimed a berth in the Class AA playoffs.

Should Bossier City defeat Woodlawn next week the teams will be tied in district 1-AAA standings, but the Bearcats would take first by virtue gaining more first downs in their 6-6 tie earlier this year.

If Woodlawn wins, Bastrop wins the district.

Either way, the Rams, in their first year under Coach Joe Murray, enter the playoffs since both the first and second place teams are eligible in triple-A this year.

The teams battled through a scoreless first half, but Bastrop went in front 7-0 in the third quarter on fullback John Bailey's 53-yard run. Bailey broke loose after key blocks from Leonard Benoit and Tom Holmer. Holmer added the extra point.

In the same period, Byrd marched 70 yards and scored on Gene Hunt's one-yard plunge. The extra point kick failed.

Bastrop upped its margin to 16 in the fourth quarter on a 42-yard drive. Quarterback Ricky Head passed 15 yards to end Morris Funderburg for the score. Holmer's kick was blocked.

Later in the period Glynn Murphy intercepted a Byrd pass and returned it 35 yards for another touchdown. Again the kick failed.

Byrd scored its last touchdown on a 35-yard push with Hunt going over from the six and Don Dwyant adding the extra point. Bastrop is now 8-0-1 for the

Marion Panthers
In Double Win

MARION (Special) — The Marion Panthers tagged Mer Rouge for two cage victories here Friday night. The boys rumbled to a 74-49 victory and the girls edged by, 37-37.

Bennett Taylor hit the goal for 21 points and Bobby Ragan followed with 29 to be high scorers for the winners. Pau Shaw outdid them both with 29 for the losers.

Alona Benford netted 19 to led the Panther girls and Pam Parker was good for 27 points for the losing girls.

Epps, Kilbourne
Divide Contests

EPSS (Special) — The Epps girls eased to a 51-37 victory over Kilbourne but the Kilbourne boys won, 58-51, over Epps in basketball games here Friday night.

Benny Tannehill hit 20 to lead Epps and Gary Sanders netted 17 for the winners.

Mary Davis scored 20 and Carolyn Butts hit 19 to lead the Epps girls and Donal Edwards score 20 to carry Kilbourne.

Championship
 NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Second-ranked East Jefferson blanked Warren Easton of New Orleans 13-0 Friday night to win the first district 4-AAA championship in the school's history. It was the sixth victory in a row for East Jefferson.

passed 11 yards to halfback Donald Rich for the score. Tallulah scored first, marching 82 yards in the third quarter and sending halfback Woody Cagnolatti scampering the last 32 yards. The extra point kick failed.

On the following kickoff, Ferriday quarterback Fred Fudicer raced 95 yards behind excellent blocking for a touchdown. George Fields put Ferriday ahead 7-6 by kicking the extra point.

Ferriday made no other threats.

Delhi Raps Cats

DELHI (Special) — The Delhi Bears scored twice in the second period and defeated the Winnsboro Wildcats, 14-6, in a District 2-A fight here Friday night.

Myer Irby scored for the Bears on a two yard plunge and a 29 yard dash. Mike Jones kicked both extra points.

Donny Emfinger provided the Wildcat score in the fourth period by going over from two yards out after a 48 yard drive.

Wisner Wins

WISNER (Special) — Hosting Wisner held onto the ball all four quarters long enough to run up a 22-7 victory over Davidson of St. Joseph here Friday night.

Mickey Carroll took the ball on a 35 yard run in the first, ran it to the six and then on the next play went over. Larry Lacheney ran the extra point.

Tommy Ensminger scored next for the winners by plunging over from two and Lacheney again ran the conversion.

In the fourth, Wisner scored two points on a safety when Ensminger tackled opposing quarterback Charles Flint in the end zone.

Darrell Veach passed to Jerry McManus for 10 yards and the last Wisner touchdown in the fourth period.

Davidson scored in the fourth on Charles Flint's pass to Tommy Gregory and Earl Redwine ran the extra point.

Waterproof, 31-0

WATERPROOF (Special) — Waterproof let loose in a touchdown flurry and trampled over Crowline, 31-0, here Friday night.

Mike Hopkins scampered 16 yards for the first tally and second on a four yard plunge.

In the fourth quarter, McManus shot a 27 yard pass to Bill Walker for the TD and Miles Hopkins kicked the extra point.

Walker intercepted a pass in the fourth and returned 60 yards for a score and Howard Walker plunged over the six to wrap the Waterproof night.

Bernice Rolls

ARCADIA (Special) — The Bernice Bears rolled to a 20-7 victory over the Arcadia Hornets here Friday night.

Mike Grafton plunged three yards for the Bear tally in the second period and Roger Simpson kicked the extra point.

Still in the second quarter, Cal Colvin received a 40 yard toss from Ricky Aden for the tally.

Rudy Hearst closed out Bernice touchdowns by receiving a five yard pass from Aden and Simpson kicked the PAT.

Arcadia tallied in the third when Jerry Bond passed 25 yards to Gerald McGuire and Bond added the extra point with a boot.

First Victory

TIOPA, La. (AP) — Buckeye High won its first football game Friday night, beating Tioga 32-6.

Buckeye started playing football last year and the Rapides Parish school dropped all 10 games. This year, Buckeye hadn't won a game until beating Tioga.

The victory was a brother act. Junior quarterback Roger Paulk fired three touchdown passes and his brother, senior quarterback E. L. Paulk, flicked another scoring aerial.

The brothers completed all 10 of their passes for 205 yards.

Bolton Wins

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Richie Golmon scored three touchdowns to lead Bolton of Alexandria to a 27-6 2-AAA district victory over Lake Charles Friday night.

Golmon's markers came on runs of one and 10 yards and a 35-yard pass from quarterback Ken Murchison.

Buddy D'Amico got the other Bolton tally on a 12-yard burst.

Lake Charles scored in the second half, with Buddy Micelli going the final one for the touchdown.

Scoreless Tie
 NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Nicholls and McDonogh, two New Orleans public district triple-A teams, battled to a scoreless deadlock Friday night.

Farmers, 7-6

RAYVILLE (Special) — Farmerville scored first then survived a late Rayville rally to take a trim 7-6 victory here Friday night.

Halfback Joe Albritton capped a 45-yard Farmerville drive by going over from five yards out in the second period. Billy Anderson then kicked what proved to be the all-important extra point.

In the fourth quarter Rayville marched 50 yards and sent fullback Roy Powell over from the one. Powell, however, was stopped short in his extra point run attempt.

Both picked up nine first downs in a hard-fought game which was marred by numerous penalties.

New 2-AA Champs

RUSTON (Special) — Jonesboro-Hodge fought title rival Ruston to a 14-14 draw here Friday night and by virtue of Ruston's 6-6 tie with Neville, the visiting Tigers won the District 2-AA championship.

Jonesboro - Hodge defeated Neville earlier this season.

The hosting Bears led off the scoring when Wayne Parkman dived over from the three to climax a 60-yard drive. Billy Adney booted the extra point.

In the second quarter, Tiger quarterback Phil Marrus sneaked through for the first Jonesboro touchdown and then stepped back to boot the conversion.

In the third quarter, both clubs evened the score. Ruston's Jack Trammill recovered a fumble at the Jonesboro three-yard line and after two plays, Melvin Shows plunged across. Adney again kicked the extra point.

Marrus took over for the Tigers for the second time and passed 18 yards to Johnny Garlington for the touchdown. The quarterback booted the last point.

Panthers Roll

VICKSBURG, Miss. (Special) — Lake Providence rolled over St. Aloysius eleven here Friday night to the tune of 20-12.

Spotting the home team a six-point lead, the visitors who sport a 9-0 record, came roaring back for three tallies and the victory.

Billy Bayles, the fine Panther quarterback evened things up in the second quarter with a 10-yard heave to end Kenneth Firth and the PAT was good to give the Panthers a 7-6 lead.

Johnny Overby ran 25 yards later in the period for another Panther tally, and again the kick was good, giving the Lakers a 14-6 lead at halftime.

Lake Providence came rolling back in the third quarter to put the game out of danger with a 60-yard drive that ended in a third tally. David Clarkson ended the march with a 12-yard burst to pay dirt.

St. Aloysius came back in the final period to pick up the final marker as quarterback Roy Woody hit end Eddie Ray on a 30-yard pass. The kick failed.

Vikings Shell

VIDALIA (Special) — Vidalia's Vikings put the lights out for previously undefeated Oak Grove with a 33-13 shelling at Viking Stadium Friday.

This pushed the once beaten Vikings to their ninth victory, as Oak Grove couldn't find the string to pull off their first victory ever over the lower classed eleven.

The Vikings built up a 20-0 lead at halftime, as Alden Frazier rambled on runs of three and nine yards for two tallies, and Butch Wiggins capped a 70 yard drive with a four yard spring.

Oak Grove came back in the second half to score two touchdowns, one on a 32 yard scamper by Mickey Broadway, the other on a 34 yard interception run by Roger Bowman.

The Vikings scored twice in the final period, as Wiggins found the end zone on a one yard run, and tossed to end Mike Greer for eight yards.

Newellton 19-0

NEWELLTON (Special) — Newellton upped its district 3-B record to 6-0 with a 19-0 victory over Sicily Island here Friday night.

Newellton drove 75 yards in the opening period for its first touchdown and sent halfback

Calvin Gathers

CALVIN (Special) — The Calvin girls edged Sikes, 34-24, and the Calvin boys swamped Sikes, 104-31, in basketball games here Friday night.

Jimmy Cannaday hit 25 for the winners and Norris Curry was high with 10 for Sikes.

Wins From Sikes

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Second-ranked East Jefferson blanked Warren Easton of New Orleans 13-0 Friday night to win the first district 4-AAA championship in the school's history. It was the sixth victory in a row for East Jefferson.

Lamar Barnett over from four yards out for the score. Quarterback Allen Bozeman ran the extra point.

In the third quarter, Newellton marched 48 yards to score on fullback Edwin Preis' five yard run. The PAT try failed.

Preis scored again in last period on a two-yard Preis run after a 90-yard march.

Tigers Defeat

WINNFIELD (Special) — 32-12, in a grid battle here Friday night.

Fullback James Wallace ran 35 yards for the Winnfield tally in the first quarter and then booted the conversion.

The hosting Tigers scored in the second period on quarterback Bob White's one-yard dive which ended a 43-yard drive.

Left end Gregg Wilbanks intercepted a pass in the second period and raced 47 yards for the first Giant touchdown.

The Tigers took up scoring again the third quarter on fullback Jim Duncan's one-yard plunge and Wallace kicked the extra point. Duncan tallied again the fourth, again from one yard, before Jena moved in.

The Giants quarterback passed to Wilbanks in a 12-yard toss for the second and last touchdown.

Wallace capped off the Tiger victory with an eight-yard run and then kicked the conversion.

Hopes Alive

HARVEY, La. (AP) — Seventh-ranked West Jefferson kept its hopes alive for a spot in the triple-A football playoffs as it downed Fortier of New Orleans, 26-0 Friday night.

Derril Kiletocki put West Jeff into the lead in the first period as he raced 74 yards with the pigskin for the tally.

Gary Schouest raced over from the eight to cap off a 43 yard second period drive.

Bobby Nelson gave the Bucs their third tally, racing 28 yards to paydirt.

LaSalle, 19-12

OLLA (Special) — LaSalle scampered around Caldwell Parish to collect a 19-12 victory here Friday night.

Caldwell scored in the first half on Larry Newellton's eight and four yard plunges coming in the first and second quarters.

LaSalle revived its attack in the third period and Damon Bradford went over from the one yard line. Before the stanza ended Pettie Randall tossed to Phil Mapp for the TD and Herbert Everett passed for the extra point.

In the fourth, Danny Cornett clinched the LaSalle victory with a four yard dive.

Bogalusa, 19-13

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Quarterback Grant McElveen guided Bogalusa to a 19-13 district 3-AAA victory over Catholic High Friday night and eliminated the Bears from a chance of tying for the league championship.

McElveen, who completed 12 passes totaling 176 yards, threw 18 yards to Terry Haley for a first-period score and Ricky Kelley accounted for two other touchdowns on runs of 10 yards.

Catholic scored late in the first and fourth periods. Don Plaisance dashed 8 yards for one TD and Ferrell Guillory passed 24 yards to Dale DeLaune for the second.

Sulphur Downed

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Fleet-footed Maurice LeBlanc led sixth-ranked Lafayette to a 23-13 victory over Sulphur in a key district 2-AAA prep game Friday night.

The victory insured Lafayette a spot in the state championship playoffs and set the stage for its clash next week with LaGrange of Lake Charles for the district championship.

LeBlanc scored 15 points, boosting his season total to 117, and gained 95 yards rushing in 15 carries. The 170-pound, 6-foot-1 halfback now has 1,026 yards in total offense for the season.

LeBlanc scored on runs of one and six yards and kicked three extra points. Oren Ponce also tallied for the Lions on a 49-yard dash.

Sulphur dominated the second half statistically but Lafayette twice stopped touchdown drives by the Tors, who got their markers on a one-yard run by quarterback Frank Blake and a six-yard run by Jim Barton.

LaGrange Clinches

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — LaGrange clinched a spot in the state triple-A playoffs Friday night by sloshing to a 20-0 victory over New Iberia in a rain-soaked contest.

The victory gave the third-ranked Gators a 4-0 district record going into next week's game with Lafayette to decide the district 2-AAA championship.

Regardless of the outcome, LaGrange and Lafayette will go into the playoffs.

LaGrange broke in front in the first period on Ray Cole's 46-yard touch down run and came back with another marker before intermission on John Delaney's three-yard burst.

Coco Hits 24, Carries Ogden

OGDEN (Special) — Steve Coco whipped in 24 points to lead Ogden to a 74-66 victory over Baskin in a basketball game here Friday night.

The Baskin girls won, 42-49, on Betsy Ragan's 26 point contribution. Pat Pace hit 25 for the losing girls.

Baskin's Charles Mack hit the net for a total of 29 points.

Eros Captures Two Cage Wins

EROS (Special) — Eros won both the B team game and the varsity tilt from visiting Calhoun Friday, but dropped the girls game in a 53-47 overtime thriller.

The B boys had little trouble in downing the Calhoun five to a 47-28 margin as Felton Harper led the way with 20 points. Johnny Frost had eight for the losers.

The varsity boys had more trouble, but managed to sneak out a 58-57 win over Calhoun. James Futrell hit 25 for the losers, and Terry Hayden got 18 for the winners.

Patricia McElduff led the Eros girls with 37 points and Betty Calhoun popped in 23 for the winners.

AT TIGER STADIUM

Young Bengals Face Experienced Frogs

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Louisiana State's young Tigers will try to bounce back this week against a lean, rangy and experienced Texas Christian football team. Kickoff time Saturday night is 8 p.m., and a capacity crowd is expected in Tiger Stadium with this game a sellout for two weeks.

"We know what kind of team we're up against," says LSU coach Charles McClendon. "We could play our very best and still get beat by TCU. They're big and tough and have almost double the amount of experienced personnel that we have."

McClendon said TCU will send some outstanding players against the Tigers. "I'd say (fullback) Tommy Crutcher, (center) Ken Henson and (end) Tom Magoffin are as good as any players we've met so far," McClendon said.

In bouncing off the mat after last week's 37-3 loss to Mississippi, the Tigers must also shake off some injuries in order to be at their best against TCU. Halfback Danny LeBlanc is still slowed by a thigh bruise and will be replaced at starting right half by senior Buddy Soefker. Bothered by a foot injury since the third game of the season, Soefker is expected to be ready to start against TCU.

Horned Frogs. This will mark the fifth straight week that the starting backfield has been reshuffled due to injuries, with Soefker stepping in for LeBlanc in this case.

Quarterback Billy Ezell, who was bruised against Ole Miss, has apparently recovered and displayed fine throwing form in practice sessions this week as LSU emphasized its passing game. Ezell, Soefker, halfback Joe Labruzzo and fullback Don Schwab comprise LSU's starting backfield this week.

The White team line will remain the same, although McClendon will look to the Go team and Chinese bandit lines for relief against TCU's aggressive forwards. White team starters up front are ends Danny Neumann and Bill Truax, tackles Ralph Pere and Willis Langley, guards Jerry Young and Robbie Hucklebridge and center Ruffin Rodrique.

AT WINDY SYDNEY

Palmer Leading Australian Nagle

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Arnold Palmer salvaged a 77 in gusty, 50-mile-per-hour winds Friday for a 145 which gave him a one-stroke lead over Australian's Kel Nagle at the halfway point of the 72-hole Wills Masters golf tournament.

Palmer's Canada Cup teammate, Jack Nicklaus, took a 9 on a par-five hole and finished also at 77 for 151, six shots off the pace.

The high winds, blowing in from the ocean over the Lakes Course, were so changeable and tricky that none of the competitors was able to break the par 72. However, Bruce Devlin of Australia managed to match par, to go with an opening 77.

Going into the third round, Palmer led with 68-77-145, followed by Nagle, 67-79-147; Gary Player of South Africa, 70-77-147; Peter Thomson of Australia, 72-77-149; Devlin, 77-72-149, and Ron Howell, an American now living in Sydney, 9-150.

One of the favorites, left-handed Bob Charles of New Zealand, the British Open champion, barely survived the cut after shooting a pair of 78s.

Palmer, the world's all-time leading money winner from LaTrobe, Pa., played the outgoing nine in 36 and then ran into the winds at their worst. At the 16th, the wind caught his approach shot and dumped it into a lake, forcing him to take a double bogey 6.

Nicklaus, the 210-pound blaster from Columbus, Ohio, saw his round blow up in his face on the par-5 fifth.

Rick Bryan

Hopeless Case

Last week was the crucial one in this writer's predicting career. If missing the Louisiana State, Tulane, Northeast, Louisiana Tech and Northwestern games doesn't persuade a person to give up—nothing will. It is quite clear now that we are hopelessly addicted.

Very fortunately only one other contest was missed last week, making the week's total 13 right and six wrong. Wasn't that lucky?

In case anyone is wondering, the Bryan principle for determining income tax is utilized to figure right—wrong percentages. The principle, stated simply, is if one comes out owing an unreasonable amount (anything over $5), all items must be added, subtracted and divided again until a more suitable figure is obtained. This principle is also one of the basic trade secrets in maintaining a decent predicting average.

In case anyone is still interested the season record is 90 right, 37 wrong and six ties for .708.

Now, for the inside information on who will win this week's games, circle the school with the lowest score on the predictions below.

The New Week

A pair of key games which will go a long way toward settling the Gulf States Conference football race are scheduled today.

Unbeaten, untied McNeese State invades Northwestern tonight and Southeastern Louisiana College, undefeated in league play, hosts Louisiana Tech this afternoon in the Lions' annual Homecoming fracas.

Both Northwestern and Tech have lost a conference game (Tech is 2-1, Northwestern 1-1), but could scramble the race considerably with victories.

In Monroe, Northeast State goes after its second straight victory and attempts to leave the league basement at the expense of Southwestern which is also winless in GSC play.

Louisiana State finds history repeating itself against Texas Christian and Tulane hopes to start a two-game winning streak against invading Tennessee.

For the second straight year LSU hits TCU on the rebound after losing to Ole Miss. Last year the Bengals managed a 5-0 victory.

McNeese 28, NSC 14

The Demons may be the only team left with a fighting chance to derail the McNeese powerhouse. Certainly, it is Northwestern's day of decision in the league race. Another defeat would end it.

Northwestern has displayed a lot of offensive ability since the Tech game, but has had very little defense at any time during the season. To make matters worse, the Demons have been losing the ball on fumbles at an amazing rate all year and for several seasons have been unable to defeat McNeese.

An all-out effort will be necessary to keep the Cowboys from repeating last year's 26-6 thrashing of Northwestern.

SLC 14, La. Tech 7

The last time Tech played at a Southeastern Homecoming on a wet field, blitzing quarterback Mickey Slaughter so badly he failed to complete a single pass in the first half. Today's forecast is for rain.

In that game, SLC used its speed for a land and air explosion which left the Bulldogs trailing 34-7 at the half. Southeastern won the Northeast game this year with a pair of long runs and the Techsters have shown a weakness for the long bomb (passing or running) in the Northwestern, Arlington State and Tennessee Tech games.

Add to this the fact that Southeastern will be fired up for Homecoming and you have a potentially bad day for the Techmen in Strawberry Stadium.

Northeast 13, USL 7

Northeast State, with potential for blinding speed on the ground, will be at virtually full strength for the first time this year against a Southwestern team which has not scored a point in GSC competition.

Still the game won't be a walkaway. USL has a 3-3 record, losing only to Southeastern, Louisiana Tech and Southern Mississippi. Undoubtedly the Ragin' Cajuns are stronger than last year's club which upset Northeast 18-10.

In the schools' only common opponent, Northeast outplayed a Southeastern team which topped the Bulldogs 14-0.

Louisiana State 10, TCU 7

The Tigers reportedly were flat in edging Texas Christian 5-0 last year and that was a senior dominated club. This is an injury-riddled sophomore club and the second loss to Ole Miss infinitely worse.

It may be asking too much to expect the Tigers to snap back again, but it will be interesting to see if they can.

Some teams are like this; they have enough pride to rebound after a big disappointment. In the past few years LSU has been one of these teams.

Tennessee 14, Tulane 8

Tulane broke its losing streak in convincing fashion last week, but this doesn't guarantee fair

Greenies claim another win.

Blue Gray Game Not Televised

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. said Friday the network had decided against televising the Blue and Gray football game at Montgomery, Ala. Dec. 28 after being advised Negro players could not participate.

A spokesman said the action was decided upon after consultation with sponsors of the scheduled telecast — Gillette Co. and Chrysler Corp.

The spokesman said the Blue and Gray Association informed NBC that Negro players would not be eligible to participate in the game.

Tampa Invades Ole Miss Soil; Last Home Fight

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (Special) — Ole Miss pulls the curtain on another appreciated campus football calendar today, this year after Homecoming with Vanderbilt and the week end invasion by the University of Tampa.

The Rebel-Tampa game here today at 2 p.m. will feature the University's annual High School and Band Day program. Given good weather, it will be played before an audience of 12,000.

Coach Johnny Vaughn's Rebels haven't dropped a decision in Hemingway Stadium since Tennessee in 1951, the run against 13 schools reaching 30-0 with the 27-7 Homecoming victory over Vanderbilt last Oct. 26. They are unbeaten after six 1963 games with a 5-0-1 report. The Tampa record is 3-3-1. Ole Miss hasn't been beaten in its last 18 scheduled games and in its last 16 since the 1962 Cotton Bowl.

Nine of the 10 Rebel seniors will perform in Hemingway for the final time, a farewell career game at home for quarterback Perry Lee Dunn, wingbacks Larry Smith and Larry Johnson, fullback Fred Roberts, end Reed Davis, tackle Whaley Hall and Cecil Ford and centers Kenny Dill and Robert Upchurch. Injured fullback Buck Randall will draw an additional today on the bench but may return in time for Tennessee next week end in Memphis.

The Spartans, coached by Fred Pancoast, will field a strong, battling starting lineup which features the play of ends Galmin and Dan Riviero, guard Ron Brett, halfback Bill Howell, fullback McManigal and quarterbacks Valden Bessent and Val Johnson. McManigal and Riviero are former University of Kentucky players.

The Band Day program will feature 27 bands, approximately 1800 musicians, in an hour-long pregame show which will get underway at 12:15 o'clock. The 120-piece Ole Miss band will perform following the team warm-up drills. All visiting bands and Col. Rebels' high school all-star band will be featured at half time.

Baylor Wants To End Texas Snide Remarks

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Baylor tries to knock down Texas, the nation's No. 1 college football Saturday with one thing in mind.

Baylor wants to put to an end those snide remarks of 40 years duration: "You just don't have it in the stretch."

Often Baylor has advanced to the very threshold of the Southwest Conference championship but always there has been somebody, most often Texas, to ruin its dreams.

Texas stands in the way once more for Baylor's strong offensive team, led by sharpshooting Don Trull. The Bear quarterback is the country's leader in total offense and passing.

Texas is undefeated and untied through seven games, Baylor has won five of six, the lone defeat by Oregon State.

The winner of Saturday's game will become a heavy favorite for the conference championship. Texas is after its second straight, Baylor is trying for its first since 1924.

Baylor lets it be known that it has a running attack this year and doesn't have to depend on

CLASH ON LION GROUND

Tech, Southeastern Hope To Stay In GSC Race By Winning Today

RUSTION (Special) — Louisiana Tech and Southeastern Louisiana College, neither given much of a chance in the Gulf States Conference race, will each be battling to stay in the run for the loop crown when they clash in Hammond this afternoon.

The 2:30 contest will also be homecoming for the Lions. Passing, punting, punt and kickoff runbacks have been bright spots for the Techsters so far this campaign. Tech's running attack is stronger than a year ago, but has not reached the peak desired by the coaches.

Billy Laird's 15 completions in 22 attempts last week in the 21-19 loss to Tennessee Tech upped his percentage considerably.

passing alone. The Bears have gained 1,410 yards passing and 805 rushing and have scored 21 touchdowns, 11 of them by passes.

Kickoff time is 3 p.m. EST, and a packed house of 64,530 is expected.

Laird, the Shreveport Woodlawn sophomore, has clicked on 64 of 108 for 770 yards and five TD's while having four interceptions.

Sophomore Wayne Davis and senior Charlie Bourgeois have been his chief targets. Davis with 22 receptions for 288 yards and three TD's and Bourgeois with 13 catches for 209 yards.

Laird's completion percentage is up to .593 for the season. He also has a net 15 yards rushing in the six games.

Gerald McDowell, Sulphur sophomore, leads the runners with 250 yards on 64 carries. No one else is near that figure.

Junior end David Lee's punting averaged has dipped in the last couple of games but it is still better than respectable at 40.8 for 28 kicks.

Freshman Alden Reeves of Jonesboro-Hodge and junior Kenny Tidwell of North Gado head the punt returners. Tidwell has brought back 13 for 56 yards while Reeves has returned four for 120 yards, one a TD gallop.

adept at kickoff returning. Junior Jack Odom of Shreveport Fair Park has returned six for 176 yards, junior Corky Corkern of Bossier City two for 141 yards, one a 93-yard TD sprint, and freshman John Wurzbarger of Mansfield, two for 51 yards.

The Bulldogs knocked Southeastern out of the unbeaten ranks last year, winning 27-15. The year before SLC walloped Tech 34-14 in Hammond, a 11 homecoming scraps.

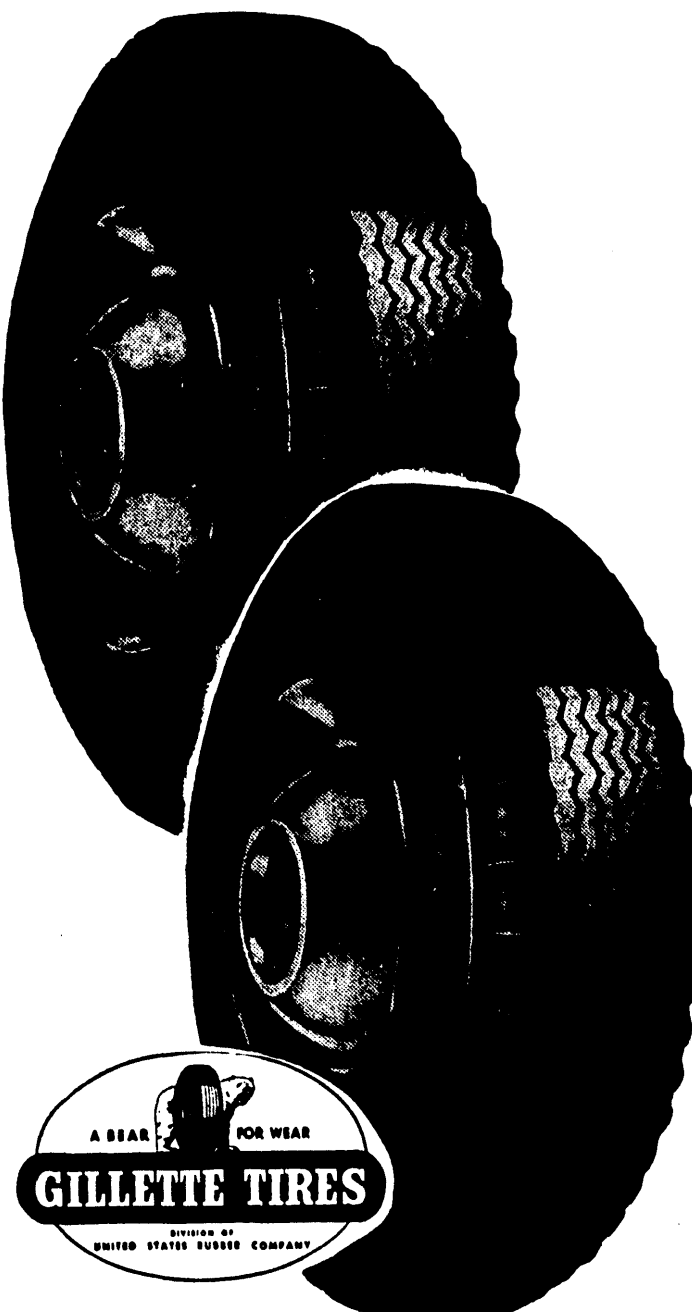

Freshman John Wurzbarger will likely start at left halfback. Jack Odom, who has been hurt, will play. Ace Paul Labenne will be available only for holding the ball on place-kicks.

Rick Bryan Hopeless Case

Last week was the crucial one in this writer's predicting career. If missing the Louisiana State, Tulane, Northeast, Louisiana Tech and Northwestern games doesn't persuade a person to give up—nothing will. It is quite clear now that we are hopelessly addicted.

Very fortunately only one other contest was missed last week, missing the week's total 13 right and six wrong. Wasn't that lucky?

In case anyone is wondering, the Bryan principle for determining income tax is utilized to figure right - wrong percentages. The principle, stated simply, is if one comes out owing an unreasonable amount (anything over $5), all items must be added, subtracted and divided again until a more suitable figure is obtained.

This principle is also one of the basic trade secrets in maintaining a decent predicting average.

In case anyone is still interested the season record is 90 right, 37 wrong and six ties for .708. Now, for the inside information on who will win this week's games, circle the school with the lowest score on the predictions below.

The New Week

A pair of key games which will go a long way toward settling the Gulf States Conference football race are scheduled today.

Unbeaten, untied McNeese State invades Northwestern tonight and Southeastern Louisiana College, undefeated in league play, hosts Louisiana Tech this afternoon in the Lions' annual Homecoming fracas.

Both Northwestern and Tech have lost a conference game (Tech is 2-1, Northwestern 1-1), but could scramble the race consider-

McNeese 28, NSC 14

The Demons may be the only team left with a fighting chance to derail the McNeese powerhouse. Certainly, it is Northwestern's day of decision in the league race. Another defeat would end it.

Northwestern has displayed a lot of offensive ability since the Tech game, but has had very lit-

SLC 14, La. Tech 7

The last time Tech played at a Southeastern Homecoming the Lions capitalized on a wet field, blitzing quarterback Mickey Slaughter so badly he failed to complete a single pass in the first half. Today's forecast is for rain.

In that game, SLC used its speed for a land and air explosion which left the Bulldogs trailing 34-7 at the half. South-

Northeast 13, USL 7

Northeast State, with potential for blinding speed on the ground, will be at virtually full strength for the first time this year against a Southwestern team which has not scored a point in GSC competition.

Still the game won't be a walkaway. USL has a 3-3 record, losing only to Southeastern.

Louisiana State 10, TCU 7

The Tigers reportedly were flat in edging Texas Christian 5-0 last year and that was a senior dominated club. This is an injury - riddled sophomore club and the second loss to Ole Miss infinitely worse.

It may be asking too much to expect the Tigers to snap back

eastern won the Northeast game this year with a pair of long runs and the Techsters have shown a weakness for the long bomb (passing or running) in the Northwestern, Arlington State and Tennessee Tech games.

Add to this the fact that Southeastern will be fired up for Homecoming and you have a potentially bad day for the Techmen in Strawberry Stadium.

Louisiana Tech and Southern Mississippi. Undoubtedly the Raging Cajuns are stronger than last year's club which upset Northeast 18-10.

In the schools' only common opponent, Northeast outplayed a Southeastern team which topped the Bulldogs 14-0.

With good effort and no fumbles, Northeast should win.

again, but it will be interesting to see if they can.

Some teams are like this; they have enough pride to rebound after a big disappointment. In the past few years LSU has been one of these teams.

Tennessee 14, Tulane 8

Tulane broke its losing streak sailing from here. In fact, it in convincing fashion last week, but this doesn't guarantee fair Greenies claim another win.

Blue Gray Game Not Televised

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. said Friday the network had decided against televising the Blue and Gray football game at Montgomery, Ala. Dec. 28 after being advised Negro players could not participate.

A spokesman said the action was decided upon after consultation with sponsors of the scheduled telecast — Gillette Co. and Chrysler Corp.

The spokesman said the Blue and Gray Association informed NBC that Negro players would not be eligible to participate in the game.

Tampa Invades Ole Miss Soil; Last Home Fight

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (Special) — Ole Miss pulls the curtain on another appreciated campus football calendar today, this year after Homecoming with Vanderbilt and the week end invasion by the University of Tampa.

The Rebel-Tampa game here today at 2 p.m. will feature the University's annual High School and Band Day program. Given good weather, it will be played before an audience of 12,000.

Coach Johnny Vaught's Rebels haven't dropped a decision in Hemingway Stadium since Tennessee in 1951, the run against 13 schools reaching 30-0 with the 27-7 Homecoming victory over Vanderbilt last Oct. 26. They are unbeaten after six 1963 games with a 5-0-1 report. The Tampa record is 3-3-1. Ole Miss hasn't been beaten in its last 18 scheduled games and in its last 16 since the 1962 Cotton Bowl.

Nine of the 10 Rebel seniors will perform in Hemingway for the final time, a farewell career game at home for quarterback Perry Lee Dunn, wingbacks Larry Smith and Larry Johnson, fullback Fred Roberts, end Reed Davis, tackles Whaley Hall and Cecil Ford and centers Kenny Dill and Robert Upchurch. Injured fullback Buck Randall will draw an additional today on the bench but may return in time for Tennessee next week end in Memphis.

The Spartans, coached by Fred Pancoast, will field a strong, battling starting lineup which features the play of ends Galmin and Dan Riviero, guard Ron Brett, halfback Bill Howell, fullback McManigal and quarterbacks Valden Bessent and Val Johnson. McManigal and Riviero are former University of Kentucky players.

The Band Day program will feature 27 bands, approximately 1800 musicians, in an hour-long pregame show which will get underway at 12:15 o'clock. The 120-piece Ole Miss band will perform following the team warm-up drills. All visiting bands and Col. Rebels' high school all-star band will be featured at half time.

Baylor Wants To End Texas Snide Remarks

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Baylor tries to knock down Texas, the nation's No. 1 college football Saturday with one thing in mind.

Baylor wants to put to an end those snide remarks of 40 years duration: "You just don't have it in the stretch."

Often Baylor has advanced to the very threshold of the Southwest Conference championship but always there has been somebody, most often Texas, to ruin its dreams.

Texas stands in the way once more for Baylor's strong offensive team, led by sharpshooting Don Trull. The Bear quarterback is the country's leader in total offense and passing.

Texas is undefeated and untied through seven games, Baylor has won five of six, the lone defeat by Oregon State.

The winner of Saturday's game will become a heavy favorite for the conference championship. Texas is after its second straight, Baylor is trying for its first since 1924.

Baylor lets it be known that it has a running attack this year and doesn't have to depend on

CLASH ON LION GROUND

Tech, Southeastern Hope To Stay In GSC Race By Winning Today

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech and Southeastern Louisiana College, neither given much of a chance in the Gulf States Conference race, will each be battling to stay in the run for the loop crown when they clash in Hammond this afternoon.

The 2:30 contest will also be homecoming for the Lions.

Passing, punting, punt and kickoff runbacks have been bright spots for the Techsters so far this campaign. Tech's running attack is stronger than a year ago, but has not reached the peak desired by the coaches.

Billy Laird's 15 completions in 22 attempts last week in the 21-19 loss to Tennessee Tech upped his percentage considerably.

passing alone. The Bears have gained 1,410 yards passing and 805 rushing and have scored 21 touchdowns, 11 of them by passes.

Kickoff time is 3 p.m. EST, and a packed house of 64,530 is expected.

Laird, the Shreveport Woodlawn sophomore, has clicked on 64 of 108 for 770 yards and five TD's while having four intercepted. Soph Wayne Davis and senior Charlie Bourgeois have been his chief targets, Davis with 22 receptions for 288 yards and three TD's and Bourgeois with 13 catches for 209 yards.

Laird's completion percentage is up to .593 for the season. He also has a net 15 yards rushing in the six games.

Gerald McDowell, Sulphur sophomore, leads the runners with 250 yards on 64 carries. No one else is near that figure.

Junior end David Lee's punting averaged has dipped in the last couple of games but it is still better than respectable at 40.8 for 28 kicks.

Freshman Alden Reeves of Jonesboro-Hodge and junior Kenny Tidwell of North Caddo head the punt returners. Tidwell has brought back 13 for 156 yards while Reeves has returned four for 120 yards, one a TD gallop.

Tech has been especially adept at kickoff returning. Junior Jack Odom of Shreveport Fair Park has returned six for 176 yards, junior Corky Corkern of Bossier City two for 141 yards, one a 93-yard TD sprint, and freshman John Wurzbarger of Mansfield, two for 51 yards.

The Bulldogs knocked Southeastern out of the unbeaten ranks last year, winning 27-15. The year before SLC walloped Tech 34-14 in Hammond, all homecoming scraps.

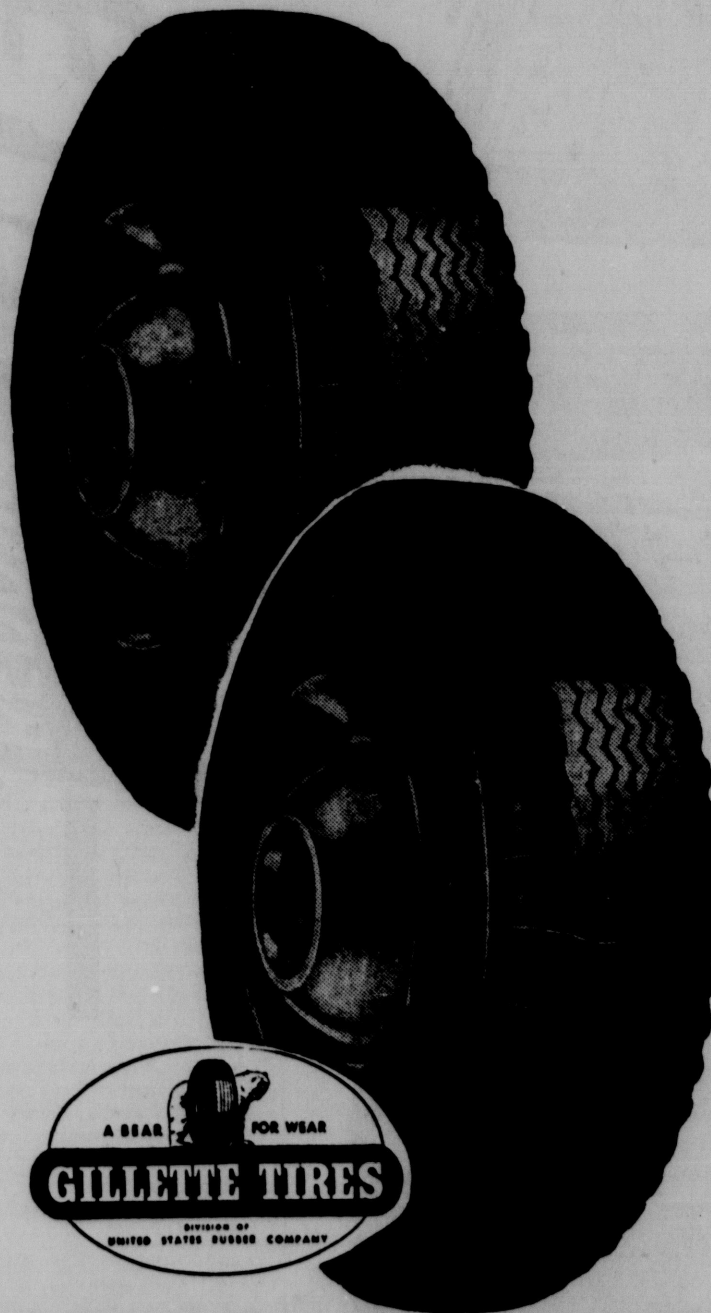

Freshman John Wurzbarger will likely start at left halfback. Jack Odom, who has been hurt, will play. Ace Paul Labenne will be available only for holding the ball on place-kicks.

The World for Women

MONROE MORNING WORLD, Saturday, November 9, 1963 — 1-B

Parties Honor Bride-Elect Prior To Friday Nuptials

Prior to her marriage last night to Dayton A. Guillot, Miss Dianne Landreaux was honored with two bridal parties. Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Landreaux and Mrs. Theresa R. Guillot and the late Mr. Guillot are parents of the couple who exchanged vows in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kent.

The clerical staff of the Our Lady Parish Welfare Department gave a surprise informal party for Miss Landreaux Thursday afternoon.

The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth and held an arrangement of lavender chrysanthemums in a gold container. A tiered cake topped with a bride doll was placed at one end of the table.

Mrs. William Husted poured punch and Mrs. Frances Evanich served.

The honoree, dressed in a three piece gray knit suit, was presented with a gift of lingerie by those attending the party. They were Miss Nola Fay Leggett, Mrs. J. T. Johnson, Mrs. George Martin, Mrs. Oscar T. Jones, Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. Woodrow Hearn, Mrs. Frances Evanich, Mrs. Audrey Webb, Mrs. William Husted Sr., Mrs. Elvin Caples, Mrs. Bob Griffin, Mrs. Louise Walker, Mrs. Vera Hughes, Mrs. Dwight Gardner, Miss Connie Smith, Mrs. James Cook, Mrs. Ed Wilson, Miss Norma Elliott and Mrs. Gladys Slack.

SHOWER

Hostesses were Mrs. Herbert R. Peterson, Mrs. Paul Flint, Mrs. Charles Evans, Mrs. B. W. Skipper, Mrs. Weldon E. Russell, Mrs. John L. Stimac and Miss Erma Downs.

Miss Downs presided at the guest book for the bride-elect who was attired in a three piece knit suit with brown accessories and a gift corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. The hostesses

THE ELOY FOMINAYAS and their youngest, blond cutie Toni Kay, have returned to Monroe from a motor trip north, and they are all smiles. No wonder! Last Friday, Eloy, director of the Twin Cities Symphony, took and passed his orals for his doctorate and is now officially entitled to bear the title of Dr. His Phd in music was received from Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan. Dr. Fominaya's earlier degrees were received from Lawrence College in Appleton, Wisconsin and North Texas State College in Denton. On their return trip from Michigan, the family group visited briefly with violin dealer Kenneth Warren Jr. and his family outside Chicago.

THE NELSON D. ABELL home on Deborah Drive will be the scene of a family house-party this weekend. Arriving today from Lafayette are Mrs. Abell's mother, Mrs. Lucius Hughes and her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Hughes, Sally and Mary. Mrs. Lucius Hughes will remain in Monroe for a two week visit with her family and many Monroe friends.

JOINING fellow bridge enthusiasts in Gulfport this weekend for the Mid-South Regional tournament will be Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson and Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Summer of Monroe.

A GUEST IN THE HOME of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. DeMoss, 2311 Bienville, is Mrs. DeMoss' mother, Mrs. Frank Rosamond of Shawnee, Oklahoma. One of the highlights during her visit here was the chance to renew acquaintances with former Shawnee residents, Mrs. Dave Leard and her daughter, Mrs. Jim Morrison of Shreveport. Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. DeMoss, who were school chums from kindergarten through high school, had not seen each other in sixteen years, having just recently discovered that they both lived in Louisiana. Mrs. Leard, Mrs. Morrison and Mr. Morrison drove over during the week for a brief visit.

DEAR ABBY

When You Meet That Man, You'll Know It

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What advice have you for a 30-year-old woman who thinks it's time to marry, but doesn't know which man to choose? I've taught school for eight years, and am well-traveled, so I'm not a sheltered country girl. A 42-year-old minister (widower, three children) wants to marry me, but the fish-bowl type of life I'd have to live doesn't appeal to me and, besides, I'm not that goody-goody. A doctor has proposed, but my best friend is married to one and she says it's a dog's life. The most attractive candidate travels, and he'd expect me to travel with him. That's no good for a woman who wants roots! There is also a young professor, but people in education don't make much and I don't want to work after I'm married. Can you help me?

ANNETTE

DEAR ANNETTE: Face it. You haven't met the man you want to marry yet. When (and if) you do, you'll find a hundred reasons why you should marry him.

DEAR ABBY: Ron and I have been married only a few months and we are living with his parents until we can afford an apartment of our own. We pay $80 a month for our bedroom, but we have no privacy whatsoever. When I am away at work during the day, they go through every one of my drawers. If they would let me know what they are looking for, I'd be glad to help them find it. I have nothing to hide. There is no excuse for anyone even going into our room as I clean it myself. My husband knows about his parents going through my things, but he says they'll be hurt if we make any accusations. What should I do?

NOTHING TO HIDE

DEAR NOTHING: How about a compromise? Don't ask the folks about the "treasure hunts" — but put a lock on your door and end them.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby.

Recent Bride Complimented In Rayville

Mrs. J. M. Shamblin of Rayville entertained with a tea in her home recently complimenting Mrs. Edward Gibbs Tisdale II, who was before her recent marriage Miss Martha Ann Brown of Rayville.

Sharing hostess honors with Mrs. Shamblin were Mrs. Arthur Beasley, Mrs. Loy Cloninger, Mrs. J. C. Ellington, Mrs. Robert Calvert, Mrs. Roy Faust, Mrs. Robert Woer, Mrs. Lasley Downes, Mrs. George Purvis and Mrs. J. B. Thompson.

Attired in an aqua silk print accented by a bronze throated orchid, Mrs. Tisdale received guests with her mother, Mrs. Dent Brown, and Mrs. Shamblin.

The tea table was centered with an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums and gold carnations in a cupid epergne. White dahlias and rose of Montana were used at vantage points throughout the reception area.

Mrs. Edward Cooper of Monroe, Miss Ola Cooper and Mrs. Frank Greaves Sr. of Rayville poured golden punch from a silver punch bowl.

Gifts were displayed on tables draped with ruffled organdy, which were placed on the porch off the living room. Miss Ann Brandon Cooper of Monroe and Mrs. F. L. Greaves Jr. of Rayville presided at the guest book.

A GUEST IN THE HOME of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. DeMoss, 2311 Bienville, is Mrs. DeMoss' mother, Mrs. Frank Rosamond of Shawnee, Oklahoma. One of the highlights during her visit here was the chance to renew acquaintances with former Shawnee residents, Mrs. Dave Leard and her daughter, Mrs. Jim Morrison of Shreveport. Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. DeMoss, who were school chums from kindergarten through high school, had not seen each other in sixteen years, having just recently discovered that they both lived in Louisiana. Mrs. Leard, Mrs. Morrison and Mr. Morrison drove over during the week for a brief visit.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What advice have you for a 30-year-old woman who thinks it's time to marry, but doesn't know which man to choose? I've taught school for eight years, and am well-traveled, so I'm not a sheltered country girl. A 42-year-old minister (widower, three children) wants to marry me, but the fish-bowl type of life I'd have to live doesn't appeal to me and, besides, I'm not that goody-goody. A doctor has proposed, but my best friend is married to one and she says it's a dog's life. The most attractive candidate travels, and he'd expect me to travel with him. That's no good for a woman who wants roots! There is also a young professor, but people in education don't make much and I don't want to work after I'm married. Can you help me?

ANNETTE

DEAR ANNETTE: Face it. You haven't met the man you want to marry yet. When (and if) you do, you'll find a hundred reasons why you should marry him.

DEAR ABBY: Ron and I have been married only a few months and we are living with his parents until we can afford an apartment of our own. We pay $80 a month for our bedroom, but we have no privacy whatsoever. When I am away at work during the day, they go through every one of my drawers. If they would let me know what they are looking for, I'd be glad to help them find it. I have nothing to hide. There is no excuse for anyone even going into our room as I clean it myself. My husband knows about his parents going through my things, but he says they'll be hurt if we make any accusations. What should I do?

DEAR ABBY: How about a compromise? Don't ask the folks about the "treasure hunts" — but put a lock on your door and end them.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby.

WHITE ROSE of the Louisiana Tech chapter of the Sigma Nu fraternity is Jean O'Banion of Pineville, an elementary education major, treasurer of Graham Hall, women's dormitory, and a member of the Sigma Kappa sorority at Tech. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. O'Banion of Pineville.

Parties Honor Bride-Elect Prior To Friday Nuptials

Prior to her marriage last night to Dayton A. Guillot, Miss Dianne Landreaux was honored with two bridal parties. Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Landreaux and Mrs. Theresa R. Guillot and the late Mr. Guillot are parents of the couple who exchanged vows in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kent.

The clerical staff of the Ouachita Parish Welfare Department gave a surprise informal party for Miss Landreaux Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. William Husted poured punch and Mrs. Frances Evanich served.

The honoree, dressed in a three piece gray suit, was presented with a gift of lingerie by those attending the party. They were Miss Nola Fay Leggett, Mrs. J. T. Johnson, Mrs. George Martin, Mrs. Oscar T. Jones, Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. Woodrow Hearn, Mrs. Frances Evanich, Mrs. Audrey Webb, Mrs. William Husted Sr., Mrs. Elvin Caples, Mrs. Bob Griffin, Mrs. Louise Walker, Mrs. Vera Hughes, Mrs. Dwight Gardner, Miss Connie Smith, Mrs. James Cook, Mrs. Ed Wilson, Miss Norma Elliott and Mrs. Gladys Slack.

SHOWER

Hostesses were Mrs. Herbert R. Peterson, Mrs. Paul Flint, Mrs. Charles Evans, Mrs. B. W. Skipper, Mrs. Weldon E. Russell, Mrs. John L. Stimac and Miss Edna Downs.

Miss Downs presided at the guest book for the bride-elect who was attired in a three piece knit suit with brown accessories and a gift corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. The hostesses

Recent Bride Complimented In Rayville

Mrs. J. M. Shamblin of Rayville entertained with a tea in her home recently complimenting Mrs. Edward Gibbs Tisdale II, who was before her recent marriage Miss Martha Ann Brown of Rayville.

Sharing hostess honors with Mrs. Shamblin were Mrs. Arthur Beasley, Mrs. Loy Cloninger, Mrs. J. C. Ellington, Mrs. Robert Calvert, Mrs. Roy Faust, Mrs. Robert Woer, Mrs. Lashley Downes, Mrs. George Purvis and Mrs. J. B. Thompson.

Attired in an aqua silk print accented by a bronze threaded orchid, Mrs. Tisdale received guests with her mother, Mrs. Lynn Brown, and Mrs. Shamblin.

The tea table was centered with an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums and gold carnations in a cupid epergne. White dahlias and rose of Montana were used at vantage points throughout the reception area.

Mrs. Edward Cooper of Monroe, Miss Ola Cooper and Mrs. Frank Greaves Sr. of Rayville poured golden punch from a silver punch bowl.

Gifts were displayed on tables draped with ruffled organdy, which were placed on the porch off the living room. Miss Ann Brandon Cooper of Monroe and Mrs. F. L. Greaves Jr. of Rayville presided at the guest book.

Recent Bride Complimented In Rayville

Mrs. J. M. Shamblin of Rayville entertained with a tea in her home recently complimenting Mrs. Edward Gibbs Tisdale II, who was before her recent marriage Miss Martha Ann Brown of Rayville.

Sharing hostess honors with Mrs. Shamblin were Mrs. Arthur Beasley, Mrs. Loy Cloninger, Mrs. J. C. Ellington, Mrs. Robert Calvert, Mrs. Roy Faust, Mrs. Robert Woer, Mrs. Lashley Downes, Mrs. George Purvis and Mrs. J. B. Thompson.

Attired in an aqua silk print accented by a bronze threaded orchid, Mrs. Tisdale received guests with her mother, Mrs. Kent Brown, and Mrs. Shamblin.

The tea table was centered with an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums and gold carnations in a cupid epergne. White dahlias and rose of Montana were used at vantage points throughout the reception area.

Mrs. Edward Cooper of Monroe, Miss Ola Cooper and Mrs. Frank Greaves Sr. of Rayville poured golden punch from a silver punch bowl.

Gifts were displayed on tables draped with ruffled organdy, which were placed on the porch off the living room. Miss Ann Brandon Cooper of Monroe and Mrs. F. L. Greaves Jr. of Rayville presided at the guest book.

Julia Neal Complimented With Prenuptial Shower

A tea-shower was the compliment of last Saturday afternoon for bride-elect Julia Neal, whose marriage to Connie Overby will be solemnized on Thursday, November 28 at the First Methodist Church in Lake Providence. Miss Neal is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Neal and Mr. Overby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Overby, all of Lake Providence.

Hostesses for the party, which took place at the Country Club were Mrs. Jim Herrington, Mrs. Dale Rinicker, Mrs. Berry Meadows, Mrs. James C. Scott, Mrs. Harry Baker, Mrs. David Tschabold, Mrs. Wallace Oliver, Mrs. Edward Dinger, Mrs. Charlie King, Mrs. Warren Keel, Mrs. H. I. Townsend and Mrs. S. F. Dunlap.

In the receiving line with the honoree were her mother, atired in printed silk, mother of the future groom, Mrs. Overby, and the hostesses. All wore white carnation corsages.

For her party, Miss Neal chose a pale yellow zephyr woolen sheath trimmed with a tiny bow of self material at the neckline. A corsage of white carnations, a gift of the hostesses, completed the outfit.

Mrs. Wallace Oliver, Mrs. Wayne Baker and Mrs. Berry Meadows alternated in inviting guests to sign the bride's book which was placed on a damask covered table with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums in a silver bowl.

The reception room was decorated with massive arrangements of fall flowers. Noted on the coffee table was an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums in a footed brass bowl.

Tea girls were Pam Herrington, Carol Howard, Libby Baker, Kathy Herzog, Val Hester, Barbara Keel, Penny Howard, Jebbie Baker, Shelia Overby, Lesa Dunlap, Jackie Townsend, Mary Helen Tschabold and Edna Hester.

Miss Eunyce Howard, Mrs. Dale Rinicker, Mrs. Jim Herrington and Mrs. John Howard were in charge of the gift tables.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Effie Lofton, home demonstration agent, who showed club members the proper methods of transplanting and mixing soils in preparation for the plant.

It was announced that Mrs. W. W. Tennant and Mrs. W. G. Halbert would represent the Tensas Council at the state council in Baton Rouge.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. N. H. Rogillio, Mrs. W. G. Halbert, Mrs. H. F. McGuyer, from Waterproof, and Mrs. W. E. Person, Mrs. Pearl Ford, Mrs. K. K. Killen and Mrs. P. D. Ladiner of Lake St. John.

The group will meet on December 6 in the home of Mrs. R. P. Tatum.

Area Couple To Be Honored On Anniversary

An open house Sunday afternoon, November 10 from 2 to 5 p.m. will honor Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gates of Crossett, Arkansas in observance of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The Gates children will be hosts for the celebration to be held at 106 West Ninth Avenue in Crossett.

The late Dr. and Mrs. Henry E. Gates Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Meeks, all of Farmerville, were the parents of the couple who wed fifty years ago in Farmerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates moved to Bonita in 1917, where they lived until 1942. They have lived in Crossett for the past 21 years, where they are both members of the First Church of God.

They have ten children living, with six in Crossett. There are nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Why Grow Old

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I asked for a copy of the following prayer many years ago. About 10 years ago I printed it in this column. It is so inspiring that I want to repeat it.

"We thank thee for the willing hands, and numerous and generous hearts who here do their work in full measure, pressed down and running over, who work not by the clock nor by the yardstick; not by the mere letter of the law, but who work because their love vitalizes them."

"Save us from using our offices and station as a means for our prestige. Forgive us the stupidity that is deaf to the new and the different, not because they are bad, as we profess, but because we do not understand them and they therefore make us uncomfortable."

"Forgive us, O God, that we are so easily tempted to lord it over others. Bridle our tongues lest we open our mouths only to reveal an empty head, an ugly spirit, or a heart of spite which knoweth not Thee. Suffer us never to forget that the contentious and conceited spirit is the possession of little women and petty men."

"Save us the folly that worships at the altar of self, that looks in its mirror and repeats daily, without quail, the mistakes of every yesterday. Save us from obstinate refusal to learn our lessons; save us, lest while we profess to be noble, we stand in the light of someone else."

"Bestow on us, O God, a lovely sense of humor, lest taking ourselves too seriously we shall

Baxter Bayou HD Club Has Monthly Meet

The Baxter Bayou HD Club held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. C. R. Brown in Lake Providence.

A Thanksgiving theme was created by arrangements placed about the Brown home. A horn of plenty, filled with fruits and flanked by miniature turkeys, centered the dining room table. An arrangement of chrysanthemums and holly leaves was noted on the coffee table.

During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. W. P. Key, it was decided that the club would have its annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. F. A. Babb. There will be the usual exchange of gifts and a "white box" for a needy family.

A discussion was held concerning plans for the Farm City Week tea sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs. A china shower for the Parish Community Room will be the project of the clubs' observance of Farm City Week. Each person attending the tea will be asked to bring one piece of china the pattern of which will be selected at a local store. The tea committee consists of chairman, Mrs. C. R. Brown, Mrs. W. P. Key, Mrs. J. G. Wyly, Mrs. Ed Ragus, Mrs. Rupert Evans, and Mrs. J. C. Bass.

Associate HD Agent, Mrs. Charles Edwards gave a demonstration on how to set in sleeves and how to hem a dress.

Those reading extension letters were Mrs. Louise Boutwell and Mrs. James Beard. At the conclusion of the business meeting the hostess served refreshments to the following members: Mrs. James Beard, Mrs. W. P. Key, Mrs. W. P. Maben, Mrs. J. G. Wyly, Mrs. Bonnie Boutwell, Mrs. F. A. Babb and Mrs. Charles Edwards.

Reader Finds New Uses For Plastic Bottles

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: When I buy bleach I usually buy the half-gallon size in the dozens of uses for them in our kitchen and freezer. They are absolutely wonderful for popcorn bowls (after cutting the top of the bottle off with a pair of scissors) — especially when watching TV. One cannot "root" it out over the straight edge, such as when using slanted bowls. And there are no broken bowls in our home any more.

This is also a good idea to use when small children want to take their popcorn outside and share it with their friends. In case they drop the container it won't break.

Just try them in your deep freeze. You will love them. Peggy

Anne Adams

Dear Heloise: I work five days a week and take my lunch with me. I remembered reading some place about freezing sandwiches, so I prepared a week's sandwiches, wrapped them in foil and put them in my deep freeze.

I ended up throwing most of them away as the mayonnaise formed little balls, and it just did not taste good. Is there any way that I can freeze sandwiches?

Judy Miller

Dear Judy: I feel sure that you will find in books about deep freezers, that salad dressing may be used on sandwiches when frozen but NOT mayonnaise. There is a difference in the two.

Outside of that softened butter is recommended. Heloise

Dear Heloise: I am on a very tight budget. We have been married less than two years, and are expecting our first child. Naturally, we are still paying on our car, TV and some household appliances.

What is really necessary in the way of nursery equipment? My neighbors suggest bathinet carriage, etc., which we cannot afford. What is really necessary and what can I do without? Expectant

Honey, my youngest baby is 12. It's been so long.

If any mother can tell this angel what the basic necessities are, and if there is any way to save when purchasing them, we sure will appreciate it. Write to Heloise c/o this paper. Heloise

Dear Heloise: Can you think of anything more frustrating than trying to sew scout or military emblems on a uniform so they are at least a little straight?

I've got the solution: Just use a few dabs of any good white household glue on the back of the emblem and press it in position on the clothing, then let it set for a few moments.

The emblem can then be stitched by hand or machine.

Bridge Winners Announced

Bridge play for the week was heavy with some new names appearing on the lists of winners.

WINNERS GAMES

The monthly Monroe area winners game was played at the Bayou Desiard country club Thursday night.

North-South winners were: first, Hughes Mendel and Mrs. Darwin Nichols; second, Mrs. C. W. Dodgen and Mrs. Percy Sandman; third, Mrs. L. G. High and Mrs. M. C. Plummer.

East-West winners were: first, Mrs. J. H. Lary and Mrs. Fred Westrum; second, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaughnessy and third, Jack Forman of Jackson, Mississippi and Mrs. Bernie Wilenzick.

COLLEGE DUPLICATE

The College Duplicate club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Danti, 2211 Ann Street.

First place winners were Mrs. Nollie Hickman and Mrs. William Scarborough. Coming in second were Mrs. William Easley and Mrs. William Hammond. Mrs. August Danti and Mrs. James Nicholson took third place, and Mrs. William Russell and Mrs. Jack Collins scored in fourth place.

HIGHLAND PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaughnessy took top honors at Tuesday night's Highland Park country club duplicate game.

Second place winners were Hamilton Cage and Allen J. Behr, with C. Mrs. Thomas Youngblood and Mrs. Fred Stone coming in third.

NORTHEAST DUPLICATE

The Northeast Louisiana Duplicate Bridge club met Monday afternoon at the Paragon.

North-South winners were: first, Mrs. Percy Sandman and Mrs. C. W. Dodgen; second, Mrs. Hughes Mendel and Mrs. Lloyd D. Ritter; third, Mrs. Dave Aron and Mrs. Bernie Wilenzick.

East-West winners were: first, Mrs. Neil D. Buie and Mrs. F. B. Winbery; second, Mrs. Wilson Ewing and Mrs. Thomas Inskip and third, Mrs. J. C. Pledger and Mrs. Stinson.

VIRGINIA CLUB

Mrs. Marcus Mapp and Mrs. Mabel Nash tallied up top points at the Friday Virginia Bridge club last week to take first place.

Second place winners were Mrs. Sackman Marx and Mrs.

without any worry that it will turn out top-sided. The glue subsequently washes out, too. Mrs. W.M.

Dear Heloise:

Do people know that three 303 tins (fruit juice cans) may be used for those quick breads in stead of loaf pans? They work much easier, they don't have to be greased and can be either thrown out or washed and used again after the baking is done.

The quick breads can be wrapped and stored easily and can be served in beautiful round slices. When I double my bread recipe I use six of these cans.

My father used to make homemade bread and bake it in coffee cans and they turned out lovely, too. Try baking bread in round cans. Quite different. . . . Mrs. Mossel

Mrs. Mounger Hostess For Tallulah DAR

The November meeting of the Tallulah Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution took place at the home of Mrs. Harvey Mounger on LaSalle Street.

The session opened with the ritual conducted by the regent, Mrs. Travis McNeel, after which she gave a report of the executive board meeting recently held in Alexandria. It was announced that this year the chapter is sponsoring an eight year old girl at the DAR Tennesse School. Members are urged to send their Christmas gifts to the school to Mrs. Mason Spencer as soon as possible.

The National defense news presented by Mrs. J. G. Wyly Jr., Mrs. Edward Yerger gave an informative talk on "Antiques in America," during which she displayed pictures of furniture of different periods and also exhibited specimens of original glass and china. Mrs. Alice Ware was welcomed as a new member.

Preceding the meeting Mrs. Mounger served refreshments from a tea table centered with an arrangement of pink carnations. Those attending were Mrs. Travis McNeel, Mrs. Clyde May, Mrs. J. G. Wyly, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mrs. Edward Yerger, Mrs. J. R. Linton, Mrs. John Carpenter, Mrs. E. B. Schicker, Mrs. Alice Ware and the hostess.

Reader Finds New Uses For Plastic Bottles

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

When I buy bleach I usually buy the half-gallon size in the dozens of uses for them in my kitchen and freezer.

They are absolutely wonderful for popcorn bowls (after cutting the top of the bottle off with a pair of scissors) — especially when watching TV. One cannot "root" it out over the straight edge, such as when using slanted bowls. And there are no broken bowls in our home any more.

This is also a good idea to use when small children want to take their popcorn outside and share it with their friends. In case they drop the container it won't break.

Just try them in your deep freeze. You will love them.

Dear Heloise: I work five days a week and take my lunch with me. I remembered reading some place about freezing sandwiches, so I prepared a week's sandwiches, wrapped them in foil and put them in my deep freeze.

I ended up throwing most of them away as the mayonnaise formed little balls, and it just did not taste good. Is there any way that I can freeze sandwiches?

Judy Miller

Dear Judy:

I feel sure that you will find in books about deep freezers, that salad dressing may be used on sandwiches when frozen but NOT mayonnaise. There is a difference in the two.

Outside of that softened butter is recommended.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I am on a very tight budget. We have been married less than two years, and are expecting our first child. Naturally, we are still paying on our car, TV and some household appliances.

What is really necessary in the way of nursery equipment? My neighbors suggest bathinette carriage, etc., which we cannot afford. What is really necessary and what can I do without?

Expectant

Honey, my youngest baby is 12. It's been so long —

If any mother can tell this angel what the basic necessities are, and if there is any way to save when purchasing them, we sure will appreciate it. Write to Heloise c/o this paper.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Can you think of anything more frustrating than trying to sew scout or military emblems on a uniform so they are at least a little straight?

I've got the solution: Just use a few dabs of any good white household glue on the back of the emblem and press it in position on the clothing, then let it set for a few moments.

The emblem can then be stitched by hand or machine without any worry that it will turn out lop-sided. The glue subsequently washes out, too.

Mrs. W.M.

Dear Heloise:

Do people know that three 303 tins (fruit juice cans) may be used for those quick breads instead of loaf pans? They work much easier, they don't have to be greased and can be either thrown out or washed and used again after the baking is done.

The quick breads can be wrapped and stored easily and can be served in beautiful round slices. When I double my bread recipe I use six of these cans.

My father used to make homemade bread and bake it in coffee cans and they turned out lovely, too. Try baking bread in round cans. Quite different . . .

Hostess For Tallulah DAR

The November meeting of the Tallulah Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution took place at the home of Mrs. Harvey Mounger on LaSalle Street.

The session opened with the ritual conducted by the regent, Mrs. Travis McNeel, after which she gave a report of the executive board meeting recently held in Alexandria. It was announced that this year the chapter is sponsoring an eight year old girl at the DAR Tamassee School. Members are urged to send their Christmas gifts to the school to Mrs. Mason Spencer as soon as possible.

The National defense news presented by Mrs. J. G. Wyly Jr., Mrs. Edward Yerger gave an informative talk on "Antiques in America," during which she displayed pictures of furniture of different periods and also exhibited specimens of original glass and china. Mrs. Alice Ware was welcomed as a new member.

Preceding the meeting Mrs. Mounger served refreshments from a tea table centered with an arrangement of pink carnations. Those attending were Mrs. Travis McNeel, Mrs. Clyde May, Mrs. J. G. Wyly, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mrs. Edward Yerger, Mrs. J. R. Linton, Mrs. John Carpenter, Mrs. E. B. Schicker, Mrs. Alice Ware and the hostess.

Mrs. Nhu Denies Financial Claims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu spoke out Friday for the first time on the subject of her personal finances, and denied she has funds abroad.

"They are all liars," she told The Associated Press, "those people who say I have a villa and money outside Viet Nam."

The former first lady of South Viet Nam, in seclusion at a private home here since the coup that overthrew the regime headed by her brother-in-law and husband and cost their lives as well, spoke to a reporter by telephone.

"All that I have is in Viet Nam—my home at Dalat that I was preparing as a nice place to retire to."

A report from Washington on Thursday quoted a "qualified source close to" the Nhu family as saying she is a clever businesswoman with ample resources in other countries, including a villa on the French Riviera.

"The story that I have property abroad is an invention of that former member of Viet Nam's Embassy in Washington," she said she was referring to Ngo To Dat, former first secretary of the embassy who resigned along with her ambassador father, Tran Van Chuong, last August in protest over treatment of Buddhists by the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

"I wish that they were right, those liars," she said.

"Because they have lied so many times, to justify their lies, they talk this way. It is their own mirror—the mirror of their character."

"They cannot understand my disinterested nature. It is because of my disinterested nature that I do not have any property."

"They cannot believe that all that I do I do for my country."

Mrs. Nhu said the only property she has in her name is the villa in Dalat, a highland resort about 150 miles northeast of Saigon. It was a favorite retreat for Mrs. Nhu and her family in Viet Nam.

The house is arambling, two-story stucco villa with spacious rooms and long, sweeping lawns that overlook the countryside, she said.

As to where she will get money to support herself and her four children, Mrs. Nhu replied: "I do not know. I shall see when I talk to my brothers-in-law Ngo Dinh Luyen, former Vietnamese ambassador to Great Britain, and Thuc." The latter is Archbishop Pierre Martin Ngo Dinh Thuc, now caring for her three younger children in Rome. They were flown there Wednesday from Viet Nam where they had been during the coup.

Mrs. Nhu moved out of her hotel suite Wednesday to become a house guest of wealthy businessman Allen Chase and his wife.

With her at the Chase home is her eldest daughter, Le Thuy, 18, and her Vietnamese secretary, Nguyen Thi Tuan, 29, who accompanied on her round-the-world tour when she left Saigon six weeks ago.

The younger children, ages 15, 11 and 4 are expected to join her here early next week.

Honors Slated For Mothers Of Tech Students

RUSTON (Special) — Approximately 600 mothers of Louisiana Tech women students will be honored with a weekend program of events scheduled for Nov. 16-17, designated by the Campus Activities Board as the annual Mothers' Weekend.

Highlighting the activities will be a style show presented by several Ruston stores with models modeling the latest fall and winter fashions.

Preceding the style show, the visiting mothers will be served coffee as they register at the dormitories in which their daughters reside. Each mother will be presented a corsage and name tag by her daughter.

Mothers are invited to attend the Tech football game on Saturday night and the all-campus dance following it free of charge.

The Campus Women's Council will serve coffee to the mothers on Sunday morning until time for church services.

OPPOSING INTEGRATION

Meany Hits Negro Locals On Mixing

NEW YORK (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany said Friday that much of the opposition to integration in unions comes from Negro locals which refuse to integrate with white locals.

Meany said in a news conference after his address to the 52nd annual convention of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department.

"In fact much of the hard core opposition among the 170 segregated local unions out of more than 60,000 locals comes from the Negro locals which refuse to integrate with white locals."

He said a classic example of this is found in the Musicians Union where, he said, certain Negro locals state flatly: "We will not go into the white locals."

He also said the AFL sought in 1955 to integrate a Negro and a white local in an unnamed Alabama city. The whites voted to integrate, he said, and the Negroes voted not to integrate. The AFL-CIO is making substantial progress in civil rights, Meany said, but added that some civil rights groups "want the millennium and they want it yesterday."

In his address to the convention, Meany said Negroes should have equal opportunity, but no preferential treatment for jobs.

"We cannot visit injustices on the white boy to make up to the black boy for injustices shown him in the past," he said.

The Building Trade Unions have been under fire from civil rights groups calling for more jobs for Negroes and other minority group members in the skilled trades.

Scion Devising Exotic Bar For Working Man

AUSTIN, Minn. (UPI)—George (Geordie) Hormel, pianist-scion of the meat-packing family, is working on a new venture in his home town — an exotic bar for the working man.

Hormel said he will open a bar in downtown Austin, probably by Dec. 15.

Hormel, who plans to take his jazz quartet on a tour of Russia next year, won't perform in his new bar. In fact, there will be no live entertainment as plans now stand.

"But we're still taking suggestions from anyone who cares to make them," Geordie said.

Hormel said he hopes to attract workers with a "rustic-tropical motif."

That includes sawdust on the floor, balcony seating, an aquarium stocked with tropical fish and cages afloating with rare birds.

His proudest innovation is a firehouse pole which, he says, will provide quick access to the bar from the upper seats.

JFK Raps Scuttle Of Aid Bill

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, received an award from New York's Protestant leaders Friday night and used it as a springboard for an appeal against scuttling his foreign aid program "in an outburst of petty irritation and frustration."

The aid program has been getting a kicking around in Congress. Kennedy's forum for another bid for support of the vast undertaking to help friendly nations was a banquet sponsored by the New York City Protestant Council, bringing together about 3,500 representatives of all faiths.

Kennedy was selected for the council's first "Family of Man Award" for his "outstanding contributions and distinguished services to the cause of human rights and democratic freedoms."

The council called this a historic breakthrough in U.S. Protestant-Catholic relations.

It has awarded citations to other distinguished Americans. But the Family of Man Award, symbolizing that all people are "one family under God," is a new honor which will be bestowed annually.

Taking the name of the award as a starting point, Kennedy said in a speech prepared for the gathering in the ballroom of the New York Hilton Hotel that the family of man is not limited to one race, religion, city or country but lives more than three billion strong in more than 100 nations.

But in the world today, he said, the family of man is not faring well—its members should be at peace with one another but they are not.

From there, Kennedy went on to say that this family can survive differences of race and religion and can accept differences of ideology, politics, and economics.

"But," the President said, "it cannot survive, in the form in which we know it, a nuclear war—and neither can it long endure this growing gulf between the rich and the poor."

"The rich must help the poor. The industrialized nations must help the developing nations. And the United States, along with its major allies, must do better—not worse—by its foreign aid program."

As things stand now in Congress, the Senate is debating a $3.7-billion foreign aid program and has been hemming it in with restrictions the administration opposes.

The Senate total is above the House. But it is below the $4.2 billion proposed by its own Foreign Relations Committee and still farther below the $4.5 billion Kennedy asked.

Kennedy said he thinks the American people are willing to shoulder the burden of foreign aid.

"Is this nation stating," the President asked "that it cannot afford an additional $600 million to help the developing nations of the world become strong and free—an amount less than this country's annual outlay for lipstick, face cream and chewing gum?"

"Are we saying that we cannot help our 19 needy neighbors in Latin America with a greater effort than the Communist bloc is making in the single island of Cuba?"

Kennedy said that there are those who say they are tiring of the foreign task, or are tired of world problems, or tired of hearing those who receive American aid disagree with American diplomacy.

"But what kind of spirit is that?" the President asked. "Are we tired of living in a free world? Do we expect to make it over in our own image? Are we going to quit now because there are problems not yet solved?"

"Surely the Americans of the 1960s can do half as well as the Americans of the 1950s. Surely we are not going to throw away our hopes and means for peaceful progress in an outburst of petty irritation and frustration."

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

For reasons not clear after 100 years and perhaps not even clear to himself then, Confederate Gen. Braxton Bragg divided his army before Chattanooga, Tenn., in November 1863 and sent part of it on a wild goose chase to Knoxville, Tenn.

Federal troops under Maj. Gen. Ambrose E. Burnside had occupied Knoxville on Sept. 2. Burnside was the general who had charged his army up the heights at Fredericksburg, Va., in December '62 to a crushing defeat. Now he was the "liberator" of East Tennessee, the area of considerable Union sentiment which President Lincoln area of considerable Union sentiment which President Lincoln had been trying to occupy since the start of the war.

Bragg divided his forces at a time when Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant, commanding the Union forces there, had broken the Confederate hold on his supply line and was assembling reinforcements. Grant was a general who could be depended upon to attack early and often. Bragg knew that but split his army anyway. Robert E. Lee could do that in front of George B. McClellan and win. But Bragg was no Lee and Grant was no McClellan.

The force sent by Bragg to dispose of Burnside was commanded by Lt. Gen. James Longstreet and consisted of two divisions totalling about 12,000 men. These were the troops Longstreet had brought from the Army of Northern Virginia at the time of the battle of Chickamauga.

That was about half enough men, Longstreet thought, for the expedition against Burnside who had about 22,000 — 8,600 cavalry and 13,600 infantry — protected by fortifications.

Longstreet left the Chattanooga lines on Nov. 5-6 and marched slowly toward Knoxville. He was not cheerful about the move.

"Twenty thousand men well handled, could surely have captured Burnside and his forces," he wrote.

"Under the present arrangements, however, the lines are to be held as they now are (at Chattanooga) and the detachment is to be 12,000. We thus expose both to failure, and really take no chance to ourselves of great results."

Why Bragg divided his forces at a time when Grant was gathering strength remains something of a mystery.

President Jefferson Davis who earlier had visited the Confederate army, suggested to Bragg that "you might advantageously assign General Longstreet with his two divisions to the task of expelling Burnside."

Bragg wrote to Davis later that "the Virginia troops will move in the direction indicated as soon as practicable. This will be a great relief to me."

Whether Bragg's "great relief" was to get rid of Longstreet, with whom he had quarrelled, or whether he felt the Knoxville expedition would drain off a big portion of Grant's troops to Burnside's relief, remains unanswered.

Longstreet's troops arrived at the perimeter of the Knoxville defenses on Nov. 17 but it was Nov. 29 before he attacked. The 12 days were used to probe the defenses. Skirmishing was continuous. Longstreet was reinforced by two brigades of cavalry from southwest Virginia and about 3,500 troops from Bragg's army. This addition brought his force to about 20,000 men.

The chief Union defenses of the city were two forts to the west — Fort Sanders, named for Brig. Gen. William B. Sanders who had been killed a few days before in a rear guard action and Fort Bvington. Those forts were hastily built but strong.

Longstreet decided to attack Fort Sanders. (The Confederates called it Fort Loudon because they had started it under that name before they abandoned the city.)

Brig. Gen. Orlando M. Poe, Union engineer who had built Fort Sanders, described the battle.

"About 6 a.m. on Sunday November 29th, the enemy opened a heavy artillery fire upon Fort Sanders, to which no reply was made, because our limited supply of ammunition made it necessary to reserve it for use at a more critical moment. The fire continued about twenty minutes and then slackened, whereupon the (Confederate) columns moved to the assault, and were at once met by all the fire that could be concentrated upon them from our lines.

"Encountering the wire entanglements (telegraph wire strung on tree stumps), their organization was somewhat disturbed, but the movement was not seriously checked thereby, nor did the slight abatis (sharpened tree limbs) retard it.

"Although suffering from the terribly destructive fire . . . they soon reached the outer brink of the ditch. There could be no pause at that point, and, leaping into the ditch in such numbers as nearly to fill it, they endeavored to scale the walls. Having no scaling-ladders, a portion of the men, scrambling over the shoulders of their comrades, planted the battle-flags of the 13th and 17th Mississippi and the 16th Georgia upon the parapet, but every man who rallied to them was either killed or captured, and the flags were taken.

"Meanwhile those who remained in the ditch found themselves under a deadly flank fire of musketry and canister, without the slightest possibility of returning a blow. Advance and retreat were about equally difficult, and it needed but a very short exposure to convince them that if any were to leave the ditch alive it could only be by the promptest surrender.

"Those who were able to walk were brought through the ditch . . . and entered our lines as prisoners. Such of the assaulting forces as had not entered the ditch fell back, at first suddenly and slowly, but flesh and blood could not stand the storm of shot and shell that was poured on them, and they soon broke into confused retreat."

A supporting brigade arrived about that time and attacked to the left but was repulsed.

The attacks lasted about 40 minutes.

The assaulting Confederates had lain all night without fires waiting for dawn. The temperature was near freezing and a fine mist was falling.

Union losses were: 92 killed; 394 wounded; 207 captured or missing; total, 693. Confederate losses: 182 killed; 768 wounded; 192 captured or missing; total, 1,142. (Cavalry losses not included were estimated at 250.)

As Longstreet debated whether to renew the attack he received word that Bragg's army had been defeated at Chattanooga by Grant and was retreating into Georgia. He was ordered to retreat to Bragg's army but before the order could be carried out, Bragg advised him that Union reinforcements were on their way to Knoxville.

Longstreet remained around Knoxville until Dec. 4 and then withdrew ahead of Union reinforcements into Eastern Tennessee and eventually into Virginia.

What Longstreet had feared had happened. Both wings of the divided army had been defeated.

Joseph Howard Jr., a war correspondent of the New York Times, got the story of Gen. Phil Kearney's funeral in the Civil War, from which reporters were banned, by wearing a surplice and carrying a prayer book in the procession.

The longest pontoon bridge used in the Civil War was set up on the James River in June 1864 for the Federal army to cross. It was 2,100 feet long. Three schooners and 101 pontoons were used. The bridge was built in eight hours by Federal army engineers.

Robert Lowry enlisted in the Confederate army as a private and became a brigadier general. He was a merchant and a lawyer and ended his career as a governor of Mississippi.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

JOTTINGS IN PENCIL . . . Friends of Elizabeth Ashley, the beautiful young actress who is such an enchantress in the hit show "Barefoot in the Park" are still making resentful remarks about songwriter Adolph Green's spoof of her opening night entrance at a party at the Tavern on the Green.

Just after the TV cameras had photographed Liz acknowledging the applause of the appreciative party people, Adolph arose from his table and did a merciless imitation, bowing and scarping. The crowd laughed, but Miss Ashley's friends commented: "It was HER night. We don't think it was a very funny thing to do."

Traffic stopped on West 4th Street in Greenwich Village the other night when Greta Garbo, wearing black slacks and a brightly colored overblouse, arrived at Le Bijou for a dinner party given by Jack and Dru Heinz.

Rita Hayworth's most recent ex-husband, Jim Hill, is wooing a Finnish girl, Miya Sario . . . Gordon MacRae had to cancel six scheduled one-nighters for the Republican Party fundraising activities because of a sore throat. Van Johnson may be booked as his replacement.

Jane Johnston, the singing comedienne who left Los Angeles for New York to visit her fiancé, George Wallace, may remain in town for as long as "Jennie" (in which George plays Mary Martin's husband) runs on Broadway. Jane's been offered a job at the Bon Soir and a featured roll in "The Boys From Syracuse" and may accept both, if her agents can work out terms . . . Radio Row rumors have it that deejays Alan Freed and Tommy Smalls, both involved in the payola scandals a few years back, will return to the Gotham platter spinning scene on a local station before long. The studio is touting it as sexy, controversial, and close to censorship trouble; but a note from a member of the cast, former welterweight Izzy Grove (on official Columbia stationery) says "come and see a screening" and adds "bring the children."

The anonymous-letter "hate campaign" against Gov. Rockefeller is gaining more momentum every day. Ask any popular columnist. The anti-Rockefeller writers usually send duplicates of their tirades to him, newspaper by-liners and Senators and Congressmen. The mail about the Governor and "Happy" is just about on the same level as the mail about Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton a year ago. It is always amazing that people who write about decency and respectability and Americanism as if they had invented all three will stoop to using language ranging from "disgraceful," "fillicit" and "wretch" to words that could not be printed in a family newspaper.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

SUDDEN HEART ATTACKS

J. W. writes: "Could a person who never had heart trouble get a heart attack?" Yes, and some physicians have had a patient die this way shortly after telling him his heart was normal. This does not occur often but does happen even though the heart sounds good and the electrocardiogram shows no abnormalities.

Why? The usual heart attack is in reality not a disease of the heart itself but of the blood vessels which deliver nourishment and oxygen to the cells of the auricles and ventricles. Blockage of the flow robs a small part of the muscle of its nourishment. The tissue cells die and are replaced with scar tissue.

The basic cause is arteriosclerosis of the coronary arteries. Many years and sometimes decades elapse between the time the vessel begins to harden and the actual occlusion. There is no way to predict how small the passageway is getting until the flow of blood becomes inadequate to meet the needs of the heart during exercise or excitement.

Chest pain (angina pectoris) develops at this time, which is relieved with nitroglycerine, rest, or tranquility. But, all too often, the hardening process is painless and the first clue is a heart attack.

Special tests can be done to visualize the arteries and measure the circulation through these passageways, but they are not practicable at this time. On the other hand, several abnormalities increase the likelihood of coronary thrombosis. These high risk factors include obesity, fatigue, anxiety, hypertension, and a high cholesterol level. But the physician is unable to predict that a heart attack will occur next week just because of high blood pressure and blood cholesterol levels. These conditions only enhance the chances of developing coronary thrombosis.

One of my colleagues concludes his consultation by saying, "I can't find anything wrong with your heart. Please don't embarrass me by having a heart attack when you leave my office."

SLOW HEALING

R. M. writes: My husband had ulcers on his two big toes that would not heal so he had the toes cut off. But they haven't healed and he is in constant pain. He can't walk or work. Is there any way he could be helped?

REPLY

It is difficult to be of help when the reasons for the ulcers are not known. I assume your husband has poor circulation if the foot and stump do not heal because the tissues are not receiving enough nourishment. Amputation at a higher level may be needed along with an operation in which certain nerves are severed to dilate the arteries of the legs. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on poor circulation of the extremities.

LUNG POWER

J. S. W. writes: What exercises will increase the lung power of a 53 year old man?

REPLY

Deep breathing and the usual exercises to increase the strength of the abdominal muscles.

EXERCISE FOR DIABETICS

Mrs. M. writes: Is it safe for a diabetic woman of 44 to exercise 15 minutes every day?

REPLY

Yes, and longer, if possible. Exercise uses up some of the excess sugar in the blood.

RABIES BOOSTER

Mrs. G. writes: Will one inoculation against rabies protect a dog for life?

REPLY

No. Booster shots usually are given annually.

Viet Nam Priest Reappointed As School's Rector

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Father Cao Van Luan has been reinstated as rector of Hue University, the official Viet Nam Press reported Friday.

The Roman Catholic educator was removed from his post in August by the Ngo Dinh Diem regime. His removal was followed by widespread protest demonstrations by students and his reappointment to the post was regarded as an important concession by the new government to popular sentiment.

Father Luan, 49, had been director of the university, 400 miles north of Saigon, since the school was founded in 1958.

Rocky Opens Headquarters For Primary

By GORDON A. GLOVER
CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller opened the nation's first presidential campaign headquarters for the 1964 elections Friday and proclaimed he would "fight every step of the way to get that nomination."

A cheering, placard-waving throng of more than 350 supporters was on hand as Rockefeller wound up the first two days of his campaign for New Hampshire's first in-the-nation presidential primary March 10.

On both days rain fell in torrents as the governor visited industrial plants and shook thousands of hands in Manchester, Nashua and Concord.

The 55-year-old New York governor conceded several times that he is the underdog right now, but that he would criss-cross New Hampshire many times in the months ahead to overtake the apparent lead of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Goldwater has not announced he will run for the nomination but Rockefeller spent these two days setting the stage for a confrontation with the Arizona conservative.

"Whoever is selected by the nominating convention next July will have my whole-hearted support," Rockefeller told his supporters.

"But I'm going to fight every step of the way to get that nomination."

Scores of college students from Dartmouth, his alma mater, led the cheers as Rockefeller arrived at a hotel here to open his headquarters.

Dozens of placards bore such slogans as: "Who Else But Nelson," and, "The Granite State is a Rocky State."

Throughout his two days of campaigning in New Hampshire, Rockefeller repeatedly taunted Goldwater to accept his challenge for a debate.

"We're not going to split our party with a debate," he said. "Sure, we have our differences but intelligent people come to common agreement through intelligent debate just as you do in your New England town meetings."

Rockefeller's wife, "Happy," did not accompany him on the trip which he undertook soon after making his formal announcement in Albany on Thursday morning.

Rockefeller also zeroed in on the Kennedy administration, charging as he has many times before, that the administration does not understand the Communist threat and the free enterprise system.

"The basic issue at home is increasing unemployment," the governor said. "Our people are concerned about the inability of the Kennedy administration to get our country moving again with the 'vigor' we heard so much about."

Former Gov. Hugh Gregg, newly named Rockefeller campaign manager in New Hampshire, said Friday's turnout in stormy weather answered fears voiced by some supporters that Rockefeller might not have crowd-pulling ability because of misgivings many voters have about his divorce and remarriage.

Vice President Warns Europe Of High Tariff

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson warned the nations of Europe Friday that increased tariffs on U.S. products could result in a reduction of American defense forces on the Continent, informed sources reported.

Johnson was understood to have made the point in an 80-minute conference with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak.

Informed sources said Johnson told Spaak that high tariffs on U.S. farm products, including poultry, would result in a dollar drain affecting American military commitments abroad.

Johnson, continuing his week-long official visit to the Benelux nations, stressed the theme that Europeans must lower trade barriers to achieve unity and an equal partnership with the United States. He was understood to have told Spaak that Washington is ready for hard tariff bargaining.

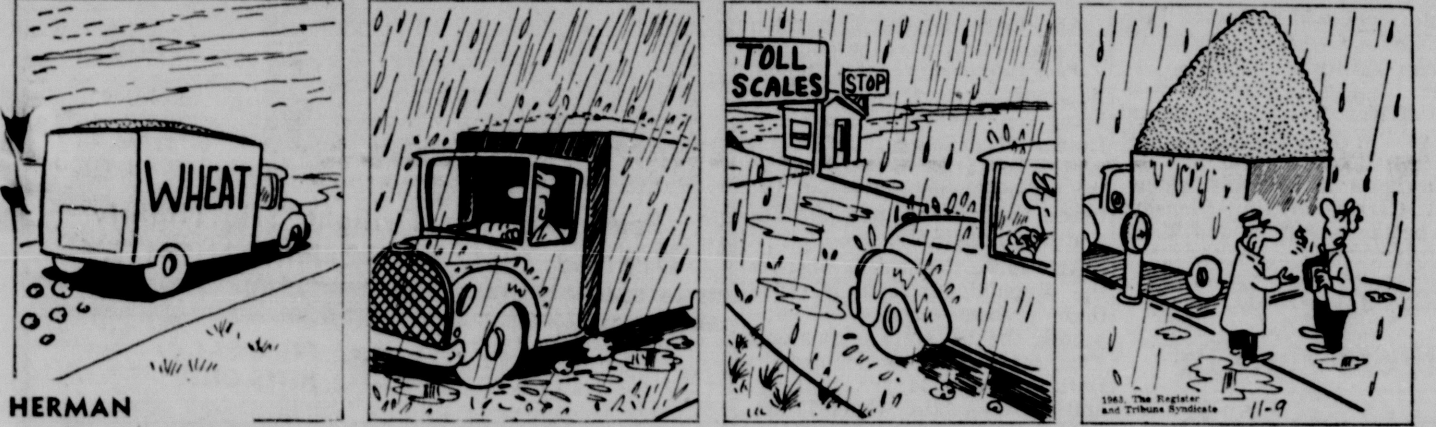

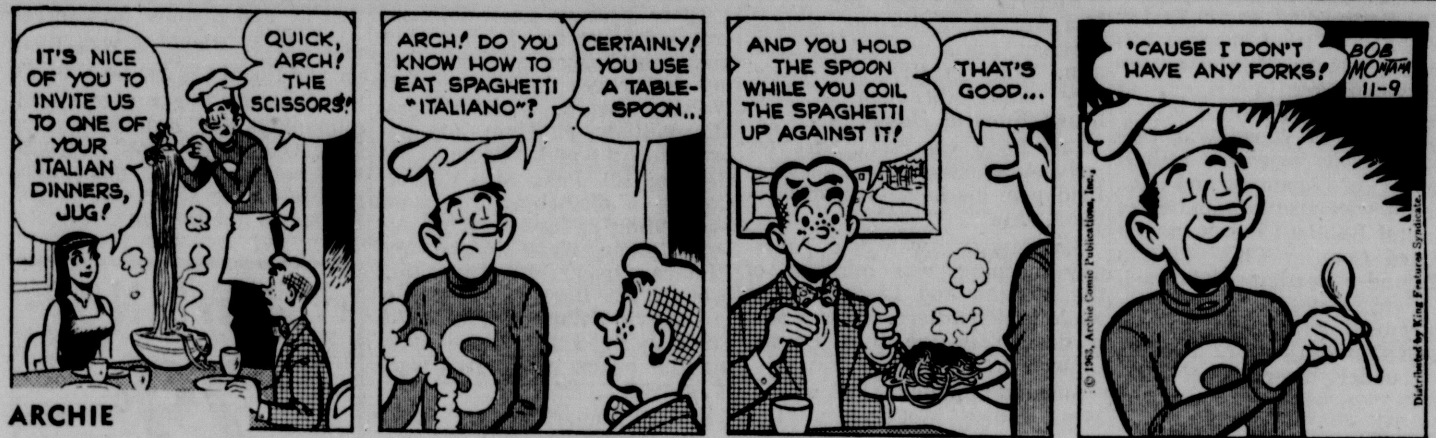

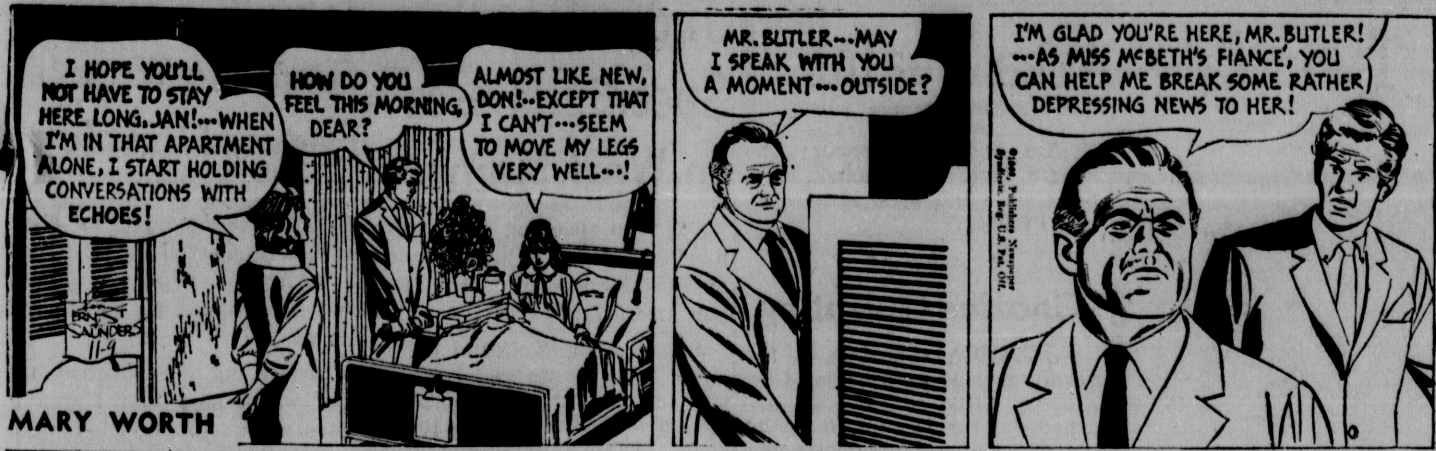

The vice president also urged that Belgium spend more of its national income on defense and economic aid to developing nations.

Johnson is scheduled to visit the headquarters of the European Atomic Energy Community (Euratom) here Saturday.

WANTS U.S. OUT

French President Wants Bigger Say

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle is campaigning again for a bigger say for Europe — and specifically for France — in running the Atlantic Alliance.

He thinks the United States should bow out gradually from the role it has held for the last 14 years as dominant partner in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

It is time for France and the other European members to begin taking over major responsibility for Europe's defense, he believes.

De Gaulle fired off this diplomatic broadside through his foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville. In a speech that reflected faithfully De Gaulle's own foreign policy thinking, Couve de Murville proclaimed the time has come to revamp NATO.

De Gaulle's demand for "revision" of NATO is nothing new. He talked about it in his two most recent news conferences.

But the emphasis laid on it by Couve de Murville shows this is something very much in De Gaulle's mind.

De Gaulle never has spelled out precisely what he means by "revision." But apparently he still is harking back to his 1958 proposal that France should join the United States and Great Britain in a sort of big nation "triumvirate" to make global strategy decisions for the have sufficient say in these.

West. He felt France does not have sufficient say in these.

The plan was strongly opposed by West Germany and the smaller NATO nations. It was cold-shouldered by the United States and Britain. De Gaulle still resents that.

De Gaulle also wants a thorough shake-up of major NATO commands. Although he never has said so specifically, it generally is thought he would like to see a European, presumably a Frenchman, as Allied supreme commander.

The top command always has been held by an American.

At the back of De Gaulle's mind also is the fear he has voiced constantly that NATO will become simply a group of 15 "yes-men" nations meeting periodically to approve American policy decisions.

Kennon Issues Statement On Oil Lease Story

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Robert Kennon issued the following statement in connection with the oil lease story:

"This is my comment on news articles covering my contract with C. R. Schuster on the Ferry Lake sublease in Caddo Parish.

"The original Ferry Lake lease was made and recorded 53 years ago when I was eight years old. In it all royalty payments due the state are clearly and finally set forth.

"The sublease or farmout of the shallow chalk development by Gulf to Schuster in 1955 made no change in the state's royalty percentage set forth in the 1910 lease. This sublease was approved routinely by the Mineral board in 1955.

"Schuster later contracted to me and Sherwood Lee of Shreveport for a one-third second override on Schuster's 13-16th working interest in the state's return from the deeper well drilled by the original lessee or from the 1955 shallow contract.

"Neither the contract with myself or Lee required or received the approval of the state mineral board or in 1955 when the Lee contract was recorded during my tenure, or later when my contract was recorded during the administration of the late Gov. Earl Long.

"The contract affected only the working interest of Schuster. The state or the mineral board were just not a party at interest.

"My contract was placed on record six years ago and comes into the news today only because some one hopes to make political hay. There was and is no conflict of interest between me and the state of Louisiana.

"Keeping his eyes clear of the political smoke screen any fair minded person will come to the conclusion:

"1. That the state of Louisiana has lost not one cent by my Ferry Lake contract.

"2. That no action of mine was in conflict with the interests of the state of Louisiana.

"While the amount involved is not an issue the official production reports with whom my contract has paid an average of $10 a month and that during the last two years payments to me have been less than $4 a month. My payment for the past three months are 5.32. The present value of my Ferry Lake contract is therefore about $100. If any one will pay the expense of drawing the transfer I'll sell my entire interest for that figure.

"Maybe the title of a Shakespearean tale is appropriate to this political story. Could it be 'How much ado about nothing'?"

"The people of Louisiana have often displayed their good judgment at the polls. On December 7th they can be counted for the decision on state and national issues that will be best for Louisiana and its future.

U.S. Plans New Postal Building At St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH (Special) — Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman announced Friday that the Post Office Department plans to ask for bids for construction of another building here.

According to the congressman the new structure must have an interior floor space of 1,536 square feet and a loading platform space consisting of 80 square feet. He said that postal authorities expressed a desire to have the proposed building located within two blocks of the old structure.

The Post Office Department will require a ten-year lease on two five-year renewal options, he stated.

Interested builders may send inquiries to Thomas Courtney, P. O. Box 1151, Shreveport, said Passman.

Kennon Lease Story Released By State Paper

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The Shreveport Journal reported today that former Gov. Robert F. Kennon acquired an oil interest in a tract of state land while he was governor.

The Journal, citing Caddo Parish records, said Kennon and a member of his administration received an interest in an overriding royalty under 6,500 acres of state-owned land in Caddo Parish in a deed dated March 22, 1955. Kennon was governor at that time.

The transaction was not recorded in the conveyance records of the parish until Sept. 13, 1957, when Kennon had left office, the Journal said.

The Journal said that none of the documents on file in the parish clerk's office revealed the amount paid by Kennon or Sherwood Lee, who had been director of the State Department of Highways.

Under the arrangement, the Journal said, Kennon and Lee received like amounts of overriding royalties under the tract of land.

Overriding royalties provide the leaseholder with a share of profits without requiring the holder to bear any of the drilling costs.

The Journal said records in the clerk's office showed at least 36 producing wells on the acreage. A spot check showed some are still producing the Journal said.

The Journal said records gave this sequence of events in the transaction:

1. Gulf Refining Co., now Gulf Oil Corp., subleased the 6,500 acres to C. R. Schuster of Shreveport, on Jan. 28, 1955.

2. Schuster assigned an overriding royalty to Mrs. Sally Kennon Mason, a sister of Kennon, who lived at Albuquerque, N. Mex. The deed was dated Feb. 25, 1955, and was recorded June 25, 1956.

3. Mrs. Mason assigned the royalty to Kennon by deed dated March 22, 1955.

4. The deed was recorded in Caddo Parish on Sept. 13, 1957.

Brief Riot Staged At Iowa Prison

FORT MADISON, Iowa (UPI) — Three hundred prisoners at the Iowa State Penitentiary smashed windows and raided the commissary Friday in a brief uprising.

Authorities said the outbreak subsided quickly when Gov. Harold E. Hughes issued an ultimatum that "sufficient force" would be used if necessary to quash it.

When about 300 rebellious inmates launched the outbreak, 800 other prisoners went voluntarily to their cells, Warden John Bennett told the governor by long distance telephone.

The prisoners broke 35 or 40 windows, Hughes said and broke into the commissary taking $1,500 to $2,000 worth of candy, cigarettes and other merchandise.

The governor said he was not greatly concerned about the loss because commissary supplies are bought with money provided by the prisoners and the profit is plowed back into the inmate fund.

The penitentiary uprising came just eight days after most of the 968 inmates at the men's reformatory at Anamosa, Iowa, staged a near-riot climaxed by a fire in the tailor shop that caused more than a quarter-million dollars damage.

Two of the inmates participating in Friday's uprising were granted permission to go to the warden's office and talk with Hughes after a tape recorded ultimatum from the governor was broadcast over the prison public address system.

After confirming that Hughes actually made the statement, the men returned to the prison yard and the inmates returned to their cells.

Hughes said he would send his executive assistant, Dwight Jensen, to the penitentiary Saturday. He said one or more of the three board of control members, together with Director of Corrections Benjamin Baer, would also make the trip to conduct a full investigation.

They face an unknown world of adventure with instinct their only guide to home.

Ruston Man, 3 Others Hurt In Accident Here

A Ruston man was seriously injured and three other persons hurt in a three-vehicle collision at the foot of the new traffic bridge in West Monroe late Friday.

Albert P. Haws, 58, of 909 James St., Ruston, was rushed to Glenwood Hospital for emergency treatment where the extent of his injuries were unknown, but believed to be serious. Three others who sustained bruises and lacerations were Kenneth W. Stone, 21, of 2308 Bienville St., Monroe; Priscilla Villa, 19, NLSC, and a passenger in the Stone auto; and Mrs. Maletta Madge, 40, of 1403 Parkview St., Monroe, passenger in a car driven by Thomas Milstead.

Investigating West Monroe police said that Milstead, 36, of 1613 Dawnview Ln., Monroe was heading west on the new bridge following the Stone auto which had stopped at the foot of the bridge for the traffic light. Haws, also driving west crashed into the rear of the Milstead vehicle which was knocked into the rear of the Stone car by the impact. The accident occurred shortly before 10 p.m.

West Monroe police charged Haws with reckless driving and driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

WANTS U.S. OUT

French President Wants Bigger Say

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle is campaigning again for a bigger say for Europe — and specifically for France — in running the Atlantic Alliance.

He thinks the United States should bow out gradually from the role it has held for the last 14 years as dominant partner in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

It is time for France and the other European members to begin taking over major responsibility for Europe's defense, he believes.

De Gaulle fired off this diplomatic broadside through his foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville. In a speech that reflected faithfully De Gaulle's own foreign policy thinking, Couve de Murville proclaimed the time has come to revamp NATO.

If something isn't done about it soon, Couve de Murville warned, NATO risks splitting at the seams — perhaps sooner than generally is thought.

Malcolm Buys Business Center In West Monroe

J. W. Malcolm, a building contractor of 806 Crosley, West Monroe, purchased the West Monroe Business Center, Inc., located at 701 N. 7th St., according to an announcement made Friday.

Local realtor, Mrs. Terece Salley, handled the transaction. Selling the one-story brick office building and four lots are Donald Thames and Bill Hartness, builders and realtors, who constructed the building around 1960.

Malcolm will announce his plans for expansion within the next two weeks.

Land involved in the sale included lot 7 and the west 35 feet of lot 8, lot 10, and lot 11 of block one of Bell Clark and Montgomery's first addition to West Monroe.

Fire Destroys Home In Area

DELHI (Special) — Fire destroyed the Vaughn Thorton home at Central community Thursday night despite efforts by the Delhi volunteer fire department to control the blaze.

No injuries were reported. Thorton said that the smoke awakened him and he routed his family out of the burning house. The fire originated from a deep freeze unit reports indicated.

According to Frank Fragala, volunteer fire chief, the Thorton house was located only a quarter of a mile from the Monty Blake residence which recently burned.

Court Jury Finds Local Man Guilty

A six-man jury found a Monroe man guilty of unauthorized use of an automobile in Fourth District court Friday and Judge Jesse S. Heard remanded him to the parish jail for sentencing later.

David Wesley Bryant, 1402 Myers St., was being tried on a charge of auto theft but the jury returned the verdict of guilty of unauthorized use. He could have found him guilty as charged, not guilty as charged, or the lesser verdict.

In other court action, Judge Heard set June 1, 1964, as the trial date for Frank A. Scallia, Monroe man charged with aggravated battery in the Sept. 13 shooting of a Negro, George Smith, 205 N. 18th St. Scallia had been indicted by the Ouachita Parish Grand jury in the fall session.

Darrell Finley, Standifer St., Monroe, pleaded guilty to charges of theft of two guns, valued at $172.50, from a neighbor and was remanded to the parish jail to await sentencing until later.

Trial dates of May 7 were set for two Arkansas men, William Nathaniel Hoffer and R. A. Lee, both from Little Rock, who pleaded not guilty to two counts of simple burglary.

W. O. Qualls, Texas man, also pleaded not guilty to three counts of theft and will be tried May 8, 1964, Robert C. Parker, Negro, 45, 108 S. 5th St. West Monroe, was fined $300 and costs for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

Attorneys were appointed and arraignment dates set for the following:

Clarence Jenkins, who lives over the levee from the foot of Standifer Street in Monroe, charged with being an accessory after the fact, set for arraignment Nov. 15.

Leon Joseph, Negro, 501 Adams St., Monroe, simple burglar of the Shoe Shine Parlor, 906 DeSiard St., Monroe, set for Nov. 15. Robert Green, Negro, General Delivery, Monroe, simple burglary of a house on a farm nearby, also set for Nov. 15.

Acid Dangers Over At Scene Of Derailment

Dangers represented by the leakage of sulphuric acid at the scene of a train wreck in Cheniere Community near West Monroe have been completely eliminated, railroad officials said Friday.

Illinois Central spokesmen said the track, blocked by the derailment early Thursday morning was opened for rail traffic shortly after 12 noon Friday. The 31-cars derailed in front of Cheniere Baptist Church near where the IC railroad crosses La. Highway 546 west of West Monroe.

All of the ground in which 98 per cent pure sulphuric acid soaked in from a leaking tank car has been neutralized and spokesmen said there is no longer any danger to animal or humans.

It was also announced that none of the deadly chemical became mixed with water flowing into Cheniere Lake and the water in that area would be safe for persons or animals to use.

Roads through the area were opened to traffic, and railroad officials have now started cleaning up the debris scattered for a short space along the track.

REGULATE HEARTBEATS

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — A team of scientists has reported development of a device to regulate the heartbeats of a dog. Test on human beings with the remote control equipment is planned next year.

Malcolm Buys Business Center In West Monroe

J. W. Malcolm, a building contractor of 806 Crosley, West Monroe, purchased the West Monroe Business Center, Inc., located at 701 N. 7th St., according to an announcement made Friday.

Local realtor, Mrs. Terese Salley, handled the transaction. Selling the one-story brick building and four lots were Donald Thames and Bill Hartness, builders and realtors, who constructed the building around 1960.

Malcolm will announce his plans for expansion within the next two weeks.

Land involved in the sale included lot 7 and the west 35 feet of lot 8, lot 10, and lot 11 of block one of Bell Clark and Montgomery's first addition to West Monroe.

Fire Destroys Home In Area

DELHI (Special) — Fire destroyed the Vaughn Thornton home at Central community Thursday night despite efforts by the Delhi volunteer fire department to control the blaze. No injuries were reported. Thornton said that the smoke awakened him and he routed his family out of the burning house. The fire originated from a deep freeze unit reports indicated.

According to Frank Fraga, volunteer fire chief, the Thornton house was located only a quarter of a mile from the Monty Blake residence which recently burned.

SEEKS RE-ELECTION

JONESVILLE (Special) — Garland Barron issued the following statement in behalf of his candidacy for re-election to the office of police juror of ward one of Catahoula Parish: "I am seeking re-election to this office based upon my experience, qualifications and record of service as your police juror."

"I will continue to serve you and work to the best interest of our ward and parish. I will appreciate your kind consideration of re-electing me to this important office."

CANNED HARVEST

JONESVILLE (Special) — Baptist churches in the Catahoula-Concordia Parish area are now gathering goods and staple food items in preparation for the

Court Jury Finds Local Man Guilty

A six-man jury found a Monroe man guilty of unauthorized use of an automobile in Fourth District court Friday and Judge Jesse S. Heard remanded him to the parish jail for sentencing later.

David Wesley Bryant, 1402 Myers St., was being tried on a charge of auto theft but the jury returned the verdict of guilty of unauthorized use. They could have found him guilty as charged, or the lesser verdict.

In other court action, Judge Heard set June 1, 1964, as the trial date for Frank A. Scalla. Monroe man charged with aggravated battery in the Sept. 13 shooting of a Negro. George Smith, 205 N. 18th St. Scalla had been indicted by the Ouachita Parish Grand jury in the fall session.

Darrell Finley, Standifer St., Monroe, pleaded guilty to charges of theft of two guns, valued at $172.50, from a neighbor and was remanded to the parish jail to await sentencing until later.

Trial dates of May 7 were set for two Arkansas men, William Nathaniel Hoffer and R. A. Lee, both from Little Rock, who pleaded not guilty to two counts of simple burglary.

W. O. Qualls, Texas man, also pleaded not guilty to three counts of theft and will be tried May 8, 1964. Robert C. Parker, Negro, 45, 108 S. 5th St., West Monroe, was fined $300 and costs for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

Attorneys were appointed and arraignment dates set for the following:

Clarence Jenkins, who lives over the levee from the foot of Standifer Street in Monroe, charged with being an accessory after the fact, set for arraignment Nov. 15.

Leon Joseph, Negro, 501 Adams St., Monroe, simple burglary of the Shoe Shine Parlor, 906 DeLard St., Monroe, set for Nov. 15. Robert Green, Negro, General Delivery, Monroe, simple burglary of a house on a farm nearby, also set for Nov. 15.

Acid Dangers Over At Scene Of Derailment

Dangers represented by the leakage of sulphuric acid at the scene of a train wreck in Cheniere Community near West Monroe have been completely eliminated, railroad officials said Friday.

Illinois Central spokesmen said the track, blocked by the derailment early Thursday morning was opened for rail traffic shortly after 12 noon Friday. The 31-cars derailed in front of Cheniere Baptist Church near where the IC railroad crosses La. Highway 546 west of West Monroe.

All of the ground in which 98 per cent pure sulphuric acid soaked in from a leaking tank car has been neutralized and spokesmen said there is no longer any danger to animal or humans.

It was also announced that none of the deadly chemical became mixed with water flowing into Cheniere Lake and the water in that area would be safe for persons or animals to use.

Roads through the area were opened to traffic, and railroad officials have now started cleaning up the debris scattered for a short space along the track.

REGULATE HEARTBEATS

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — A team of scientists has reported development of a device to regulate the heartbeats of a dog. Test on human beings with the remote control equipment is planned next year.
